January 26, 2006

Dear Fellow Shareholder:

You are cordially invited to attend a special meeting of the shareholders of Fresh Brands, Inc. to be held on February 27, 2006 at 8:00 a.m., Central time, in the Galleria Level Conference Room, 777 East Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

On December 5, 2005, we entered into a merger agreement providing for the merger of Fresh Brands and Pillow Acquisition Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of Certified Holdings, Inc. (now known as Certifresh Holdings, Inc.). Certifresh Holdings, Inc. is a newly-formed Delaware corporation and an affiliate of Certified Grocers Midwest, Inc. A copy of the merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to this proxy statement. If the merger is completed, you will be entitled to receive $7.05 in cash, without interest, for each share of our common stock you own. At the special meeting, you will be asked to approve the merger agreement. The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of our common stock outstanding on January 24, 2006, the record date for the special meeting, is required to approve the merger agreement.

Our board of directors unanimously determined that the merger, the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are fair to, and in the best interests of, our company and our shareholders, and unanimously approved and adopted the merger agreement. Our board of directors recommends that, subject to the terms of the merger agreement, our shareholders vote FOR the approval of the merger agreement. The recommendation of our board of directors is based, in part, on the written opinion of William Blair & Company, L.L.C., the independent financial advisor to our board of directors, that, as of December 5, 2005, and based upon and subject to the assumptions, limitations, qualifications and other matters set forth in the opinion, the cash consideration of $7.05 per share to be paid in the merger to our shareholders is fair, from a financial point of view, to our shareholders. The full text of Blair's written opinion is attached as Appendix B to this proxy statement. We urge you to read the opinion carefully in its entirety.

The enclosed proxy statement provides you with detailed information about the merger agreement, the proposed merger and the special meeting. We urge you to read the entire proxy statement carefully, including information incorporated by reference and included in the appendices. If you have any questions or require assistance in voting your shares, please call D. F. King & Co., Inc., our proxy solicitor for the special meeting, toll-free at (800) 769-7666.

Regardless of the number of shares you own, your vote is very important. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please complete, sign and return the enclosed proxy card or submit your proxy by telephone or over the Internet following the instructions on the proxy card (or, if your shares are held in street name by a broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian, follow the directions given by the broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian regarding how to instruct it to vote your shares). You retain the right to revoke the proxy at any time before it is actually voted by giving notice in writing to our Secretary prior to commencement of the special meeting, or by submitting a duly executed proxy bearing a later date. If you have instructed a broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian to vote your shares, you must follow directions received from the broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian to change or revoke your voting instructions. Your cooperation in voting your shares will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Walter G. Winding, III
Chairman of the Board

SUMMARY

This summary highlights selected information regarding the proposed merger and might not contain all of the information that is important to you. You are urged to read this proxy statement carefully, including the appendices, and the documents referred to or incorporated by reference in this proxy statement. You may obtain without charge copies of documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement by following the instructions under WHERE YOU CAN FIND MORE INFORMATION.

In this proxy statement, the terms we, us, our, and Fresh Brands refer to Fresh Brands, Inc. In this proxy statement, we refer to Certified Grocers Midwest, Inc. as Certified, Certifresh Holdings, Inc. as Certifresh Holdings, Pillow Acquisition Corp. as Acquisition Corp., and William Blair & Company, L.L.C. as Blair. We sometimes collectively refer to Certified, Certifresh Holdings and Acquisition Corp. herein as the Certifresh parties.

The Proposed Transaction (page 43)

You are being asked to consider and vote upon a proposal to adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of December 5, 2005, by and among Fresh Brands, Certified Holdings, Inc. (now known as Certifresh Holdings) and Acquisition Corp. The transaction proposed pursuant to the merger agreement is the merger of Acquisition Corp. with and into Fresh Brands, with Fresh Brands continuing as the surviving corporation in the merger and becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of Certifresh Holdings. The parties currently expect to complete the merger in the first fiscal quarter of 2006.

Date, Time, Place (page 7) The special meeting will be held on February 27, 2006 at 8:00 a.m., Central time, in the Galleria Level Conference Room, 777 East Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Matters to be Considered (page 7) At the special meeting, our shareholders will consider and vote upon a proposal to approve the merger agreement and a proposal to approve the adjournment, if necessary, of the special meeting to solicit additional proxies in favor of approval of the merger agreement.

Record Date (page 7) We have fixed January 24, 2006 as the record date for the special meeting. Only shareholders of record of our common stock as of the close of business on the record date are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting and any adjournment or postponement thereof.

Required Vote (page 8) Shareholder approval of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of our common stock. The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of our common stock present and entitled to vote at the special meeting will be required to approve the adjournment, if necessary, of the special meeting to solicit additional proxies in favor of the merger agreement.

How Shares are Voted (page 8) You may vote by attending the special meeting and voting in person by ballot, by completing the enclosed proxy card and then signing, dating and returning it in the postage pre-paid envelope provided, or by completing your proxy by following the instructions supplied on the proxy card for voting by telephone or via the Internet. Submitting a proxy now will not limit your right to revoke your proxy and to vote at the special meeting if you decide to attend in person. If your shares are held in street name by a broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian, follow the directions given by the broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian regarding how to instruct it to vote your shares.

Revocation of Proxies (page 8) You may revoke your proxy at any time before it is actually voted by giving notice in writing to our Secretary prior to commencement of the special meeting, or by submitting a duly executed proxy bearing a later date. Attendance at the special meeting will not, by itself, revoke a proxy. If you have given voting instructions to a broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian that holds your shares in street name, you may revoke those instructions by following the directions given by the broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian.

You Will Be Entitled to Receive $7.05 in Cash for Each Share You Own if the Merger is Completed (page 44)

If the merger agreement is adopted by our shareholders and the other closing conditions under the merger agreement have been satisfied or waived, upon completion of the merger you will be entitled to receive $7.05 in cash, without interest, for each share of our common stock you own immediately prior to completion of the merger.

Assuming the merger is completed, a paying agent will mail a letter of transmittal and instructions to you and other shareholders. The letter of transmittal and instructions will tell you how to surrender your stock certificates in exchange for the merger consideration. You should not return your stock certificates with the enclosed proxy card. You should not forward your stock certificates to the paying agent without a letter of transmittal. If your shares of common stock are held in street name by your broker, you will receive instructions from your broker that will tell you how to surrender your street name shares and receive cash for those shares.

How Outstanding Options Will Be Treated (Page 44)

In connection with the merger, all outstanding options to acquire shares of our common stock will be canceled immediately prior to the effective time of the merger in exchange for nominal consideration pursuant to option cancellation agreements between us and each individual option holder. A total of 517,000 shares are subject to outstanding options, with a weighted average exercise price of $10.67 per share. Only one option for 20,000 shares has an exercise price lower than $7.05 per share. This one option will be terminated for a payment equal to its net spread of $7,000. All other options will be terminated for consideration of $100 per option holder.

Our Reasons for the Merger (page 26)

In reaching its decision to adopt and approve the merger agreement and recommend the merger to our shareholders, our board of directors (which we refer to as our Board) consulted with our management, as well as its legal and financial advisors, and considered a number of factors, which are discussed in detail in the section entitled THE MERGER Our Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of Our Board.

Recommendation of Our Board (Page 26)

Our Board unanimously determined that the merger, the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are fair to, and in the best interests of, our company and our shareholders, and unanimously approved and adopted the merger agreement. Accordingly, our Board has unanimously recommended that, subject to the terms of the merger agreement, our shareholders vote FOR the approval of the merger agreement.

Our Board reached its determination after careful consideration and based, in part, on the opinion of Blair and such other factors, documentation and information they deemed appropriate. See THE MERGER Our Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of Our Board.

Fairness Opinion of Our Financial Advisor (page 30)

Blair has delivered a written opinion to our Board to the effect that, as of December 5, 2005 and based on and subject to the assumptions, limitations, qualifications and other matters set forth in the opinion, the cash consideration of $7.05 per share to be paid in the merger to our shareholders is fair, from a financial point of view, to our shareholders. The full text of Blair's written opinion is attached as Appendix B to this proxy statement. You should read the opinion carefully in its entirety.

Interests of Our Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger (page 36)

In considering the recommendations of our Board, you should be aware that certain of our executive officers and directors have interests in the transaction that are different from, or are in addition to, the interests of our shareholders generally. These interests, which are discussed in detail in the section entitled THE MERGER Interests of Our Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger, include the following:

upon the completion of the merger, at will employment agreements for Messrs. Stinebaugh and Dahly with us will become effective. Either the executive or we may terminate the executive's employment for any reason upon 30 days advance notice; upon the completion of the merger, the existing key executive employment and severance agreement (which we refer to as a KEESA) with Mr. Hoenecke (as well as three other non-executive officers) will remain effective. Under this KEESA, upon a termination of the employment of Mr. Hoenecke by us other than for cause, death or disability or upon a termination by Mr. Hoenecke for good reason (as defined in the KEESA), in each case, within two years following the completion of the merger, Mr. Hoenecke is entitled to receive a lump sum severance payment;

Messrs. Winding, Stinebaugh and Dahly have each amended their respective KEESAs with us. The revisions to their KEESAs provide that the executives will receive cash payments that are substantially reduced from the cash payments they otherwise would have been entitled to receive in the merger in exchange for cancellation of their KEESAs upon the closing of the merger. We estimate that such agreed upon reductions will save us approximately $2.7 million of net after tax costs and facilitated an increased per share price payable to our shareholders in the merger. Messrs. Stinebaugh and Winding each received an initial cash payment of $25,000 upon the signing of the merger agreement with the balance to be paid upon the closing of the merger, and Mr. Dahly will receive his entire amount in a single payment upon the closing of the merger. These reduced payments are intended to avoid us paying the executives a gross-up payment to cover excise taxes payable by these executives under Internal Revenue Code Section 280G and to ensure the tax deductibility of these payments to us; and the merger agreement provides that indemnification and insurance arrangements will be maintained for our directors and officers.

Our Board was aware of these interests and considered them, among other matters, in approving and adopting the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, and in determining to recommend that our shareholders vote FOR the approval of the merger agreement. You should consider these and other interests of our directors and executive officers that are described in this proxy statement. See THE MERGER Our Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of Our Board.

Conditions to Completion of the Merger (page 51)

The obligations of us, Certifresh Holdings and Acquisition Corp. to complete the merger are subject to the satisfaction or waiver of various conditions specified in the merger agreement, including conditions relating to, among other things:

approval of the merger agreement by our shareholders;

the absence of any order or law which prevents the consummation of the merger, and the absence of any governmental suit, action or proceeding seeking to prohibit the merger;

performance by the parties of their obligations under the merger agreement; the continued accuracy of the parties' representations and warranties under the merger agreement;

delivery of the Blair fairness opinion to JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (Certified's lead bank); delivery to Certifresh Holdings of payoff letters from all of our lenders in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Certifresh Holdings (i) certifying that, upon payment of the payoff amounts set forth therein, all amounts owing under our existing credit documents will be paid in full and all commitments thereunder shall be terminated and (ii) agreeing, upon receipt of the payoff amounts set forth therein, to promptly execute and deliver such releases and terminations of all liens and security interests; and making appropriate provision such that JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. and the other lenders under Certified's credit facility will be granted a first priority lien and security interest on all of our tangible and intangible assets, including a first mortgage on land and buildings located in Sheboygan, upon receipt of the payoff amounts set forth in the payoff letters.

The parties do not have any present intention to waive any of the conditions to the merger and do not anticipate any circumstances under which any of the conditions would be waived. Consummation of the merger is not subject to any financing contingency, and no regulatory approval under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act is required.

Termination of the Merger Agreement (page 52)

The merger agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the effective time of the merger by the mutual written consent of us and Certifresh Holdings. Either we or Certifresh Holdings may also generally terminate the merger agreement at any time prior to the effective time of the merger in the event of:

the promulgation of any law or other governmental order or action prohibiting the merger;

the failure to consummate the merger by April 30, 2006 (provided that we would be required to pay the termination fee described below in the event of termination under this provision (i) without a shareholder meeting having occurred, or (ii) at such time that a third party has conveyed an acquisition proposal interest to us and we enter into another acquisition agreement within 12 months following termination of the merger agreement); or the failure to obtain shareholder approval of the merger agreement at the special meeting (provided that we would be required to pay the termination fee described below in the event of termination under this provision at such time that a third party has conveyed an acquisition proposal interest to us and we enter into another acquisition agreement within 12 months following termination of the merger agreement).

