Eni starts its share buyback programme

San Donato Milanese, January 3, 2014 - Eni, pursuant to the resolution passed by the Shareholders Meeting of May 10, 2013, will begin from January 6, 2014 the share buyback programme in accordance with the terms already announced to the market.

The programme is aimed at enhancing shareholders' value over time, in line with the policies adopted by major international oil companies.

On the basis of the implementation methods approved by the Eni's Board of Directors on October 29, 2013, a financial intermediary has been appointed, for a period not exceeding April 30, 2014, in order to execute part of the program. The financial intermediary will make its decisions in relation to the purchases independently, also with regard to the timing of the purchases, complying with daily limits on prices and volumes. The agreed remuneration will take into account the efficiency of the activity performed by the intermediary.

Purchases will be made on Italy's Electronic Stock Exchange (Mercato Telematico Azionario) in compliance with Article 144-bis, paragraph 1, letter b) of Consob Regulation 11971/1999 and all applicable provisions, in order to ensure equal treatment of shareholders as required by Article 132 of the Financial Services Act (TUF), according to the operating methods established in the regulations for the organization and administration of Borsa Italiana SpA, the Italian stock exchange.

Eni will announce details of the transactions to the market, on the basis of existing regulations.

As of today Eni owns No. 11,388,287 treasury shares, equal to 0.31% of its share capital. Eni subsidiaries do not own any shares in the Company.

Sale of Eni stake in Severenergia to Novatek and GazpromNeft was finalized

San Donato Milanese, January 15, 2014 - Eni announces that the sale of 60 percent stake held in Arctic Russia to Yamal Development, joint venture between Novatek and GazpromNeft, was completed. The sale price is 2.94 billion dollars.

Arctic Russia owns 49 percent of Severenergia, which holds four licenses for the exploration and production of hydrocarbons in the region of Yamal Nenets. Following the closure of the transaction, Eni will no longer own a stake in Severenergia.

Eni holds a significant presence in Russia and is the biggest buyer of natural gas from Gazprom and yet a major buyer of oil from Rosneft, with whom it also has a joint venture for the exploration of promising assets in the Black Sea and the Barents Sea. Moreover, Eni partners Gazprom in the South Stream project which, once completed, will deliver 63 bln cubic meters of gas per year, contributing substantially to the European's security of supply.

Investigations on Algerian activities: Eni's Board examines the forensic audits carried out by third parties

Audits revealed no evidence of illegal or corrupt conducts of Eni

Rome, January 16, 2014 - Eni's Board of Directors today examined the results of forensic audits encouraged by Eni and carried out by third parties regarding activities in Algeria which are under investigation by the judicial authority. The results of the audits revealed neither evidence of illegal or corrupt conducts of Eni, nor the existence of intermediary contracts between Eni and the third parties under investigation. In line with Eni's spirit of full cooperation and transparency, the outcome of the audits will be immediately made available to the relevant authorities. The Eni's Board has also taken note of the actions of organizational and managerial discontinuity and of the audits initiated by Saipem, as communicated by Saipem on July 17, 2013. In compliance with Saipem's managerial autonomy as a listed company, Eni will continue to monitor the outcome of the ongoing investigations and Saipem's initiatives.
