properties, as well as produce TV advertised compilation albums which will be manufactured and distributed by EMI's current infrastructure. EMI is contributing to Televisa EMI Music a working capital facility, as well as licensing various television-advertised compilations and other artist releases while Televisa will provide a specific portion of Televisa EMI Music's media support. In addition, Televisa EMI Music will also pursue deals with and develop recording artists in Mexico, a music market that the IFPI valued at U.S.$360 million in 2004, up 9% from the prior year.

EMI Music will maintain EMI Music Mexico's existing operations separate from Televisa EMI Music, whose roster includes top-selling acts such as Aleks Syntek, RBD, Fey, El Gran Silencio, Plastilina Mosh, and Lucero, but will participate with Televisa EMI Music in certain specific projects.

TELEVISAS TEAMS WITH EMI MUSIC IN U.S. LATIN MARKET

In a move aimed at capitalizing on the growing U.S. Latin market, Televisa will partner in the existing Miami-based EMI Music U.S. Latin operations, which will be renamed EMI Televisa Music and includes artists such as Thalia, Intocable, AB Quintanilla & Kumbia Kings, and Vico C, among others. Televisa will contribute significant media support to artists and products.

Both Ventures - Televisa EMI Music in Mexico, and EMI Televisa Music in the U.S., will be headed by Rodolfo Lopez-Negrete, who is currently Director, Televisa Music. He will report jointly to Marco Bissi, President and CEO, EMI Music Latin America, and Javier Prado, General Director of Televisa Entertainment.

EMI Music Chairman & CEO Alain Levy said: "Developing local artists and music from all regions is central to EMI Music's strategy. By partnering with the largest media company in the Latin market, we will further develop our already strong artist base, drive growth and generate significant new revenue streams in our Latin American and U.S. Latin businesses."

"We are looking forward to combining our knowledge of the music market with Televisa's experience and direct connection to consumers and powerful reach to grow our share significantly in the Latin market over the coming years."

Grupo Televisa's Chairman and CEO Emilio Azcarraga Jean said: "Televisa is delighted to reenter the music business through this partnership with EMI, one of the biggest record companies in the world. This partnership fits with Televisa's strategy to look for new opportunities in the U.S. Latin Market and will enrich Televisa's sources for content while leveraging its different media platforms."

Azcarraga Jean continued, "We are looking forward to partnering our resources with EMI's strength, experience, vast distribution network and infrastructure in the music business, which will undoubtedly contribute to Televisa's expansion and consolidation in Latin America."

LATIN: GROWTH MARKET IN U.S.

Televisa and EMI Music enter this deal as EMI demonstrated significantly improved performance in the Latin region, increasing its overall revenues by 9 percent and growing its market share from 12.3 percent to 15.6 percent in its fiscal year '04/'05.

Indeed, according to the IFPI, the overall Latin American music market valued at more than U.S.$903 million in 2004, is coming off two consecutive years of growth, with the trend expected to continue this year.

In addition, according to the RIAA, Latin music in the U.S. also surged in 2004 with total Latin Music shipments to U.S. retail increasing by 25.6% -- 48.5 million units in 2004 compared to 38.6 million the year prior;