In addition, Certifresh Holdings may terminate the merger agreement at any time prior to the effective time of the merger under certain specified circumstances, including:

if we breach or fail to perform in any material respect any of our representations, warranties or covenants in the merger agreement;

if our Board: fails to include its recommendation of the merger agreement in the proxy statement calling for a special meeting of shareholders or withdraws, modifies or changes such recommendation; approves any transaction other than the merger; fails to call, convene and hold a special meeting of shareholders; or render inapplicable to such transaction the provisions of that certain Rights Agreement, dated as of October 12, 2001, as amended, between us and American Stock Transfer & Trust Company (which we refer to the Rights Agreement) or any other anti-takeover provisions (in which case we would be obligated to pay the termination fee described below); or if there has occurred a "material adverse change" affecting us.

In addition, we may terminate the merger agreement at any time prior to the effective time of the merger under certain circumstances, including:

if Certifresh Holdings or Acquisition Corp. breaches or fails to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties or covenants in the merger agreement; or if our Board approves a superior proposal prior to the adoption of the merger agreement by our shareholders (in which case we would be obligated to pay the termination fee described below).

Termination Fee (page 54)

Under certain circumstances identified above, we would be required to pay a termination fee in the amount of $1,740,000 (inclusive of the expenses of the Certifresh parties) to Certifresh Holdings.

Merger Financing (page 39)

The merger is not conditioned on the Certifresh parties obtaining financing. We and Certifresh Holdings estimate that the total amount of funds necessary to complete the merger and to pay related fees and expenses will be approximately $40.0 million. In connection with the merger, bank debt of Certified and us will be refinanced in the estimated amounts of $15.0 million and $23.6 million, respectively. These funds will be provided by committed debt financing arranged by the Certifresh parties.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences (page 40)

Generally, the merger will be taxable to our shareholders for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A holder of our common stock receiving cash in the merger generally will recognize gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the holder's adjusted tax basis in our common stock surrendered. Tax matters are very complex, and the tax consequences of the merger to you will depend on the facts of your own situation. You should consult your tax advisor for a full understanding of the tax consequences of the merger to you, including the federal, state, local and foreign tax consequences of the merger. See THE MERGER Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences.

Guaranty (page 39)

In connection with the merger, on December 5, 2005, Certified executed a guaranty in favor of us, whereby upon any failure by Certifresh Holdings to pay punctually the merger consideration if and when due in accordance with the merger agreement, Certified agrees that it will make available or cause to be made available to the paying agent cash in the amount necessary for the payment of the merger consideration.

No Dissenters Rights (page 9)

Under Wisconsin law, since our common stock is traded on the Nasdaq National Market, you do not have the right to exercise dissenters rights in connection with the merger.

If you would like additional copies, without charge, of this proxy statement or if you have questions about the merger agreement or the merger, including the procedures for voting your shares, you should contact D. F. King & Co., Inc., our proxy solicitor for the special meeting, toll-free at (800) 769-7666. You may also call our Secretary, John Dahly, at (920) 457-4433.

THE SPECIAL MEETING

Date, Time and Place

The enclosed proxy is solicited on behalf of our Board of Directors for use at a special meeting of our shareholders to be held on February 27, 2006 at 8:00 a.m., Central time, in the Galleria Level Conference Room, 777 East Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, or at any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting.

Matters to Be Considered

At the special meeting, our shareholders will be asked to:

consider and vote upon a proposal to approve the merger agreement; and consider and vote upon a proposal to adjourn the special meeting if necessary or appropriate to permit further solicitation of proxies in the event there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the merger agreement.

Record Date; Voting Rights

We have fixed January 24, 2006 as the record date for the special meeting. Only shareholders of record as of the close of business on the record date are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting and any adjournment or postponement thereof. As of the close of business on the record date, there were 4,931,934 shares of our common stock issued and outstanding held by approximately 400 holders of record. A list of shareholders will be available for review at our executive offices during regular business hours beginning two business days after notice of the special meeting is given and continuing to the date of the special meeting and will be available for review at the special meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof. Each shareholder on the record date will be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to shareholders for approval at the special meeting for each share held. If you sell or transfer your shares of our common stock after the record date but before the special meeting, you will transfer the right to receive the per share merger consideration, if the merger is completed, to the person to whom you sell or transfer your shares, but you will retain your right to vote at the special meeting.

All votes will be tabulated by the inspector of election appointed for the special meeting, who will separately tabulate affirmative and negative votes, abstentions and broker non-votes. Brokers who hold shares in street name for clients typically have the authority to vote on routine proposals when they have not received instructions from beneficial owners. Absent specific instructions from the beneficial owner of the shares, however, brokers are not allowed to exercise their voting discretion with respect to the approval of non-routine matters, such as approval of the merger agreement. Proxies submitted without a vote by brokers on these matters are referred to as broker non-votes, and constitute votes AGAINST the merger agreement.

Quorum

Shares entitled to vote at the special meeting may take action on a matter at the special meeting only if a quorum of those shares exists with respect to that matter. Accordingly, the presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of our common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting is necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at the special meeting. In the event that a quorum is not present at the special meeting, we currently expect that we will adjourn or postpone the special meeting to solicit additional proxies.

If a share is represented for any purpose at the special meeting, other than for the purpose of objecting to the special meeting or the transacting of business at the special meeting, it will be deemed present for purposes of determining whether a quorum exists.

Any shares of our common stock held in treasury by us are not considered to be outstanding on the record date or otherwise entitled to vote at the special meeting for purposes of determining a quorum.

Shares represented by proxies reflecting abstentions and properly executed broker non-votes will be counted as present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining a quorum.

Required Vote

The affirmative vote of 2,465,968 shares of our common stock, being a majority of our common shares outstanding on the record date and entitled to vote at the special meeting, is required to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger. Approval of any potential meeting adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of our common shares present and entitled to vote at the special meeting.

As of January 24, 2006, the record date, our directors and executive officers held and are entitled to vote, in the aggregate, 38,564 shares of our common stock, representing approximately 1% of the outstanding shares of our common stock. Our directors and executive officers have informed us that they intend to vote all of their shares of our common stock FOR the approval of the merger agreement and FOR the meeting adjournment proposal.

Because the required vote is based on the number of shares outstanding rather than the number of votes cast, failure to vote your shares (including as a result of broker non-vote) and abstentions are effectively voting AGAINST the merger. In the case of the meeting adjournment proposal, a failure to vote, whether due to broker non-votes or otherwise (except abstentions), will have no effect on the outcome of the voting. A vote to abstain will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST approval of the meeting adjournment proposal.

If the special meeting is adjourned or postponed for any reason, at any subsequent reconvening of the special meeting, all proxies will be voted in the same manner as they would have been voted at the original convening of the meeting, except for any proxies that have been revoked or withdrawn.

How Shares Are Voted; Proxies; Revocation of Proxies

You may vote by attending the special meeting and voting in person by ballot, by completing the enclosed proxy card and then signing, dating and returning it in the postage pre-paid envelope provided, or by completing your proxy by following the instructions supplied on the proxy card for voting by telephone or via the Internet. Submitting a proxy now will not limit your right to revoke your proxy and to vote at the special meeting if you decide to attend in person. If your shares are held in street name by a broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian, follow the directions given by the broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian regarding how to instruct it to vote your shares.

Shares represented by a properly executed proxy will be voted at the special meeting and, when instructions have been given by the shareholder, will be voted in accordance with those instructions. If you submit a proxy without giving voting instructions, the persons named as proxies on the proxy card will vote your shares FOR the approval of the merger agreement, FOR the proposal to adjourn the special meeting if necessary to permit further solicitation of proxies in the event there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the merger agreement, and in the discretion of the persons named in the proxy with respect to any other business that may properly come before the special meeting or any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting.

If you hold shares of our common stock as a participant in the Fresh Brands Distributing Retirement Savings Plan, the trustee for the plan will vote the shares you hold through the plan as you direct. American Stock Transfer & Trust Company will provide plan participants who hold our common stock through the plan with forms on which participants may communicate their voting instructions. If voting directions are not received for shares held in the plan, those shares will be voted in the same proportion that all shares of our common stock in the plan for which voting instructions have been received are voted.

You may revoke your proxy at any time before it is actually voted by giving notice in writing to our Secretary prior to commencement of the special meeting, or by submitting a duly executed proxy bearing a later date. Attendance at the special meeting will not, by itself, revoke a proxy. If you have given voting instructions to a broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian that holds your shares in street name, you may revoke those instructions by following the directions given by the broker, nominee, fiduciary or other custodian.

Please do not send in stock certificates at this time. If the merger is completed, we will send you instructions detailing the procedures for exchanging existing Fresh Brands stock certificates for the $7.05 per share cash payment.

Proxy Solicitation and Expenses

This proxy statement is being furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by our Board. We will bear the costs of soliciting proxies. These costs include the preparation, assembly and mailing of the proxy statement, the notice of the special meeting of shareholders and the enclosed proxy, as well as the cost of forwarding these materials to the beneficial owners of our common stock. Our directors, officers and regular employees may, without compensation other than their regular compensation, solicit proxies by mail, e-mail or telephone, in person or via the Internet. We have retained D. F. King & Co., Inc., a proxy solicitation firm, for assistance in connection with the solicitation of proxies for the special meeting at a cost of approximately $7,500 and reimbursement of reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. We will also reimburse brokerage firms, custodians, nominees, fiduciaries and others for expenses incurred in forwarding proxy material to the beneficial owners of our common stock.

Dissenters Rights

Under Wisconsin law, since our common stock is traded on the Nasdaq National Market, you do not have the right to exercise dissenters rights in connection with the merger. If the merger agreement is approved and the merger is completed, shareholders who voted against the merger agreement will be treated the same as other shareholders and their shares will automatically be converted into the right to receive the per share merger consideration.

Adjournment

If the special meeting is adjourned to a different place, date or time, we do not need to give notice of the new place, date or time if the new place, date or time is announced at the meeting before adjournment, unless a new record date is or must be set for the adjourned meeting. Our Board must fix a new record date if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting.

Attending the Special Meeting

In order to attend the special meeting in person, you must be a shareholder of record on the record date, hold a valid proxy from a record holder or be our invited guest. You will be asked to provide proper identification at the registration desk on the day of the meeting or any adjournment of the meeting.

THE MERGER

Background of the Merger

From time to time during 2003 and 2004, our Board and senior management, in connection with and as a part of their ongoing strategic planning process, evaluated the conditions and trends in our industry and markets, our strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, threats and prospects, and the advantages and disadvantages of our status as a public company. As part of this ongoing process, our Board and management received reports and advice on these and related topics from various industry experts, investment bankers, commercial bankers, financial advisory firms and other advisors and professionals. The general advice provided by such firms and advisors was that we were too small to compete effectively long-term in our industry, we had very limited growth opportunities in our markets, our labor cost structure and related obligations severely burdened our ability to profitably operate our corporate stores or pursue different strategies or business models, the costs and other disadvantages of being a public company far outweighed the perceived benefits, and that the trends in all of these situations were generally getting worse for us.

In early January 2005, as part of our Board's and management's ongoing strategic planning process, our senior management team, along with Walt Winding, our Chairman of the Board, and Steve Barth, a director and our principal outside legal counsel from Foley & Lardner, LLP, met with representatives of a nationally known operational performance improvements advisory firm to discuss generally the dynamics of, and trends in, our industry and our operational and financial condition and prospects. In particular, the firm provided us with its views on our operational efficiency, financial condition and competitive position. The firm advised us that, in its view, we did not possess the economies of scale to effectively compete long-term in the food distribution and retail industry, our cost structure could be improved and our growth opportunities and strategic alternatives appeared limited.

In early February 2005, Messrs. Winding and Barth met for dinner in a Chicago suburb with Paul Butera, the Chairman of Certified and another related person to discuss our companies' ongoing business relationship. During the course of those discussions, the parties also discussed a potential business combination involving us and Certified. These informal discussions focused on the potential synergies and benefits to both companies and their constituencies that could result from such a combination. These discussions were a continuation of similar informal discussions that had taken place from time to time between the two companies over the prior two years.

On February 16, 2005, we entered into a confidentiality agreement with each of Certified and Mr. Butera, and thereafter proceeded to provide Certified with various requested due diligence information. Discussions thereafter ensued regarding various potential structures of a potential business combination. However, our representatives stressed that we were only interested in pursuing a transaction structure that resulted in our no longer being a public company, principally because of the ongoing and increasing costs, obligations, distractions, risks and other disadvantages of remaining a public company.

