NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

Interim Financial Statements

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. This financial information should be read in conjunction with the financial statements included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended September 30, 2002.

Significant Accounting Policies

Goodwill

The Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," as of October 1, 2002. This statement requires that goodwill no longer be amortized, and it requires instead that goodwill be tested at least annually for impairment. If the carrying value of goodwill were determined to be greater than its estimated fair value under the impairment test, then it would be written down to its estimated fair value.

The Company completed a transitional impairment test, as required by Statement No. 142, and determined that there was no impairment of goodwill as of October 1, 2002. Goodwill amortization expense was $6,000 for the three months ended December 31, 2001.

Income Taxes

There was no credit for income taxes due to the Company's pretax loss for the quarter ended December 31, 2002, because the tax loss must be carried forward, and there is not sufficient assurance that a future tax benefit will be realized.

For federal income tax purposes, and for certain states, the tax losses incurred in fiscal 2002 were carried back, and the Company recorded the benefit of those tax refunds. For all other state and local income taxes, the losses were carried forward. As of September 30, 2002, the Company had recorded the tax benefit of all available loss carrybacks, and there were approximately $2,400,000 of losses available to reduce state and local taxable income in future years. Under current income tax regulations, any losses incurred by the Company in fiscal 2003 will be carried forward.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The Company provides placement and contract staffing services for business and industry, specializing in the placement of professional information technology, engineering and accounting professionals. As of December 31, 2002, the Company operated 31 offices located in major metropolitan business centers in 12 states.

Total operating expenses	113.5	116.8
Loss from operations	(13.5)%	(16.8)%

First Quarter Results of Operations

Net Revenues

Consolidated net revenues for the three months ended December 31, 2002 were down $609,000 (11%) from the same period last year. This was due to the combination of a $262,000 (14%) decrease in placement service revenues and a $347,000 (10%) decrease in contract service revenues. Placement services represented 33% of consolidated net revenues for the period, and contract services represented 67% of the total.

Placement service revenues were down for the quarter because of a 19% decrease in the average placement fee, despite an 8% increase in the number of placements. The decrease in contract service revenues was the result of a 10% decrease in the average hourly billing rate.

The Company attributes the decline in revenues to the weak demand for employment placement services, particularly in the information technology sector, that has lingered since the U.S. economic recession and terrorist attacks in 2001. The economic weakness, together with competitive pressures, led to lower average service fees and billing rates.

Operating Expenses

Total operating expenses for the quarter were down $875,000 (14%) compared with the same quarter last year.

The cost of contract services was down $181,000 (8%), as a result of the lower contract service revenues. Due to competitive market conditions, the gross profit margin on contract services declined 1.5 points to 32.4% this quarter, compared with 33.9% the prior year.

Selling expenses decreased $180,000 (14%) this quarter. Commission expense was down 10% due to the lower placement service revenues, while payroll taxes and benefits were down 27% and recruitment advertising expense was 15% lower than the prior year. Selling expenses represented 22.9% of consolidated net revenues, which was down 0.8 points from the prior year.

General and administrative expenses decreased $514,000 (19%) for the quarter. Compensation in the operating divisions decreased 30% due to a reduction in the size of the consulting staff, while administrative compensation was down 15%. Office rent and occupancy costs were down 13% for the quarter, due to the effect of office closings during the current and prior year. All other general and administrative expenses were down 9%. General and administrative expenses represented 45.3% of consolidated revenues, and that was down 4.3 points from the prior year because expenses declined more sharply than revenues.

To control operating costs, the Company closed four unprofitable branch offices during the last twelve months. As a result of this and other actions, the Company reduced its in-house consulting and administrative staff by 30% from the prior-year level.

Other Items

The loss from operations was $662,000 for the quarter ended December 31, 2002, which was $266,000 (29%) better than last year's operating loss of $928,000. The improvement was accomplished, despite lower revenues in the current year, through cost reduction actions taken by the Company during the last twelve months.

There was no credit for income taxes for the quarter ended December 31, 2002, because the tax loss for the period must be carried forward, and there is not sufficient assurance that a future tax benefit will be realized.

