LETTER TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

June 25, 2003

Dear Shareholder,

We are pleased to report that for the first six months ended April 30, 2003, the Central European Equity Fund's net asset value per share rose 12.9%, while the Fund's benchmark rose 12.7% in US dollar terms. The region continues to outperform developed markets; during the same period, the S&P 500 Index rose 3.5% and the MSCI Europe Index rose 2.7%.

Russia was the best performing country from the Fund's portfolio, gaining over 20% during the six month period in US dollar terms. Yukos announced last month it agreed to merge with the Russian oil company Sibneft to create one of the world's largest oil companies. Its shares rose over 26%. While Russian oil and gas stocks continued to perform well, all other sectors performed strongly as well. The Fund's two telecommunications stocks were both up over 40% in local terms. Norilsk Nickel, the metals and mining company rose almost 15%, and the Fund's shares in a tracking vehicle for the Russian bank Sberbank rose more than 22%. The ADR shares of Unified Energy System, the electric utilities company, rose over 47%. In our opinion, the breadth of the market rally is a positive sign of the sustainability of strong global interest in Russia's equity market.

In April, Hungary became one of the first countries to hold a public referendum on joining the European Union. The Hungarian market slightly outperformed the region, rising 14.1% in US dollar terms. Economically, the country continues to do well. OTP Bank's GDR shares rose 22.3% during the same period, MATAV, the telecommunications company rose 25%, and Gedeon Richter, the pharmaceutical company, GDR shares rose over 40%.

The Czech Republic rose 9.7% during the six month period, with the strongest performance coming from Unipetrol, which rose over 44%. Poland's equity market underperformed the region, rising just 1.2% in US dollar terms. Poland is still suffering from the central bank's excessive monetary tightening 2 years ago. Since then, the central bank has reversed course and lowered interest rates 21 times. Poland's economic growth this year is expected to double the level of growth achieved last year.

At the May 9, 2003 meeting, the Board of Directors of your Fund moved to take advantage of the positive changes that we believe are taking place in Russia by approving increased flexibility for the Fund to invest in Russia. This recommendation was approved by shareholders at the June 24, 2003 Annual Meeting. The changes establish a fundamental policy to invest at least 80% of the Fund's net assets in both Central Europe and Russia. The Fund's name is changing to The Central Europe and Russia Fund, Inc. Its NYSE ticker symbol will remain "CEE."

Also at the May 9th Board Meeting, the Board of Directors elected Mr. Fred H. Langhammer, President and Chief Executive Officer of The Estee Lauder Companies Inc., and Mr. Eggert Voscherau, Vice Chairman of BASF as Directors of your Fund, replacing retiring Directors Dr. Juergen Strube and Hans Storr. Last July, Mr. Otto Wolff von Amerongen also retired as Director of the Fund. Mr. Langhammer had previously been Managing Director of Estee Lauder Germany. He was educated in Germany, Canada and Japan, and is now based in New York. Mr. Voscherau is based in Germany.

We believe the Fund continues to be an attractive investment opportunity. Economic growth outpaces other European markets while valuations remain attractive.

Sincerely,

Edgar Filing: CENTRAL EUROPEAN EQUITY FUND INC /MD/ - Form N-CSR

INTERVIEW WITH THE CHIEF INVESTMENT OFFICER

QUESTION: How attractive are the countries that are expected to join the European Union after their strong outperformance over the past 2 years?

ANSWER: The equity markets of Poland, Hungary and the Czech Republic remain attractive. Economic growth for the region is expected to be higher than the average for the world economy for three reasons. First, the region has been receiving large amounts of foreign direct investment. Central Europe is very attractive to companies seeking to expand into untapped markets and to those looking to take advantage of relatively cheap labor. Second, interest rates have been gradually converging to the levels of Western Europe. Historically, lower interest rates make investment projects more attractive and stimulate economic activity. Third, emerging economies joining the European Union have historically benefited from the affiliation with the more developed Western European countries.

QUESTION: What will be the benefits of the proposed reduction in Polish Corporate Income Tax?