On February 23, 2005, our Board held a strategic planning meeting. Based, in part, on the advice of an invited industry expert and related industry information, as well as its knowledge of past similar information and advice, our Board concluded that we were likely too small to be able to successfully compete long-term in the wholesale food distribution and retail grocery industry and that there were only limited opportunities for growth in our markets, particularly given the increasing competitive impact of WalMart SuperCenters in our various principal rural and small-town retail market areas. Additionally, based in part on the advice of invited investment banking firm representatives and other advisors and related information, as well as its knowledge of past similar information and advice, our Board also concluded that the costs, obligations, distractions, risks and other disadvantages of remaining as a public company far outweighed the perceived benefits, particularly in view of the increased regulatory, corporate governance, accounting and public disclosure requirements precipitated by the Sarbanes Oxley Act of 2002 and related Securities and Exchange Commission, Public Company Accounting Oversight Board and Nasdaq requirements. These views were supported by our senior management. Our Board also discussed our then current strategic and operating plans and prospects and, while our Board expressed substantial optimism about the initial success of our then relatively new value proposition operating strategy, our Board was concerned that competitive market conditions were increasingly becoming more difficult for us and our franchisees. Our Board also recognized that our labor cost structure and related ongoing and potential future obligations made it extremely difficult to operate our corporate stores profitably or pursue other strategic alternatives or different business models and that our limited financial resources constrained our ability to build new stores, remodel existing stores or provide credit enhancements and other necessary financial support to our franchisees. In this regard, our Board took into particular account that the significant amount of our capital and operating leases and franchisee guarantees significantly limited our borrowing power and constrained our ability to pursue alternative business strategies or models. Our Board also discussed our difficulty in showing significant earnings improvement because of the ongoing disappointing performances of several of our corporate stores. Such stores also carry significant long-term lease liability exposure, which limit their alternate uses or disposition options. Our Board also recognized that our information technology systems required substantial and costly upgrades and enhancements. Similarly, our Board also took into account management's advice that a number of our key franchisees were getting older, with no immediate succession plan to remain as our franchisees, and that our limited financial resources might constrain our ability to retain these franchisees.

As a result of this strategic planning meeting, because our Board believed that a significant aspect of its ongoing fiduciary duties was to continually explore alternatives and strategies to enhance shareholder value while at the same time actively pursuing our then recently implemented value proposition operating strategy, our Board formed a special ad hoc committee, consisting of directors Steve Barth (Chairman), Walt Winding and Tom Stemlar, and senior management members, Louis Stinebaugh, our President and Chief Operating Officer, John Dahly, our Chief Financial Officer, and Jon Hoenecke, our Vice President of Finance, to initiate discussions with various investment banking firms in order to seek further advice and guidance for our Board with respect to our potential available strategic options, including remaining as an independent public company. Subsequently, Mike Isken, our Controller, was added to the committee. Although our Board established this ad hoc special committee, our Board emphasized that our management team should continue to aggressively pursue achieving its strategic operating goals for 2005.

In early March 2005, the special committee solicited background credential information from six investment banking firms to potentially provide advice and guidance to our Board on our available strategic options, including remaining as an independent public company. All of the firms were asked to address their relevant transactional experience on a general basis, their specific industry experience, their specific industry executive level contacts, and their specific industry level transactional experience. All of the firms were also asked to identify their proposed team of professionals who would provide services to us, their anticipated role and related relevant general and industry-specific experience, their thoughts on likely interested parties to various strategic options involving us, their thoughts on potential processes and preliminary valuations of us pursuant to such different potential strategic options, and their unique attributes and differentiating factors.

In mid-March 2005, the special committee, based on the committee's analysis of the various firms' experience, credentials and other relative attributes, strengths and weaknesses, selected three investment banking firms to be personally interviewed by the committee.

During the last two weeks of March, the three selected investment banking firms were provided with background information on our company and allowed an opportunity to familiarize themselves with us through performing both documentary financial and in-person strategic and operational due diligence with our management team. Each of the firms then provided a comprehensive engagement proposal and presentation to our special committee in advance of their respective interview.

On March 28, 2005, after receiving the detailed engagement proposals and presentations submitted by the three selected investment banking firms, our special committee personally interviewed the three selected firms at the offices of Foley & Lardner, LLP in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. As a result of these interviews, the special committee unanimously selected Blair to act as our Board's financial advisor. The committee's selection of Blair was based in significant part on Blair's perceived preeminent experience and expertise in successfully completing strategic transactions in the food distribution and retail industry, its first-hand knowledge and close professional relationships with senior executives at a number of companies in our industry that were believed could potentially be interested in a strategic relationship with us and its outstanding individual team leader and participants. Blair's initial engagement was to develop a strategic options analysis report. We verbally engaged Blair to begin its work, and formalized Blair's engagement on April 26, 2005.

On March 29, 2005, members of our special committee met at the offices of Foley & Lardner in Milwaukee, Wisconsin with representatives of a significant shareholder of our company ("Significant Shareholder"). The meeting was held at the representatives' request to discuss the Significant Shareholder's goals and objectives for its investment in our company and its request to add one or more representatives to our Board. During that meeting, members of our special committee asked the representatives whether the Significant Shareholder might be interested in further exploring the potential acquisition of our remaining outstanding stock so that we would no longer incur the costs, obligations, distractions, risks and other disadvantages of being a public company. The representatives advised that they would need to further consider and discuss this matter with their other partners.

On April 1, 2005, the Significant Shareholder's representatives advised us that the Significant Shareholder was interested in further considering exploring a potential acquisition of our remaining outstanding stock.

On April 6, 2005, we entered into a confidentiality agreement with the Significant Shareholder and, thereafter, provided the Significant Shareholder's representatives with various requested due diligence information. The confidentiality agreement was substantially similar in all material substantive respects to the confidentiality agreement we previously entered into with Certified, other than otherwise addressing certain of the Significant Shareholder's federal securities law obligations as a significant shareholder of our company.

During various parts of March, April and May, 2005, Certified, the Significant Shareholder and Blair each engaged in separate extensive due diligence investigations of our company. During this time period, various separate discussions took place between our representatives and Certified and the Significant Shareholder regarding their respective expressed preliminary interests in exploring a potential business combination with us. Our representatives also engaged in extensive discussions and negotiations with Blair over the terms and conditions of their engagement.

In mid-April 2005, Blair recommended to our special committee that, as an important supplement to Blair's preparation of its strategic options analysis report, the committee engage an independent consulting firm to report to our Board on the relative current and expected future competitive position of our corporate and franchise supermarkets. Thereafter, our committee and senior management met with and interviewed such recommended consulting firm and engaged it to provide such advice to our Board on an expedited basis.

In mid-April 2005, representatives of the Significant Shareholder advised our representatives that they intended to refer their potential interest in exploring a potential acquisition of our company to a well-known private equity firm ("Private Equity Firm") that would, instead of the Significant Shareholder, further explore the possibility of a potential acquisition of our company. Background information on such Private Equity Firm was then provided by our counsel to our Board and management.

On April 20, 2005, we entered into a confidentiality agreement with the Private Equity Firm and, thereafter, we provided the Private Equity Firm with various requested due diligence information. The confidentiality agreement was substantially similar in all material substantive respects to the confidentiality agreement we previously entered into with Certified.

On April 26, 2005, we entered into a two-part engagement letter with Blair. The first part of Blair's engagement involved its preparation of a detailed preliminary strategic options analysis report to be provided to our Board at its scheduled May 25, 2005 strategic planning meeting. The strategic options analysis report was intended to help form the basis upon which Blair could then provide our Board with a more informed and fulsome analysis of our potential available strategic alternatives. The second part of Blair's engagement involved establishing the terms and conditions on which our Board could decide to further engage Blair to provide additional specified financial advisory services in the event that our Board determined, after receiving and discussing Blair's strategic options analysis, to further explore pursuing potential strategic alternatives.

At our Board's strategic planning meeting held on May 25, 2005, Blair presented its preliminary draft strategic options analysis report to our Board and selected senior management members. Blair explained that its preliminary draft analysis was aimed at understanding our challenges and opportunities to better identify possible available alternatives to create or preserve shareholder value. Based on Blair's due diligence investigation of our operating and strategic positions from both a financial and business perspective, and its assessment of our challenges and opportunities (including the results of the independent consulting firm's review of our current and future competitive position), Blair recommended that our Board consider pursuing a potential sale of our company that would result in our company either becoming part of a larger organization or a well-capitalized private company. Blair also recommended that our Board consider simultaneously pursuing a potential back-up restructuring plan involving closing multiple underperforming corporate and franchise stores and our underutilized general merchandise distribution facility. However, Blair advised our Board that there were likely substantial financial, business and execution risks and difficulties associated with our attempting to pursue this alternative as an independent public company, particularly given our limited capital flexibility, public company status and organizational structure. To assist in potentially improving the value realizable by our shareholders from a sale exploration process, Blair recommended that our Board hire an independent consulting firm to provide advice on how we might be able to improve our operational and financial performance, including assessing the availability of potential cost savings opportunities that could be realized by our company. Our Board was then advised by our outside legal counsel, Foley & Lardner, on our Board's fiduciary duties and related legal considerations relating to our Board's potential sale exploration process. Senior management reported to our Board on their views regarding our future challenges and opportunities and concurred in all of Blair's observations and recommendations. Our Board and senior management discussed then current industry conditions and our current and likely future relative competitive position. The independent consultant's report on our current and expected future competitive position was discussed by our management and Board in depth, including particularly the consultant's advice that WalMart's market share in our markets was anticipated to increase, which was likely to adversely affect our future operating results.

At that same meeting, our Board and senior management also discussed our relative limited size and buying power, the adverse impacts that the underperforming financial results of a limited number of our corporate stores had on our ability to achieve improved profitability, as well as the costs and other adverse consequences of remaining a public company, particularly in light of the recently imposed requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related requirements. Our Board and senior management also discussed our labor cost structure and the significant and increasing labor related costs and other liabilities, especially our related health and welfare and potential contingent future multi-employer pension plan withdrawal liabilities, and the resultant competitive disadvantages and significant limitations on our ability to pursue other business strategies and models. Our Board and senior management also discussed our limited financial resources and flexibility, which constrained our growth potential and ability to support our franchisees or overcome individual store or market adverse events or results. Our Board was advised by our management and Blair that the significant amount of our capital and operating leases and franchisee guarantees had the effect of substantially limiting our overall borrowing power and access to other sources of capital, and also constrained our ability to pursue alternative strategies or business models. In this regard, management reminded our Board of the advancing age and lack of family succession plans of a number of our key franchisees, which because of our financial constraints, caused our management to be concerned about our ability to retain these franchisees over time. Our Board and senior management also discussed the limitations of our information technology systems, the consequences thereof and the significant additional capital investment needed to upgrade and enhance such systems. Our Board and senior management discussed the advantages and disadvantages of maintaining our status quo, as well as various potential strategic alternatives. Blair evaluated our potential strategic alternative of separating or spinning off one of our wholesale, corporate retail or franchised retail store operations. However, Blair advised our Board that such an option was likely not viable because of the interdependent operational, financial and strategic relationships among the three businesses, as well as the constraints of implementing such an option as an independent public company. In an executive session of the independent directors following the meeting, our independent directors discussed again our financial prospects for 2005 and beyond, the strengths, weaknesses and succession plan of our current management team, as well as the significant risks and difficulties that we would have in trying to implement a significant cost-cutting initiative or multi-store closure restructuring plan as an independent public entity.

On May 26, 2005, following our annual shareholders meeting in Sheboygan, Wisconsin, representatives of our Board and management met separately with representatives of Certified and the Significant Shareholder to advise each of Blair's recommendation and to solicit from each the submission by the end of June of a preliminary non-binding indication of interest to acquire us.

After having an opportunity to further consider Blair's draft preliminary strategic option analysis report and recommendations, our Board thereafter met on May 31, 2005 to further discuss Blair's draft preliminary report and recommendations. The meeting followed our Board's and management's interview of the consulting firm recommended by Blair to provide advice to us on potential available cost saving opportunities. As a result of our Board's deliberations at such meeting and Blair's recommendations and advice, our Board decided to further engage Blair to pursue a process to explore the potential sale of our company, as well as to engage the recommended consulting firm to advise our Board on potential available cost saving opportunities. Our Board directed Blair to pursue a sale exploration process with the two parties, Certified and the Private Equity Firm, which had both previously expressed preliminary interest in exploring the potential purchase of our company. As a result of the significant risks involved with pursuing a potential back-up restructuring plan as an independent public company, and because of our improving operational results due to the then continued success of our value proposition operating strategy, our Board decided to focus Blair's and our management's efforts on pursuing a sale exploration process.

