SECTION 2 FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Item 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant

On February 9, 2012, NextEra Energy Capital Holdings, Inc. (Capital Holdings) and Florida Power & Light Company (FPL), wholly-owned subsidiaries of NextEra Energy, Inc. (NextEra Energy), each entered into new five-year revolving line of credit and letter of credit agreements expiring in February 2017 (collectively, New Credit Agreements). The New Credit Agreements provide for the funding of loans to Capital Holdings and FPL for up to an aggregate total of $5 billion ($3.1 billion for Capital Holdings and $1.9 billion for FPL), and include revolving letter of credit facilities for up to 50% of such amounts. The New Credit Agreements replaced approximately 75 percent of the credit made available under two existing revolving line of credit and letter of credit agreements which, prior to the New Credit Agreements, aggregated approximately $6.4 billion ($3.9 billion for Capital Holdings and $2.5 billion for FPL). The existing revolving line of credit and letter of credit facilities now provide for borrowings of up to an aggregate total of approximately $1.6 billion ($979 million for Capital Holdings and $618 million for FPL) and include revolving letter of credit facilities for up to 100% of such amounts. The credit facilities available under the New Credit Agreements are available for Capital Holdings' and FPL's general corporate purposes, including to provide back-up liquidity for Capital Holding's and FPL's commercial paper programs and other short-term borrowings and to provide additional liquidity in the event of a loss to the companies' or their subsidiaries' operating facilities. In order for Capital Holdings or FPL to borrow or to have letters of credit issued under the terms of the New Credit Agreements, NextEra Energy, in the case of the Capital Holdings credit agreement, and FPL, in the case of the FPL credit agreement, are required, among other things, to maintain a ratio of funded debt to total capitalization that does not exceed a stated ratio. The New Credit Agreements also contain default and related acceleration provisions relating to, among other things, failure of NextEra Energy and FPL, as relevant, to maintain the respective ratio of funded debt to total capitalization at or below the specified ratio. NextEra Energy guarantees the payment of debt obligations under the new Capital Holdings credit agreement pursuant to a 1998 guarantee agreement.