ANSWER: The Polish Government has proposed to reduce the corporate income tax (CIT) to 19%, down eight percentage points from the current 27%. Although its passage is still uncertain, if approved this cut could have a strong effect on corporate earnings, employment and economic growth. The proposal must still be approved by the government and the Parliament, but current sentiment leads us to believe it will pass by the end of the year. The tax cut will be dependent on the removal of all tax breaks, allowances and deductions that reduce the nominal income tax. The government estimated the 2003 effective tax rate to be 23.7%, reducing the underlying tax reduction to 4.7%, still a meaningful reduction. The lower CIT may improve Poland's competitive position relative to other countries in the region and may give an added boost to the Polish equity market. A lower tax rate could also attract foreign investors and increase the number of foreign firms looking to do business in Poland.

QUESTION: What is the progress of the 10 candidate countries in becoming members of the European Union?

ANSWER: The EU membership negotiations are making good progress. By the end of the summer, all the candidate countries are expected to have held referendums to get the public's approval to join the EU. To date, 7 countries have completed this task with success. Hungary's referendum was held in April and 83.8% of those voting voted in favor of joining the EU. In Poland, 77.5% voted in favor, and in the Czech Republic 77.3% also voted in favor. The other four countries, Malta, Slovenia, Slovakia and Lithuania, all showed strong public support for joining the EU. The accession to the EU represents a strong anchor for the candidate countries' economic and structural policies. Foreign investors are increasingly realizing this, as fund flows (representing direct investment and portfolio investments) have reached record levels in Poland, Hungary and the Czech Republic. It is our belief that these countries should be able to realize even higher growth rates than the EU itself if they continue to implement further structural reforms. It is this higher growth potential that makes these countries very attractive to invest in.

REPORT FROM THE INVESTMENT ADVISER AND MANAGER

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK FOR THE CENTRAL EUROPEAN ECONOMIES

POLAND

On May 28th, Poland's central bank reduced its main interest rate for the fifth time this year after a steep decline in inflation. Poland's intervention rate now stands at a record low of 5.5%, while two years ago the intervention rate stood at 19%. The steep reduction in borrowing costs helped pull the economy out of its worst slowdown since the end of communism. We are basing our portfolio decisions on the view that reduction in interest rates will continue as inflation has been brought down from its peak of 11.6% in July 2000, to a record low of 0.3% this past April. For 2003, we expect Poland's economy to grow 2.6%, more than twice the 1.2% growth achieved during 2002. The effects of the interest rates cuts take time to work their way into the economy and their full effects will be felt in 2004, with an estimated GDP growth of 4.0%. Poland's current account deficit is expected to remain below 4% of GDP this year on the back of strong exports. In USD terms, exports were up 33% year on year ending February, while imports were up 17%. On June 8th, Poland held a referendum on Poland's entry into the European Union, with 77.5% of those voting supporting accession to the EU.

HUNGARY

Hungary has continued to be the best performing country in the region in terms of economic activity, with estimated GDP growth of 3.6% this year and 4.1% next year. In addition, there has been a significant decline in inflation, falling from 9.2% in 2001 to 5.1% this year. Hungary's economic performance has been quite extraordinary given the country's large exposure to foreign trade with Western Europe. Hungary has successfully stimulated domestic demand, particularly the construction and service sectors, through its loose fiscal policy. Private consumption benefited from wage hikes in the public sector and large-scale public investment projects. Many of these large public projects are being funded by the substantial amounts of foreign capital that Hungary has attracted over the past few years. Hungary was one of the first countries to hold a referendum on joining the European Union, with 84% of those voting supporting accession.

RUSSIA

Russia's economic performance has been both remarkably strong and stable over the past couple of years, at a time when most economies experienced a considerable drop-off in economic performance. In 2002, Russia's economy grew 4.3% and is expected to grow 4.2% both this year and in 2004. Economic growth over the next 2 years is expected to be significantly higher than in developed Europe and the US. The key factor in the strong performance of the Russian economy has been oil and natural gas exports. The oil riches have not only fueled the real economy, but they have also improved the Russian financial situation. Russia is one of the few countries in the world with surpluses in both the federal budget and the current account. As a result, Russia was able to repay some of its foreign debts before maturity and raise its foreign exchange reserves to $44 billion. Russia is potentially the biggest oil producer in the world and it could become over time the biggest oil exporter. In this respect, three developments are noteworthy. First, the $6.75 billion investment by BP in a joint venture with three Russian oil companies represents the biggest single direct investment in Russia. Second, a political decision to build a private pipeline and expand port facilities in Murmansk are aimed at increasing oil exports to the US. Third, a merger of two big Russian oil companies, with an output of 24 million barrels per day, will become the fifth biggest oil producer in the world. To reduce the country's dependence on oil, the minister of finance has submitted a proposal to create a stabilization fund that would be used to cushion the economy from the negative impact of potentially lower oil proceeds.