During June 2005, continued separate due diligence and informational meetings and discussions were held with the Private Equity Firm and Certified.

On June 9, 2005, our senior management and Blair met with representatives of the Private Equity Firm and the Significant Shareholder to discuss various operational, competitive and financial due diligence matters.

A special meeting of our Board was held on June 12, 2005 to discuss the status of Blair's initial sale exploration process with the Private Equity Firm and Certified and the preliminary results of the consulting firm's analysis of potential cost saving opportunities available to us. As a result of such meeting and based principally on Blair's recommendation, our Board authorized Blair to contact a number of additional specifically selected potentially interested buyers recommended by Blair in order to also seek their potential interest in exploring a potential acquisition of our company. Due to substantial concerns expressed by our management over the potential significant business disruption, distraction and likely irreparable damage that would likely be caused by vendor, franchisee and employee adverse reaction to public knowledge that we were actively exploring a potential sale, our Board directed Blair to maintain a highly confidential sale exploration process specifically targeting the potentially interested buyers which would most likely be interested in acquiring our company.

During the last two weeks of June, Blair contacted a number of additional potentially interested buyers.

On July 1, 2005, our Board met to, among other matters, obtain a progress report from Blair on the results of Blair's further contacts and sale exploration process efforts. Our Board also received its independent consultant's final report on recommended cost savings opportunities available to us. At this meeting, Blair provided our Board with draft preliminary information on the expected range of potential values that our Board might be able to anticipate from a sale process. To further facilitate our sale exploration process, Blair recommended that our Board authorize management to work closely with Blair to provide potentially interested buyers with a further understanding of potential synergistic cost savings and future growth opportunities which could result from a business combination with each such potential buyer in order to facilitate the submission by such potential buyers of preliminary non-binding indications of interest to purchase our company. Certain potential negative valuation considerations that might be taken into account by certain potentially interested buyers were then discussed, including particularly, the expected future local market competitive impacts of the scheduled and anticipated openings of additional WalMart Supercenters, our cost structure and our health and welfare and potential contingent future multi-employer pension plan withdrawal liabilities, as well as the difficult exit strategy for any potential private equity buyer. Blair also advised that, as a pre-condition to acquiring our company, a private equity buyer would almost certainly require our senior management team to commit a substantial amount of their own personal financial resources to invest in our company alongside the private equity buyer and to also commit to a long-term employment relationship. However, Blair advised, and our senior management concurred, that it was unlikely our senior management would agree to such conditions. Blair explained that this factor made our company's prospective purchase by a private equity firm highly unlikely, including an acquisition by the Private Equity Firm. Our Board also discussed and concluded, based on the advice of our management and its knowledge of our company, that our company likely could not on its own, and particularly not as an independent public company, effectively implement the consulting firm's recommended cost saving initiatives, or a restructuring plan involving multiple store closures, because of the significant limitations on our flexibility caused by our financial condition and capital structure and the significant business disruption and distraction that would result from adverse reaction from the public, media, shareholders, unions, employees and franchisees, and the concern over whether such major cost cutting initiative would have a material adverse effect on our full-service franchisee support program and business model. As a result, our Board concluded that any such major cost saving initiative or restructuring plan would likely need to be effected as part of a business combination with another organization in order to be successful.

On July 5, 2005, one of the newly contacted potential strategic buyers indicated that, based solely on our publicly available information, it was not in a position to provide an indication of interest to acquire us at a price per share in excess of our then current stock market value. As a result, such company did not submit an indication of interest. The last sale price of our stock on July 5, 2005 was $6.58 per share.

Shortly thereafter, another newly contacted potential strategic buyer indicated that, for various reasons, it would not submit an indication of interest to acquire us, despite Blair's relationship with senior management of such company.

In or about mid-July 2005, the Private Equity Firm indicated to Blair that, based upon its due diligence analysis and its internal return on investment criteria, it could not submit a preliminary indication of interest to acquire our company at a price above $6.50 per share. Despite the Private Equity Firm's position, Blair thereafter continued from time to time to apprise the Private Equity Firm of developments at our company and our sale exploration process and continued to encourage the Private Equity Firm to reconsider submitting a revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest at a higher price.

Despite the Private Equity Firm's decision at that time not to pursue a potential acquisition of our company, certain representatives of the Significant Shareholder said that they nonetheless continued to have an independent interest in potentially further exploring an acquisition of our company. A number of further discussions subsequently took place between our representatives and representatives of the Significant Shareholder. In these discussions, although the Significant Shareholder representatives said that they were potentially interested in offering a price per share that would reflect a premium to our then current market price, the Significant Shareholder's representatives confirmed that they had not pursued any financing arrangements to support such a potential preliminary indication of interest. As a result, Blair advised the Significant Shareholder's representatives that, at that point in time, the Significant Shareholder could not be considered to be a viable or qualified potential acquirer. Nonetheless, Blair still encouraged the representatives of the Significant Shareholder to continue to pursue obtaining financial support for their preliminary level of interest and to advise Blair once they had obtained any such financial support.

On August 3, 2005 and August 10, 2005, Certified provided us with preliminary non-binding indication of interest letters to acquire our company. Among other terms and conditions, the August 3 letter contained an extensive exclusivity provision. After discussions between Blair and Certified, pursuant to which Blair advised Certified that we would not grant Certified such an exclusivity period, the August 10 letter deleted such exclusivity provision, and instead included a proposed expense reimbursement provision under certain circumstances. Both letters included a preliminary proposed per share price of $7.05, no financing contingency and a number of other proposed terms and conditions.

On August 11, 2005, one of the potentially interested strategic buyers contacted by Blair in late June (Strategic Buyer) submitted a preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter to acquire all of our outstanding stock at a price range of between $6.00 $7.00 per share. The letter described a proposed complicated transaction structure involving a to-be-identified private equity firm partner as the purchaser of our outstanding common stock, followed by the private equity firm's sale of substantially all of our assets and operations to the Strategic Buyer and other third parties.

On August 18, 2005, our Board held its regularly scheduled meeting and was updated by Blair on the progress of its ongoing sale exploration process, including the foregoing recent developments. Blair discussed the extent and identity of potentially interested buyers contacted and advised that, in its view, all reasonably likely and viable purchasers that Blair believed would be potentially interested and qualified potential buyers of our company were included in the already contacted group. Counterproposals to be submitted by Blair on our behalf to each of the then interested parties were discussed. Our Board also received further advice on its applicable fiduciary duties and related legal considerations from Foley & Lardner and additional draft preliminary valuation advice from Blair. Potential available financial and operational synergies with certain of the potential purchasers were discussed with our Board, as well as the varying expected impacts on our non-shareholder constituencies of a business combination with certain of the potentially interested purchasers. Additionally, at such meeting, our Board discussed whether or not it should engage an independent investment banking firm, other than Blair, to provide a financial fairness opinion to our Board in connection with any final offers it may receive to purchase our company, particularly in view of the potential valuation levels expected to result from the sale exploration process. Based on a thorough analysis of the advantages and disadvantages of hiring an independent financial advisory or investment banking firm to provide such an opinion to the Board, our Board determined that Blair was the best firm to provide such an opinion to the Board. Confidential discussions with another investment banking firm had indicated that the cost to obtain such an independent financial fairness opinion under the circumstances would significantly exceed the financial fairness opinion fee otherwise payable to Blair and would require an additional extensive due diligence process by such firm that would further strain the limited resources of our management team and distract it from the sale exploration process and otherwise continuing to manage our company. Moreover, our Board took into account that Blair had already engaged in extensive strategic, operational, financial and other due diligence related to our company over the past five months, had prepared various draft preliminary valuation assessments of our company, was in the Board's opinion the most experienced financial advisory firm in our industry with intimate and proprietary knowledge of various non-public market terms of comparable industry transactions, had prepared our draft preliminary strategic options analysis report, had been integrally involved in every step of our sale exploration process and, consequentially, was intimately familiar with the various levels of interest (and non-interest), concern and valuation expressed by potentially interested purchasers. Our Board believed that any perceived potential conflicts of interest that Blair may have because of its significant transaction success fee were negated by the factors cited above, Blair's outstanding reputation for integrity and professionalism, and the confidence and trust our Board had in the Blair advisory team. Moreover, our Board took into account that, in its opinion, Blair's transaction success fee was not overly significant to Blair so as to create any actual conflict of interest or otherwise adversely affect the reliability or objectivity of its professional advice.

Based largely on the advice of Blair, on August 19, 2005, we counter proposed to Certified a revised indication of interest letter at $8.25 per share, along with various other proposed changes to Certified's proposed transaction structure, treatment of our existing KEESAs, the extent and timetable for Certified to conduct its due diligence, Certified's expense reimbursement provision triggers and other terms of Certified's August 10 letter.

On August 30, 2005, our senior management and Certified's senior management, along with Blair and Certified's legal counsel, met in person in suburban Chicago to discuss our counterproposal, including particularly, our proposed $8.25 per share price. The meeting was held at

Blair's request despite Certified's advance indication that it would not consider paying our shareholders $8.25 per share. Prior to the commencement of the meeting of all such individuals, an individual meeting between Messrs. Winding and Butera took place during which meeting Mr. Winding acknowledged that he understood that Certified refused to pay $8.25 per share to our shareholders, but he asked Mr. Butera to consider paying our shareholders a purchase price of $8.00 per share. Mr. Butera told Mr. Winding that Certified would not pay $8.00 per share under any circumstance, and would not increase Certified's price higher than $7.05 per share. Thereafter, a broader group meeting was held to discuss other aspects of our counterproposal.

After such meeting, further discussions ensued between our senior management and Blair, on the one hand, and senior representatives of Certified, on the other hand, pursuant to which Blair asked Certified to submit a revised preliminary non-binding expression of interest at its highest possible price per share, and to address the other matters identified in our August 19 counterproposal.

As a result, we received a revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter from Certified on September 1, 2005 at a price of $7.45 per share, along with other proposed terms and conditions substantially similar to those contained in Certified's August 10 letter. Certified's revised preliminary non-binding expression of interest was again not subject to any financing contingency.

Our Board held a special meeting on September 5, 2005 to consider, discuss and analyze Certified's revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter. With the assistance of Blair and Foley & Lardner, our Board considered, discussed and analyzed Certified's proposed price per share, transaction structure, treatment of our KEESAs, financing capabilities, scope and timing of its due diligence requirements, expense reimbursement amount and related triggering provisions, restrictions on our operation of our business prior to signing a definitive agreement and certain other proposed terms. The lengthy history of difficult discussions and negotiations with Certified was analyzed in depth, including the meeting on August 30. Blair then provided our Board with certain updated draft preliminary valuation information. Our Board and Mr. Stinebaugh, in his capacity as Chief Operating Officer, discussed the draft preliminary valuation information provided by Blair, and also discussed the future vulnerability of our business, including the significant strategic, operational, financial and competitive challenges, and other risks, threats and concerns, identified by our Board and management team, that face our company in the future. Our Board also discussed the potential that, based on management's preliminary advice, we might, under certain circumstances, be required under generally accepted accounting principles to recognize potentially significant long-lived asset impairment charges in the third quarter as a result of the continued apparent financial underperformance of several of our corporate stores. Our Board and Mr. Stinebaugh, in his capacity as Chief Operating Officer, discussed the potential adverse consequences of such potential charges, including the potential for unwarranted reactions to such charges by some of our vendors. Our Board also was updated by Blair on ongoing discussions with the Strategic Buyer and the planned September 7 meeting with the Strategic Buyer to discuss its proposed transaction structure, valuation assumptions and due diligence process. Our Board then discussed various potential responses to Certified, including specifically counterproposing a per share price of $7.85 and proposing the previously submitted changes to Certified's proposed transaction structure, treatment of our KEESAs, scope and timing of Certified's due diligence requirements, Certified's expense reimbursement amount and related triggering provisions, restrictions on our operation of our business prior to signing a definitive acquisition agreement and certain other proposed terms.

On September 6, 2005, we submitted a counterproposal to Certified at a per share price of $7.85, and repropose substantially the same revised terms as we proposed to Certified on August 19 with respect to Certified's proposed transaction structure, treatment of our KEESAs, scope and timing of Certified's due diligence requirements, Certified's expense reimbursement trigger provisions, restrictions on our operation of our business prior to signing a definitive agreement and certain other terms.