After interest and taxes, the net loss for the quarter was $644,000, compared with a net loss of $550,000 the prior year.

Financial Condition

As of December 31, 2002, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of $4,078,000. That was a decrease of $681,000 from September 30, 2002. Net working capital at December 31, 2002 was $6,538,000, which was a decrease of $500,000 compared with last September, and the current ratio was 4.9 to 1.

During the three months ended December 31, 2002, the net cash used by operating activities was $636,000, which was primarily due to the $644,000 net loss. Depreciation and other non-cash expenses provided $189,000, while working capital items used $181,000. As part of the Company's cash conservation measures, capital expenditures were limited to $45,000 for the quarter, and there were no cash dividends paid.

All of the Company's office facilities are leased, and information about future minimum lease payments is presented in the notes to the consolidated financial statements contained in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended September 30, 2002.

As of December 31, 2002, the Company had no debt outstanding, and there were no off-balance sheet arrangements, unconsolidated subsidiaries, commitments or guarantees of other parties, except as disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements. Shareholders' equity at that date was $9,354,000, which represented 85% of total assets.

Outlook

The Company's business is highly dependent on national employment trends in general and on the demand for information technology and other professional staff in particular. The demand for the Company's employment services has been adversely affected by the lingering weakness in the employment market caused by economic and political uncertainties that followed the U.S. economic recession and terrorist attacks in 2001.

It is not known how long the weakness in the U. S. labor market will continue to have an adverse effect on the Company's operations. Management believes that the Company's placement service revenues will continue at depressed levels until there is an increase in national business spending on computer equipment and software, leading to a rebound in the technology sector of the economy.

The Company's current priority is to minimize the impact of the economy, to return the Company to profitability as soon as possible, and to be positioned for growth when the demand for its services returns. Returning the Company to profitability will require a combination of both increasing revenues and reducing costs. Since September 2001, management took steps to lower the Company's infrastructure costs, including closing six unprofitable branch offices, reducing the in-house consulting and administrative staff by 37% and reducing other operating expenses. As a result, the Company reduced its general and administrative expenses for the December 2002 quarter by 19% compared with the December 2001 quarter. Management believes that it took all appropriate actions within its control to reduce costs to date, consistent with positioning the Company for the future, and it will continue to evaluate the Company's operations and take appropriate actions to meet the economic challenges ahead in fiscal 2003.

The Company had $1,549,000 of income tax refunds receivable as of December 31, 2002, and it expects to receive those refunds during fiscal 2003. As of September 30, 2002, the Company had recorded the tax benefit of all available loss carrybacks, and there were approximately $2,400,000 of losses available to reduce state and local taxable income in future years. Under current income tax regulations, any losses that might be incurred by the Company in fiscal 2003 would not result in current tax refunds, but would be carried forward to reduce taxable income in subsequent years.

The Company's primary source of liquidity is normally from its operating activities. Despite recent losses, management believes that existing cash and securities, together with the available income tax refunds, will be adequate to finance current operations for the foreseeable future. Nevertheless, if operating losses were to continue indefinitely into the future, or if the Company's business were to deteriorate further, such losses would have a material, adverse effect on the Company's financial condition. External sources of funding are not likely to be available to support continuing losses.

Risk Factors

Some of the factors that could affect the Company's future performance include, but are not limited to, general business conditions, the demand for the Company's services, competitive market pressures, the ability of the Company to attract and retain qualified personnel for regular full-time placement and contract project assignments, and the ability to attract and retain qualified corporate and branch management.

Forward-Looking Statements

As a matter of policy, the Company does not provide forecasts of future financial performance. However, the Company and its representatives may from time to time make written or verbal forward-looking statements, including statements contained in press announcements, reports to shareholders and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. All statements which address expectations about future operating performance and cash flows, future events and business developments, and future economic conditions are forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. This includes statements relating to business expansion plans, expectations about revenue and earnings growth, and general statements of optimism about the future. These statements are based on management's then-current expectations and assumptions. Actual outcomes could differ significantly. The Company and its representatives do not assume any obligation to provide updated information.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Based on their evaluation as of a date within 90 days of the filing of this quarterly report on Form 10-Q, the Company's