Edgar Filing: CENTRAL EUROPEAN EQUITY FUND INC /MD/ - Form N-CSR

CZECH REPUBLIC

The Czech economy has continued to perform relatively well, considering the persistent weakness in Western Europe. The initial data for 2002 were revised upwards as the negative impact of last year's flooding has diminished. Real growth in 2002 was 2.5%, and the outlook calls for growth of 3.0% this year and 3.6% in 2004, as both monetary and fiscal policies remain stimulative. The Czech National Bank began easing interest rates relatively early, and together with an expansionary fiscal policy provided sufficient stimulus to the economy. Inflation has been subdued, falling from 4.8% in 2001 to 1.2% this year and unemployment has also been gradually declining, falling from 8.5% last year to 8.0% this year. The Czech Republic held its public referendum on joining the EU on June 15th, with 77.3% in favor.

NOTE 1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Central European Equity Fund, Inc. (formerly The Future Germany Fund, Inc. or the "Fund") commenced investment operations on March 6, 1990 as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company incorporated in Maryland. Pursuant to shareholder approvals, on June 29, 1995, the Fund changed its name and investment objective to allow investment in Central European countries, and on June 20, 1997, the Fund changed its investment policies to permit increased flexibility in the geographic distribution of the Fund's investments.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

SECURITY VALUATION: Investments are stated at value. All securities for which market quotations are readily available are valued at the last sales price on the primary exchange on which they are traded prior to the time of valuation. If no sales price is available at that time, and both bid and ask prices are available, the securities are valued at the mean between the last current bid and ask prices; if no quoted asked prices are available, they are valued at the last quoted bid price. All securities for which market quotations are not readily available will be valued as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Fund.

SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS AND INVESTMENT INCOME: Securities transactions are recorded on the trade date. Cost of securities sold is calculated using the identified cost method. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date and interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Such dividend income is recorded net of unrecoverable foreign withholding tax.

LOANS OF PORTFOLIO SECURITIES: The Fund may lend portfolio securities while it continues to earn dividends on such securities loaned. The market value of government securities received as collateral is required to be at least equal to 105 percent of the market value of the securities loaned, which are marked-to-market daily. Securities lending fees, net of rebates and agency fees, are earned by the Fund and are identified separately in the Statement of Operations.

FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION: The books and records of the Fund are maintained in United States dollars.

Assets and liabilities denominated in euros and other foreign currency amounts are translated into United States dollars at the 10:00 A.M. mid-point of the buying and selling spot rates quoted by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses are reported at the rate of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. The resultant gains and losses arising from exchange rate fluctuations are identified separately in the Statement of Operations, except for such amounts attributable to investments, which are included in net realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments.

Foreign investments may involve certain considerations and risks not typically associated with those of domestic origin as a result of, among others, the possibility of political and economic developments and the level of governmental supervision and regulation of foreign securities markets. In addition, certain foreign markets may be substantially smaller, less developed, less liquid and more volatile than the major markets of the United States.

Edgar Filing: CENTRAL EUROPEAN EQUITY FUND INC /MD/ - Form N-CSR

In the normal course of business, the Fund may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations which provide general indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

TAXES: No provision has been made for United States Federal income tax because the Fund intends to meet the requirements of the United States Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to shareholders.

DIVIDENDS AND DISTRIBUTIONS TO SHAREHOLDERS: The Fund records dividends and distributions to its shareholders on the ex-dividend date. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with United States Federal income tax regulations which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences, which could be temporary or permanent in nature, may result in reclassification of distributions; however, net investment income, net realized gains and net assets are not affected.