On September 7, 2005, representatives of our company, Blair and Foley & Lardner met with senior representatives of the Strategic Buyer at the Milwaukee, Wisconsin offices of Foley & Lardner to discuss the Strategic Buyer's proposed transaction structure, due diligence process and related valuation assumptions. At such meeting, Blair advised the Strategic Buyer that we desired the Strategic Buyer to submit a revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest at a price per share of at least $8.00 and that otherwise provided further specific guidance on the viability and timing of such potential buyer's level of interest.

On September 9, 2005, as a result of further discussions between Blair and Certified, we received a further revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter from Certified at a proposed per share purchase price of $7.60. The letter included certain other terms and conditions substantially similar to Certified's August 10 letter and that we previously identified as being problematic. Certified's revised preliminary non-binding expression of interest was again not subject to a financing contingency.

On September 10, 2005, we received a revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter from the Strategic Buyer at a proposed price per share of $8.00 based on substantially the same complicated transaction structure as previously proposed, which involved a to-be-determined private equity firm partner acquiring our outstanding common stock in a cash tender offer or similar transaction, without any financing contingency, followed immediately thereafter by the private equity firm's sale of our wholesale business assets to the Strategic Buyer and our corporate retail stores and certain other non-store assets and operations to to-be-determined other third parties. The Strategic Buyer's preliminary non-binding letter also contained various detailed valuation assumptions supporting its proposed per share purchase price.

On September 12, 2005, our Board held a meeting to discuss and analyze the revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letters received from Certified and the Strategic Buyer and various potential and recommended responses thereto. Our Board received and considered the analysis, advice and recommendations of Blair and Foley & Lardner. It was explained to our Board that a key element to support the viability of the Strategic Buyer's preliminary non-binding expression of interest was the Strategic Buyer being able to convince a private equity firm partner to engage in such a transaction by conducting an actual market check to determine the potential resale prices which might be obtained from selling our retail stores to other retail operators in the various markets in which our stores are operated. Our Board's and management's significant concerns over the heightened potential for a breach of confidentiality of our sale exploration process resulting from any such a third party market check inquiry process were discussed by the Board in great detail. Mr. Stinebaugh explained to our Board that, after further discussions with the Strategic Buyer, he had become more comfortable with the highly focused and confidential inquiry process then being proposed by the Strategic Buyer, if coordinated very strictly through him and involving strict confidentiality obligations on the part of both the Strategic Buyer and the to-be-contacted retailers. Moreover, it was explained to our Board that these market check inquiries were an absolute necessity for the Strategic Buyer and any potential private equity firm partner to move forward on their proposed potential transaction.

On September 13, 2005, representatives of our company, Blair and Foley & Lardner provided the Strategic Buyer with a counterproposal, including a proposed per share price of $8.15, more specific and supportable valuation assumptions and a shorter, more defined due diligence time period. Numerous discussions were thereafter held with the Strategic Buyer regarding such valuation assumptions, their supportability and their interchangeability.

On September 16, 2005, Mr. Stinebaugh met with senior executives of Certified to discuss Certified's contemplated plans for organizing and integrating the two companies, identified synergies between the two companies, the post-transaction and employment role of our management team and the terms and conditions of Mr. Stinebaugh's and other senior executives' KEESAs. Shortly thereafter, Messrs. Dahly and Livorsi had similar discussions with senior executives of Certified.

On September 19, 2005, our Board met to obtain a further updated transaction status report from our management, Blair and Foley & Lardner and to discuss, consider and analyze further developments with the potentially interested parties and proposed potential responses thereto. Our Board meeting followed a preceding meeting of our Board's Audit Committee, at which meeting the Audit Committee was advised by senior management of the potential that, subject to resolution of several contingencies and under certain circumstances, we could be required under generally accepted accounting principles to recognize certain potentially significant non-cash, long-lived asset impairment charges in the third quarter resulting primarily from the ongoing underperformance of three of our corporate stores. The Audit Committee was also advised of a recent third party actuarial report that indicated that our potential contingent multi-employer pension fund withdrawal liability with respect to our corporate retail stores as of November 2004 was significantly higher than prior years, largely because of the withdrawal from the fund of other significant contributors as well as shortfalls in the plan's assumed rates of return. Our Board discussed the potential adverse impact on our company, our business operations, financial liquidity and our various constituencies of recognizing and publicly announcing such potential impairment charges, and the potential adverse impact of such announced charges on our sale exploration process. As a result of our management's significant concerns about the potential for unwarranted market and other reactions to the public announcement of any such potential non-cash impairment charges by our vendors and other constituencies, particularly in view of certain recent events in our industry and, in particular, at companies such as Fleming Companies and Winn-Dixie, our Board concluded that it was important for our management team and advisors to attempt to enter into a definitive sale transaction prior to November 17, 2005, which was the date on which our company would need to file its Form 10-Q for its third quarter and, if determined to be required by generally accepted accounting principles, to publicly announce any such impairment charges, provided that the terms of any such transaction were determined by our Board to be fair and reasonable to, and in the best interest of, our shareholders. Our management and Blair advised our Board that they also intended to fully explain such potential non-cash asset impairment charges in advance to potentially interested acquirers so that any ultimate required recognition and announcement of such charges would not adversely impact any acquirer's interest in, and valuation of, our company.

On September 19, 2005, after the Board meeting, as a result of ongoing further discussions between Blair and the Private Equity Firm, which had previously withdrawn from our sale process, we received a revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter from the Private Equity Firm at a proposed per share price of $8.00 per share, but subject to, among other terms, contingencies and conditions, a complicated and uncertain proposed potential financing and capital structure, requesting an opportunity to perform extensive additional due diligence and requiring a 45-day strict exclusivity period.

During the remainder of the week of September 19, Blair and the Private Equity Firm further discussed potential difficulties, risks and uncertainties with the Private Equity Firm's proposed potential supporting financing and capital structure as set forth in its proposed preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter. As a result of such discussions, the Private Equity Firm withdrew its preliminary non-binding indication of interest.

On September 21, 2005, Blair was advised by the Strategic Buyer that it had identified a specific private equity firm partner (Strategic Buyer Partner) to support the Strategic Buyer's proposed transaction structure outlined in its preliminary expression of interest letter dated September 12, 2005. Background information on Strategic Buyer Partner was then provided to our Board and senior management by Blair and Foley & Lardner.

On September 23, 2005, we received a preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter from the Strategic Buyer Partner, reflecting a proposed per share price of $8.15, and including substantially all of the supporting valuation assumptions that had been previously confirmed by Blair and our management to the Strategic Buyer, as well as a well-defined due diligence process and timetable intended to result in the potential execution of a definitive acquisition agreement within 45 days. The letter described a due diligence process that required an extensive third party market check of the potential resale values of our corporate retail supermarkets. The preliminary non-binding expression of interest letter was otherwise substantially similar to the counterproposal submitted on our behalf by Blair to the Strategic Buyer on September 13.

On September 26, 2005, we entered into a confidentiality agreement with the Strategic Buyer Partner and immediately thereafter substantial additional due diligence information was provided to the Strategic Buyer Partner and the Strategic Buyer. The confidentiality agreement was substantially similar in all material substantive respects to the confidentiality agreement previously entered into with Certified.

During the last week of September, Messrs. Stinebaugh, Dahly and Livorsi personally negotiated certain terms of their respective employment arrangements and KEESAs with senior management of Certified. As a result of such discussions, Mr. Stinebaugh agreed that, immediately prior to entering into a plan of merger with Certified, he would agree to terminate his KEESA and instead enter into a new at-will employment agreement pursuant to which: (i) Mr. Stinebaugh would receive a severance payment of $1,125,000 effective upon the closing of the proposed merger with an affiliate of Certified, which reflected a reduction of almost $400,000 of compensation and benefits to which Mr. Stinebaugh could have otherwise been entitled to under his existing KEESA; (ii) Mr. Stinebaugh would provide transition services, if requested, at Mr. Stinebaugh's current salary, but that Mr. Stinebaugh's employment could be terminated by either party upon 30-day's notice with no further financial obligation; and (iii) the Certifresh parties would agree to certain other agreed upon terms and provisions. Mr. Dahly agreed that he also would terminate his KEESA prior to our entering into the plan of merger with an affiliate of Certified and an employment or consulting agreement with Mr. Dahly would be entered into that included the following terms: (i) initial term of one year after closing; (ii) upon closing of the proposed merger between the two companies, Mr. Dahly would receive a severance payment of $220,000, which resulted in a net after-tax cost savings to our company and, in turn, the Certifresh parties of approximately $885,000; (iii) Mr. Dahly would agree to work approximately three days per week; (iv) Mr. Dahly's base compensation, bonus, and benefits would be at least as good as his current base compensation, bonus, and benefits, adjusted proportionately to reflect his reduced schedule; provided, however, that the Certifresh parties would not enter into another KEESA with Mr. Dahly. Mr. Livorsi agreed that his KEESA would be modified to remove any work location restriction prior to our entering into the proposed plan of merger with an affiliate of Certified.

On September 30, 2005, Spartan Stores, Inc., a regional grocery distributor and grocery retailer operating principally in Michigan and Ohio, announced that it was terminating its 10-month strategic option exploration process, including the potential sale of the company. Our Board took into account the fact that Spartan's sale process did not result in a successful sale, as well as the resultant adverse shareholder reaction to such announcement.

During the week of October 3, 2005, representatives of the Private Equity Firm, which had previously withdrawn twice from our sale exploration process, again expressed to Blair their renewed interest in potentially providing another preliminary non-binding indication of interest to acquire our company. Blair encouraged the Private Equity Firm to submit its interest in writing.

On October 5, 2005, after its additional due diligence and discussions with our management, we received a further revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter from Certified at a proposed per share price of $7.35. Although the revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest again did not include any financing contingency, the letter again included the other terms and conditions previously objected to by our company.

On October 5, 2005, our senior management and Blair met with senior representatives of the Strategic Buyer Partner and the Strategic Buyer to generally discuss each other's respective background and business philosophies.

On October 7, 2005, our Board held a meeting to discuss, consider and analyze updated transaction status reports from Blair, Foley & Lardner and our management team on developments with respect to the three parties then currently preliminarily interested in potentially purchasing our company. As a result of the uncertainty and attendant risk associated with the transaction structure proposed by the Strategic Buyer and the Strategic Buyer Partner, as well as the preliminary and highly uncertain nature of the previously twice-withdrawn Private Equity Firm's then apparent renewed potential level of preliminary interest, our Board directed our representatives to further negotiate Certified's preliminary non-binding letter.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

On October 10, 2005, Foley & Lardner sent a counterproposal letter to Certified's counsel. Negotiations thereafter ensued over Certified's proposed transaction structure, the triggering provisions for Certified's expense reimbursement provision and the timetable for Certified to perform its final due diligence and be in a position to enter into a definitive agreement to acquire our company by November 16, 2005.

On October 12, 2005, Blair received a revised preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter from the Private Equity Firm at a proposed per share price of $8.00, but still subject to, among other terms, contingencies and conditions, a complicated and highly uncertain proposed financing and capital structure that needed to be pursued with only very generally identified potential financing sources, and further subject to the commencement and completion of significant additional due diligence. The preliminary non-binding indication of interest also required a strict 45-day exclusivity period be granted before the Private Equity Firm would commence its due diligence or pursue its potential financing. Discussions thereafter ensued, with Blair advising the Private Equity Firm that we had other actively interested parties seeking to potentially acquire our company, that none of such other parties had been granted exclusivity and that we could not agree to provide the Private Equity Firm with such an exclusivity agreement under the circumstances. Blair explained to the Private Equity Firm that our company could not proceed with the Private Equity Firm alone and to the exclusion of other potentially interested parties, which had previously provided preliminary indications of interest to acquire our company, particularly given the Private Equity Firm's preliminary level of completed due diligence and the high degree of risk and uncertainty over the Private Equity Firm's proposed financing and capital structure. In addition, Blair also explained to the Private Equity Firm our Board's fiduciary duty obligations, which likely would otherwise legally prevent our Board from agreeing to be constrained during the course of an active sale exploration process by such an exclusivity provision as part of a non-binding preliminary indication of interest. Blair encouraged the Private Equity Firm to proceed with its process to support its proposed per share price, which Blair advised the firm was higher than the preliminary non-binding price per share then currently indicated by one of our other potential acquirers. As a result, Blair advised the Private Equity Firm that if it could enter into a fully-financed definitive purchase agreement at its proposed price per share, then the Private Equity Firm had a high probability of being successful in its attempt to acquire our company. As previously authorized by us, Blair then offered to provide the Private Equity Firm with an expense reimbursement and/or break-up fee arrangement if the firm delivered a firm fully-financed definitive purchase agreement at $8.00 per share by November 16 that was not accepted by our Board because we chose a competing offer. However, the Private Equity Firm declined such expense reimbursement arrangements because it did not want to allocate its limited personnel resources to a competitive bidding process.

On October 12, 2005, our counsel, Certified's counsel, Blair and Mr. Butera negotiated certain terms and conditions of Certified's proposed preliminary non-binding expression of interest based on the counterproposal submitted by Foley & Lardner on October 10. Certified advised that, under no circumstances would it agree to effect its proposed acquisition of our company through a cash tender offer followed by a back-end merger, as we had proposed. As a result of further negotiations on this issue, our representatives agreed to Certified's proposed long-form merger transaction structure with an affiliate of Certified. However, our representatives insisted that the only triggering events to Certified's right to receive reimbursement for its expenses incurred in pursuing a potential acquisition of our company would be our entering into an acquisition agreement with another party on or prior to November 16 or because of certain other mutually agreed upon violations by us of the letter. As a result of our agreement to Certified's proposed transaction structure, the representatives of Certified agreed to our proposed expense reimbursement triggering provisions.

Based on the mutual agreements reached by of the parties on October 12, 2005, on October 13, 2005, Foley & Lardner provided Certified's counsel with a proposed draft merger agreement in anticipation of quickly thereafter reaching agreement on a final preliminary non-binding expression of interest with Certified.

On October 18, 2005, after further preceding discussions and negotiations between the parties and their representatives, we and Certified entered into a preliminary non-binding indication of interest letter at a proposed per share price of $7.35 pursuant to a proposed long-form merger transaction structure with an affiliate of Certified and with a limited expense reimbursement provision capped at $300,000 payable to Certified only if we agreed to be acquired by another party on or prior to November 16, 2005, or in the event of certain other mutually agreed upon violations by us of the letter. The letter contemplated a further extensive legal due diligence process on behalf of Certified with the stated objective and strong desire of both companies to enter into a mutually acceptable definitive merger agreement by November 16, 2005. Certified's preliminary non-binding expression of interest was again not subject to any financing contingency.

Thereafter, numerous subsequent meetings and discussions were held with Certified and its counsel to allow Certified and its counsel to complete its due diligence investigation and negotiate the merger agreement and related documents between the two companies.

On October 20, 2005, Blair contacted the Strategic Buyer to advise it that we were actively pursuing a potential acquisition transaction with another unidentified party with a view toward entering into a final acquisition agreement by November 16, in advance of our scheduled November 17 third quarter Form 10-Q filing. Blair advised the Strategic Buyer of the importance that the Strategic Buyer and the Strategic Buyer Partner complete its due diligence and legal documentation so that they would also be in a position to enter into a definitive acquisition agreement with us by such date.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

On October 20, 2005, Nash Finch Company, a food distribution and food retailing company, announced that it did not expect to meet its fourth quarter and annual 2005 earnings expectations. On October 21, 2005, Nash Finch Company's stock price dropped over $12 per share, or almost 30%. Our Board took into account this adverse impact on Nash Finch's shareholder value resulting from its public announcement of unexpected adverse financial news. This stock market reaction reinforced our Board's desire to attempt to enter into a definitive sale agreement prior to the date that we would otherwise be required to publicly announce, if determined to be required by generally accepted accounting principles, our significant long-lived asset impairment charges, provided that the terms of any such sale agreement were determined by our Board to be fair and reasonable to, and in the best interests of, our shareholders.

On October 23, 2005, a representative of the Significant Shareholder sent a letter to Mr. Barth, among other things, asking that we provide the Private Equity Firm with its requested 45-day period of exclusivity.

On October 25, 2005, senior management of our company and Certified, along with Blair, Foley & Lardner and Certified's legal counsel, met in person in the Milwaukee offices of Foley & Lardner to conduct additional due diligence and to discuss Certified's proposed transaction structure and timing. Since Certified is a cooperative organization, Certified's counsel explained that the actual purchaser of our stock would not be Certified itself, but instead would be a separate affiliated entity formed by members of the Certified cooperative. However, to provide assurance to us that such affiliate would be able to pay the merger consideration, Certified's counsel explained that Certified would guaranty the affiliate's payment obligations. The parties discussed Certified's guaranty of such payment obligations and the terms and conditions of such guaranty. Certified's counsel explained that the funds necessary to consummate the merger would be provided by debt financing being arranged by the Certifresh parties. The merger would not be conditioned on the Certifresh parties obtaining financing.

On October 25, 2005, Mr. Barth responded to the Significant Shareholder's representative's October 23 letter by advising the representative of certain apparent misunderstandings and mischaracterizations contained in the representative's letter, including, particularly, the level of certainty that the representative attributed to the Private Equity Firm's October 12 preliminary non-binding indication of interest. Mr. Barth advised the representative that, while our company could not grant the Private Equity Firm a 45-day period of absolute exclusivity, we had offered the Private Equity Firm an expense reimbursement arrangement and an alternative break-up fee arrangement if the Private Equity Firm would continue to pursue its potential interest in acquiring our company. Mr. Barth further explained to the representative that the Private Equity Firm had declined these arrangements, but he again reiterated to the representative that we remained willing to enter into such arrangements with the Private Equity Firm so that it could initiate its further due diligence and pursuit of potential financing.

On October 25, 2005, the Private Equity Firm's October 12, 2005 preliminary non-binding expression of interest expired.

On October 25, 2005, as a part of management's review and preparation of our third quarter financial statements, our Board's Audit Committee met to further discuss and consider management's preliminary indication that we might need to recognize potential long-lived asset impairment charges for our third quarter, principally as a result of the continued underperformance of three of our corporate retail stores. Since all of our Board members were present at such meeting, our Board also received an update on the ongoing status of discussions with the remaining parties interested in potentially acquiring our company.

On October 27, 2005, representatives of the Strategic Buyer advised Blair that the Strategic Buyer had concluded that there were a number of adverse due diligence findings related to its proposed transaction structure and underlying valuation assumptions that would likely result in a downward price adjustment to its and the Strategic Buyer Partner's then current preliminary non-binding indication of interest level. Blair asked the Strategic Buyer to advise us as soon as possible whether it could be in a position to enter into an acquisition transaction by November 16 and at what price per share.

On October 28, 2005, a senior representative of the Private Equity Firm advised Blair that the Significant Shareholder's October 23 letter to Mr. Barth had, indeed, mischaracterized the relative level of certainty of the Private Equity Firm's October 12, 2005 preliminary non-binding indication of interest, and that the Private Equity Firm was only interested in pursuing its due diligence investigation and potential financing arrangements to support its previously proposed level of preliminary non-binding interest in acquiring our company only if it could do so on an exclusive, non-competitive basis. Blair repeated the offer of expense reimbursement, but the Private Equity Firm declined.

On November 2, 2005, Mr. Barth and the representative of the Significant Shareholder had a telephone conversation in which the representative told Mr. Barth that, although the Private Equity Firm would not go forward in further exploring its preliminary interest in acquiring our company without first obtaining an exclusivity provision, the Private Equity Firm nonetheless remained interested in pursuing its potential purchase of our company on the basis of its previously expired preliminary non-binding indication of interest if we could not complete a transaction with the other interested parties.

On November 4, 2005, a senior representative of the Strategic Buyer telephoned Blair and advised Blair that the Strategic Buyer and the Strategic Buyer Partner were adjusting downward their preliminary non-binding proposed price range to approximately $5.00 per share, and perhaps less, based on various adverse due diligence findings relating to its proposed transaction structure and underlying valuation assumptions.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

Blair advised the Strategic Buyer that its newly proposed price per share would not be acceptable to our shareholders and asked that the Strategic Buyer and the Strategic Buyer Partner strictly maintain the confidentiality of this development.

On November 4, 2005, Foley & Lardner, Blair, Certified's counsel and senior representatives of Certified and our company met at the offices of Blair in Chicago principally to discuss certain terms and conditions of the proposed merger agreement between the companies, as well as key remaining open due diligence issues and the status of Certified's financing to support its ability to finance the proposed transaction without a financing contingency. Certified's counsel explained that the funds necessary to consummate the merger would be provided by debt financing being arranged by the Certifresh parties. The merger would not be conditioned on the Certifresh parties obtaining financing. Thereafter, Foley & Lardner and Certified's counsel further discussed open issues on the merger agreement.

On November 7, 2005, representatives of our company, Certified, Blair, Foley & Lardner and Certified's counsel held a telephonic discussion regarding open due diligence items and remaining merger agreement issues.

On November 7, 2005, our Board was updated by Blair, Foley & Lardner and Mr. Stinebaugh on the foregoing developments and the status of ongoing due diligence and the merger agreement negotiations with Certified, including certain remaining open issues.

On November 10, 2005, representatives of our company, Certified, Blair, Foley & Lardner and Certified's counsel met at the offices of Blair in Chicago principally to discuss several key open issues, including the status of the Certifresh parties' financing commitment and Certified's obligation to pay the merger consideration if Certifresh Holdings fails to do so if and when due in accordance with the merger agreement, certain remaining key open issues in the merger agreement, certain significant due diligence issues and the transaction timetable.

On November 14, 2005, Certified advised us that it was no longer interested in pursuing a potential acquisition of our company after receiving additional due diligence information from us on that date regarding our potential contingent multi-employer pension plan withdrawal liabilities.

On November 15, 2005, after extensive subsequent discussions, Mr. Butera advised Blair that an affiliate of Certified might consider entering into the proposed merger agreement with us by November 16, 2005 under these new circumstances, but only at a reduced price of $6.35 per share. After extensive discussions among Blair, Foley & Lardner, our management and most of our directors, Blair advised Mr. Butera that our Board was not then in a position to consider such a reduced per share price in order to enter into the proposed merger agreement by November 16.

On November 16, 2005, our Board was updated on the foregoing developments by Blair and our management and then discussed various potential alternative actions, including reexploring the potential interest in acquiring our company by the Strategic Buyer and the Private Equity Firm. Our Board also discussed potential alternative actions with respect to Certified. Our Board was advised that the strategic alternatives available to us would largely depend on the reaction of our shareholders, vendors, franchisees and employees to our scheduled next-day public announcement of our $8.9 million of after-tax, long-lived asset impairment charges.

On November 16, 2005, after the close of the market, Mr. Barth telephoned a representative of the Significant Shareholder and advised the representative that we would not be announcing our sale the next day as anticipated. The representative encouraged Mr. Barth to reopen discussions with the Private Equity Firm.

On November 16, 2005, after the close of the market, Blair telephoned a senior representative of the Strategic Buyer and advised the representative that we would not be announcing our sale the next day as anticipated. As a result, Blair asked if the Strategic Buyer would be interested in reconsidering its interest in pursuing a potential acquisition of our company. The representative said that the Strategic Buyer was then preoccupied with other alternatives and was not interested in pursuing a potential acquisition of our company until at least the first quarter of 2006, and then only at a proposed price per share that would not exceed $5.00, and perhaps less.

On November 17, 2005, we publicly announced our third quarter financial results, including $8.9 million of after-tax, non-cash long-lived asset impairment charges and filed our Form 10-Q report for our third quarter.

On November 17 and 18, 2005, additional discussions took place between Blair and Mr. Butera, with Mr. Butera continuing to express Certified's potential interest in acquiring our company at $6.35 per share and Blair advising Mr. Butera that our Board was further considering our alternative strategic options and that our management was otherwise focused on minimizing potential unwarranted reactions to our November 17 announcement.

On November 21, 2005, Blair spoke with a senior representative of the Private Equity Firm regarding its potential interest in reconsidering initiating its due diligence process and pursuing its potential financing in support of its previously expired preliminary non-binding expression of interest. The representative of the Private Equity Firm advised Blair, again, that the Private Equity Firm would still require a 45-day period of absolute exclusivity in order to consider initiating its due diligence investigation and pursuing its potential financing in support of its previously expired preliminary non-binding indication of interest. Blair asked again whether the Private Equity Firm would consider initiating its due diligence investigation and pursuing its potential financing if we agreed to reimburse the Private Equity Firm's expenses incurred in connection with such activities and/or provide it with a break-up fee if we accepted an alternative acquisition proposal from another party. Given the Private Equity Firm's limited personnel resources and strong desire not to engage in a competitive bidding process, the representative again advised Blair that the Private Equity Firm would not move forward under such an expense reimbursement or break-up fee arrangement.

On November 22, 2005, Messrs. Stinebaugh and Butera held several further discussions regarding the potential price per share necessary to effect a potential transaction between the two companies under the then current circumstances. Mr. Butera continued to indicate that Certified could potentially agree to pay a per share price of $6.35. Mr. Stinebaugh reiterated that our Board was not in a position to consider a per share price of less than $7.00. After substantial further discussions between Messrs. Stinebaugh and Butera, Mr. Butera said that Certified could potentially raise its preliminary non-binding indication of interest level to up to $6.70 per share, but that he would not increase Certified's price any further.

Our Board met by telephone late in the afternoon on November 22, 2005 and was updated by Mr. Stinebaugh and Blair on the foregoing discussions. Blair advised our Board on the impact on our sale exploration process and pending sale negotiations of the then continuing decreases in our stock price since our November 17 public announcement of our third quarter results and $8.9 million of after-tax, long-lived asset impairment charges. Since such announcement through such date, our stock price had dropped about 15%, from $6.95 per share to $5.95 per share. Blair also updated our Board on Blair's unsuccessful attempts to reengage the acquisition interest of the Private Equity Firm and the Strategic Buyer. Blair told our Board that the Strategic Buyer was not interested in reconsidering an acquisition of our company until at least the first quarter of 2006 and then not at a price of in excess of $5.00 per share, and perhaps less. Blair also advised our Board of the November 21 discussion with the Private Equity Firm regarding expense reimbursement. Blair advised our Board about the high degree of risk and uncertainty of the Private Equity Firm's previous highly contingent and conditional preliminary non-binding expression of interest, as well as the significant risks involved in not accepting the certainty of Certified's proposal under the circumstances. The Board was reminded that the Private Equity Firm had been exploring the potential opportunity to acquire our company for over seven months and had previously withdrawn from or ceased participating in our sale process several times. Blair advised our Board that, based on Blair's prior significant experience and relationship with the Private Equity Firm, Blair believed that the proposed terms of the Private Equity Firm's previously expired preliminary non-binding level of interest in acquiring our company would very likely be significantly adversely affected, like other interested parties, by its due diligence investigation and pursuit of its supporting financing arrangements. Blair also emphasized the fact that, the low likelihood that our management team would consider a significant reinvestment in our company alongside of the Private Equity Firm and/or commit to a long-term employment relationship would, in itself, very likely result in the Private Equity Firm either not pursuing its potential interest in acquiring our company or substantially decreasing its proposed price. As a result, Blair advised the Board that it believed Certified was the only remaining reasonably likely viable purchaser of our company and that there were substantial risks in further delaying entering into a potential transaction with Certified at a fair price per share and on other fair and reasonable terms and conditions.

Thereafter, after extensive discussions with Certified, in order to provide our shareholders with a price per share of at least $7.00, Messrs. Stinebaugh and Winding both agreed to accept significant decreases to their severance payments under their KEESAs so as to eliminate any excess parachute payment excise tax gross up payments and the loss of the related tax deductions to our company. The total net after-tax transaction cost savings resulting from these actions, as well as other cost savings initiatives, approximated almost $1.7 million, or $0.34 per share.

On the basis and subject to the Certifresh parties' confirmation of these proposed additional significant reductions in after-tax net transaction costs resulting from these actions, on November 29, 2005, the Certifresh parties agreed to pay our shareholders $7.05 per share in connection with the proposed merger with an affiliate of Certified.

Between November 29, 2005 and December 5, 2005, final confirmatory due diligence was completed by Certified and final negotiations on the merger agreement and ancillary documents were completed between us and Certified and our and their respective legal counsel.

On December 4, 2005, the respective boards of directors of Certified and its related affiliated entities approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

In the afternoon of December 5, 2005, our Board met to consider the proposed merger of an affiliate of Certified with and into our company in exchange for $7.05 per share in cash to be paid to our shareholders, with such payment guaranteed by Certified. Including certain debt and other liabilities assumed, the total value of the proposed transaction with the Certifresh parties was approximately $100 million. Closing of the proposed transaction was subject to approval by our shareholders and certain other customary closing conditions, but there was no financing contingency and no regulatory approval under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act is required. It was explained to our Board by both Blair and Foley & Lardner that the break-up fee (inclusive of expenses) potentially payable to Certifresh Holdings, if we agreed to be sold to another buyer after announcement of the proposed transaction with the Certifresh parties, was reasonable and favorable compared to comparable transactions and would likely not preclude another potentially interested buyer from providing a superior proposal to acquire our company, including, in particular, any subsequent superior proposal that might be subsequently made by either or both of the Strategic Buyer and/or the Private Equity Firm. Moreover, it was explained to our Board that, subject to obtaining our shareholder's approval, the certainty of closing the transaction with the Certifresh parties was relatively high because of the importance of the merger to the Certifresh parties and their familiarity with our company and our markets. Our Board received further advice on its fiduciary duties and other legal considerations and requirements from Foley & Lardner, including a detailed description of the principal terms and conditions of the proposed merger agreement, guaranty and the revised KEESA and employment and severance arrangements. Blair also provided our Board with its analysis of the proposed financial aspects of the transaction, a process overview, information on the trading history and ownership of our common stock, information on our financial performance, information on our asset impairment history, information on our future contingent potential multi-employer pension plan withdrawal liabilities and a valuation analysis. In connection with its analysis in forming its opinion, Blair performed a comparable company analysis, a comparable transaction analysis, a discounted cash flow analysis and an M&A premiums analysis. Thereafter, Blair rendered its oral opinion to our Board, subsequently confirmed in writing, that as of such date, based on the assumptions, limitations, and qualifications described therein, the proposed per share merger price of $7.05 was fair, from a financial point of view, to our shareholders. After further deliberation, our Board unanimously adopted and approved the proposed merger as being fair to, and in the best interests of, our shareholders and recommended that, subject to the terms of the merger agreement, the merger be approved by our shareholders.

Following adjournment of the Board meeting, final details were resolved and the merger agreement and related documents were signed by our company, the applicable Certifresh parties, and all other relevant parties. The proposed transaction was publicly announced prior to the opening of trading on December 6, 2005 in a press release issued by us.

Subsequent to our public announcement of the merger, and after a telephone discussion between Mr. Barth and a representative of the Significant Shareholder during which Mr. Barth explained our reasons for entering into the transaction with the Certifresh parties, legal counsel for the Significant Shareholder wrote a letter on December 6, 2005 to Mr. Barth alleging that the Significant Shareholder had been damaged because our Board had accepted a $7.05 per share offer from the Certifresh parties. The letter stated that the Significant Shareholder did not believe that both the offer from the Certifresh parties and our procedure for our sale were in the best interests of our shareholders.

On December 6, 2005, the Significant Shareholder filed an Amendment No. 1 to its Schedule 13D stating, in part, that it may contact other shareholders or take other steps in opposition to the proposed transaction.

On December 8, 2005, Mr. Barth wrote a letter to the Significant Shareholder's legal counsel advising that we had engaged in an extensive, six-month long sale process, led by one of the grocery industry's leading expert investment banking firms, Blair. The letter said that we believed all reasonably likely qualified buyers were contacted as part of this process and that the Significant Shareholder and the Private Equity Firm were integral participants in this multi-party process. The letter explained that all preliminary non-binding indications of interest that were received, including the several preliminary non-binding indications of interest that were received from the Private Equity Firm, were carefully and thoroughly analyzed by and on behalf of our Board and its advisors and that our shareholders' interests were very well served by this deliberative and thorough process.

On January 24, 2006, counsel for the Significant Shareholder wrote Mr. Barth a letter, attaching a draft complaint, in which the Significant Shareholder stated its intention to file litigation against us and the Certifresh parties, including potentially seeking to enjoin the proposed merger, unless the parties could otherwise reach settlement within seven calendar days. The correspondence alleged, among other things, violations of the federal securities laws and Wisconsin statutes and breaches of our board of directors' fiduciary duty to our shareholders. We believe the allegations contained in the Significant Shareholder's correspondence are without merit, and, in the event the Significant Shareholder commences litigation regarding these matters, we intend to vigorously defend against any such claims.

Our Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of Our Board

In reaching its decision to adopt and approve the merger agreement and recommend the merger to our shareholders, our Board consulted with our management, as well as its legal and financial advisors, and considered a number of factors, including the following factors which our Board viewed as generally supporting its decision to adopt and approve the merger agreement and recommend the merger to our shareholders:

The fact that the proposed transaction with Certified was the result of a very active and lengthy sale exploration process over the prior six months led by one of the grocery industry's leading investment banking firms, Blair; and that, as part of this deliberative process, all reasonably likely and viable purchasers, based on Blair's advice, were contacted.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

The presentation by Blair, including its opinion dated December 5, 2005 to our Board as to the fairness, from a financial point of view as of such date and subject to the assumptions, limitations, qualifications and other matters set forth therein, of the merger price of $7.05 per share payable to our shareholders. See THE MERGER Opinion of Our Financial Advisor. Additionally, the merger price per share of $7.05 was determined by our Board to be generally favorable compared to the current trading prices of our common stock, including particularly our stock price after our November 17 impairment announcement up through the date of Board approval of the transaction. Since November 17 until December 5, our stock price dropped over 20%, from $6.95 to $5.51 per share. The merger price per share was also deemed by our Board, based on the advice of Blair and our management, to be favorable compared to the expected potential near-term and long-term price performance prospects of our stock when considering our anticipated future results of operations and financial condition and the significant risks and uncertainties associated with achieving such potential future results and conditions. Additionally, our Board took into account the agreements of Messrs. Winding, Stinebaugh and Dahly to voluntarily reduce their KEESA severance payments, which actions our Board believed added significant value to the price per share payable by Certified.

The fact that the terms of the merger agreement were the result of extensive negotiations over a number of months with the Certifresh parties that resulting in our Board believing, based on the advice of its financial and legal advisors, that no further improvements in such terms could be obtained from the Certifresh parties.

Subject to obtaining our shareholders' approval, the proposed transaction with the Certifresh parties was believed by our Board, based on the advice of its financial and legal advisors, to have a relatively high probability of closing, principally as a result of there being no financing contingency and no regulatory approval under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act being required, the fact that the Certifresh parties had a commitment letter from a syndicate lead by JPMorganChase to provide, subject to customary conditions, the funds necessary to finance the transaction, the fact that the Certifresh parties had engaged in substantial due diligence investigations of our company over a number of months and was otherwise very familiar with our operations, stores, and markets and our Board's belief, based on the advice of Blair and our management, that this transaction was an important one for Certified's future.

Our Board believed, based on the advice of its financial and legal advisors, that the proposed merger with an affiliate of Certified was superior to any other potentially available alternatives, including remaining independent, which would otherwise maximize shareholder value. In this regard, the Board took into account, based on the advice of its financial and legal advisors as well as our management, that there existed many various risks, contingencies and conditions applicable to any such other potential alternatives, including remaining independent. Additionally, our Board considered that, although some other parties did express preliminary non-binding levels of interest in acquiring our company, including some at initial prices higher than $7.05 per share, none of those other preliminary indications of interest remained at that price level after their due diligence investigation and pursuit of supporting financing were completed. In the specific case of the Private Equity Firm, our Board did not believe, based on the advice of its financial and legal advisors as well as on our Board's knowledge of the Private Equity Firm's seven-month long participation in, and three prior withdrawals from, our sale process, that the Private Equity Firm proposed $8.00 per share level of preliminary interest would have remained at that price level after the Private Equity Firm's completed its due diligence, including understanding that our management would likely not reinvest in our company or agree to long-term employment relationships, and the Private Equity Firm's pursuit of its proposed potential complicated supporting financing structure. Blair explained to our Board that our management's desire not to significantly reinvest in our company or commit to a long-term employment relationship with our company made our company's prospective purchase by the Private Equity Firm, or any other private equity buyer, highly unlikely. Importantly, in this regard, our Board took into account that other potentially interested parties, including the Private Equity Firm, the Strategic Buyer and the other parties that previously expressed a preliminary level of interest in acquiring our company, were not precluded by the merger agreement from providing a topping offer to us after the announcement of our merger with an affiliate of Certified and before the closing of the merger. Based on the advice of its financial and legal advisors, our Board believed that the all-inclusive approximate $1.7 million break-up fee (approximately $0.35 per share) was very reasonable and favorable compared to other comparable transactions and was not preclusive of potential subsequent topping offers.

Based on the advice of our management and our Board's financial and legal advisors, our Board determined that we likely could not successfully either separate or spin off one of our wholesale, corporate retail or franchise store operations, or significantly reduce certain overhead costs and/or close multiple stores or distribution centers as an independent public company, other than in connection with a sale to a new organization. In this regard, our Board considered that, based on the advice of our management, a significant cost-cutting initiative could have a negative adverse affect on our full-service franchise program and it could adversely impact the primary business driver of our historical success. Moreover, our Board took into account that, based on the advice of its financial advisors and our management, our ability to close multiple underperforming stores as an independent public company was severely limited by our balance sheet constraints, the potential for adverse reaction by vendors, franchisees, employees, shareholders and others, the lingering long-term adverse earnings impact of incurring repositioning charges to effect such a plan, and other factors, including the significant inherent cultural constraints on our effecting such a plan as an independent public company.

In considering the proposed merger with an affiliate of Certified, our Board also considered its knowledge of our current and historical financial condition, results of operations, business and prospects, including particularly the conclusion of our Board, based on the advice of our management and our Board's financial and legal advisors, that our future business prospects appeared limited, given our current relatively small size, limited growth opportunities, lack of economies of scale and limited buying power. Our Board also considered that the adverse impacts of the underperformance of one or a few of our stores have historically had, and would likely continue to have, a disproportionately significant adverse impact on our consolidated reported results and make it difficult for us to publicly report future consistent and significant earnings growth. The Board noted that these underperforming stores are subject to significant lease liabilities and have limited alternative uses, making their closure or disposition difficult to implement as an independent public company.

Our Board considered the ongoing concerns of our management over the continuing potential for unwarranted market and other reactions of vendors, franchisees, employees, potential new wholesale customers and others to our significant third quarter impairment charges. Our Board took into account the 20% decrease in our stock price since that announcement up to December 5, 2005, and was also advised by our management that, while we had not then to date experienced any material adverse changes in our vendor relationships since such announcement, our management remained concerned about the continuing prospects for further potential adverse changes in our vendor credit relationships because the vendor community in our industry has been very cautious because of recent bankruptcy filings by other industry participants. Additionally, our Board was reminded by our management and took into account that our impairment announcement in early 2004 resulted in less favorable credit terms from some of our vendors, and that such vendors continued to keep a close watch on our financial performance and health, making their potential future actions with respect to our credit terms uncertain.

Based on the advice of its financial advisors and our management, our Board took into account the future potential impact on our company of the expectations of continued industry consolidation. In this regard, our Board noted Marsh Supermarkets' recent announcement that it was exploring a potential sale, as well as Spartan Stores' recent 10-month long unsuccessful sale exploration process and the similar process then being undertaken by Albertson's.

Based on the advice of its financial advisors and our management, our Board considered the adverse impact on our potential future prospects for improved profitability, especially in our corporate retail stores, and the constraints on our ability to pursue other strategic activities or alternative business models as an independent public company, from our labor cost structure and labor-related liabilities, including particularly the significant potential future contingent withdrawal liabilities from our multi-employer pension plans. Our Board was advised by our management that these potential future contingent liabilities have increased significantly over the past two years, largely because of the withdrawal from such multi-employer plans of other significant contributors, that such potential future contingent liabilities could continue to increase, and that such liabilities were important factors in potentially interested parties' valuation of our company. Our Board was advised by its financial and legal advisors and our management that, unlike our company, which did not foresee triggering these potential future contingent liabilities, potentially interested acquirers generally would consider these potential future contingent liabilities as debt and would reduce the per share price they would be willing to pay to our shareholders.

Our Board believed that, based on its knowledge of our financial condition and the advice of our management and our Board's financial advisor, we have limited financial resources to build new or remodel existing stores and provide the necessary credit enhancements to significantly increase our franchisee base or adequately react to adverse disclosures or events. Our Board noted that, based on its knowledge of our financial condition and the advice of our management and our Board's financial advisor, our capital structure is constrained and complicated by significant amounts of capital and operating leases and franchisee guarantees, which significantly limit our borrowing power and our equity valuation and restrict our access to other sources of capital and our ability to pursue alternative strategies and business models.

Based on the advice of its financial advisor and our management, our Board considered the increasingly difficult competitive conditions affecting our stores, particularly in our principal rural and small-town markets. In particular, our Board took into account its independent consultant's report that WalMart Supercenter's market share growth in our markets is expected to increase, which will likely adversely impact our future financial results. Additionally, our management advised our Board that future potential competitive reactions to the recent success of our value proposition operating strategy may be aggressive and continued volume increases will likely be difficult to sustain over the long-term.

Our Board believed that the ongoing and increasing costs, distractions, disadvantages and risks of remaining a public company significantly outweighed any potential perceived benefits, particularly in view of the increased regulatory, corporate governance, accounting and public disclosure requirements precipitated by the Sarbanes Oxley Act of 2002 and related Securities and Exchange Commission, Public Company Accounting Oversight Board and Nasdaq requirements. In this regard, our Board considered that we spent about $1.7 million last year on public company-related costs.

Our Board was advised by our management about the increasing age and lack of succession plans, and because of our financial constraints, the consequential risk to us of not being able to retain the business, of certain of our key franchisees.

Our management advised our Board and, consequentially, our Board considered that we have limited future growth opportunities in Wisconsin and that, without being part of a new organization, obtaining new wholesale customers in the future would likely be very difficult, especially after our recent impairment charge. Moreover, our Board noted that our Sheboygan warehouse on the shores of Lake Michigan geographically limits our wholesale customer growth potential.

Our management advised our Board and, consequentially, our Board considered that we have information technology systems that likely will require very significant and costly upgrades.

Our Board took into account certain concerns about our management succession prospects and plans.

Our Board also believed that, based on the advice of our management, the proposed merger with an affiliate of Certified would likely allow us to more effectively implement our long-term plan to grow our business, meet our cost challenges and deliver lower cost products to our customers. In this regard, our Board believed that, based on the advice of our management, the proposed merger should allow us to provide our franchisees and retail customers with an even more effective value proposition operating strategy to make our stores even more competitive and attractive to our retail customers. Based on the advice of our management, our Board believed that the proposed merger should also position us to actively grow and continue to support our franchise base and wholesale business, as well as allow us to be in a better position to help facilitate the succession plans of some of our key franchisees so that we can ensure retention of their business. Our Board also believed that the proposed merger would provide many opportunities for our employees.

In addition, our Board considered the following factors as generally weighing against its decision to adopt and approve the merger agreement and recommend the merger to our shareholders:

Our Board took into account that the structure of the proposed long-form merger and the terms of the merger agreement, including the merger agreement's non-solicitation and shareholder approval covenants and provision for the payment of an all-inclusive termination fee of approximately $1.7 million in certain events, which our Board understood, while potentially having the effect of discouraging third parties from proposing a competing business transaction after the merger agreement was signed, were conditions to the Certifresh parties' willingness to enter into the merger agreement and related documents; in this regard, our Board considered the advice of its financial and legal advisors that such arrangements contained in a definitive and binding merger agreement among the parties were customary for public company merger transactions and that these provisions, including the relative amount of the termination fee (which was all inclusive of the Certifresh parties' expenses), were consistent with law and the proper exercise of the Board's fiduciary duties and were favorable compared to comparable transactions and should not preclude potentially superior acquisition proposals from subsequently being made by interested parties if they so desired.

Our Board considered the potential risk of diverting management's focus and resources away from other strategic opportunities and from operational matters while working to implement the proposed merger; our Board believed that, in view of the terms of the merger agreement that had been heavily negotiated, including the limited conditions to closing and termination rights, and the absence of a financing contingency and our understanding of the ability of the Certifresh parties to finance the transaction without a financing contingency, and the relative importance of this transaction to the Certifresh parties, these risks were reasonable and likely to be worthwhile to undertake.

The fact that the all-cash merger price per share, while providing certainty of value, would not allow our shareholders to participate in any potential further appreciation of our stock after the merger and would be taxable to our shareholders upon completion of the merger and payment to the merger price per share.

Our Board took into account the fact that some of our executive officers and directors have other interests in the proposed merger that are in addition to their interests as our shareholders, including as a result of employment and severance arrangements and the manner in which they would be affected by the merger. See THE MERGER Interests of Our Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger. In this regard, our Board took into account the significant personal reductions voluntarily agreed to by Messrs. Winding, Stinebaugh and Dahly that saved our company approximately $2.7 million in net after tax transaction costs and allowed the Certifresh parties to substantially increase the per share price payable to our shareholders in the merger. As a result, our Board concluded that the proposed merger should be approved notwithstanding the existence of these interests, given both our Board's favorable view of the proposed merger's financial terms, as well as our Board's belief that the employment and severance arrangements giving rise to these interests were reasonable and helped to facilitate the payment of a higher purchase price to our shareholders than the Certifresh parties otherwise was willing to pay to our shareholders.

The foregoing discussion of the factors considered by our Board is not intended to be exhaustive and is in no order of relative importance or priority, but, rather, includes the material factors considered by our Board. In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, our Board did not quantify or assign any relative priorities or weights to the factors considered, and individual directors may have given different weights to different factors. Our Board considered all these factors as a whole, including discussions with, and questioning of, our management and our Board's financial and legal advisors, and overall considered these factors to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

Our Board unanimously determined that the merger, the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are fair to, and in the best interests of, our company and our shareholders, and unanimously approved and adopted the merger agreement. Our Board recommends that, subject to the terms of the merger agreement, our shareholders vote FOR the approval of the merger agreement.

Opinion of Our Financial Advisor

Blair was retained to act as our Board's financial advisor in connection with the proposed merger with Certifresh's affiliate. As part of its engagement, our Board requested Blair to render an opinion as to whether the consideration to be received by our shareholders in the proposed transaction was fair to our shareholders from a financial point of view. On December 5, 2005, Blair delivered its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to the assumptions, limitations, qualifications and other matters set forth in the opinion, the cash consideration of $7.05 per share to be paid in the merger to our shareholders is fair, from a financial point of view, to our shareholders.

Blair provided the opinion described above for the information and assistance of our Board in connection with its consideration of the merger. Blair's opinion to our Board was one of many factors taken into consideration by our Board in making its determination to approve the merger agreement. The terms of the merger agreement, however, were determined through negotiations between us and the Certifresh parties, and were approved by our Board after careful consideration.

The full text of Blair's written opinion, dated December 5, 2005, is attached as Appendix B to this proxy statement and incorporated into this proxy statement by reference. You are urged to read the entire opinion carefully to learn about the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken by Blair in rendering its opinion. Blair's opinion relates only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to our shareholders of the consideration to be received in the proposed merger, does not address any other aspect of the proposed merger or any related transaction, and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how that shareholder should vote with respect to the approval of the merger agreement or the merger. Blair did not address the merits of the underlying decision by our Board to engage in the merger. The following summary of Blair's opinion does not purport to be a complete description of the analysis performed by Blair in connection with such opinion and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the written opinion of Blair attached to this proxy statement as Appendix B. Blair's opinion was directed to our Board for its benefit and use in evaluating the fairness of the merger consideration to be paid to our shareholders. We urge you to read the opinion carefully and in its entirety.

In connection with rendering its opinion and performing its related financial analyses, Blair examined or discussed:

our report on Form 10-K for the year ended January 1, 2005;

our reports on Form 10-Q for the periods ended April 23, 2005, July 16, 2005, and October 8, 2005;

certain of our internal business, operating and financial information and forecasts prepared by our senior management (the "Forecasts");

our bank loan covenant compliance schedule prepared by our senior management; certain information related to our potential multi-employer pension and health and welfare withdrawal liabilities provided by our senior management;

financial and stock market information regarding selected public companies Blair deemed relevant; information regarding publicly available financial terms of certain other business combinations Blair deemed relevant;

a draft guaranty pursuant to which Certified will guaranty the obligations of Certifresh Holdings to pay the merger consideration; and certain other of our publicly available information Blair deemed relevant.

Blair also held discussions with members of our senior management to discuss the foregoing and to discuss our current strategic and financial position, including our management's views of the risks associated with not pursuing the transaction contemplated by the merger agreement. Blair considered other matters which it deemed relevant to its inquiry and took into account such accepted financial and investment banking procedures and considerations as it deemed relevant. In connection with Blair's engagement, Blair was requested to approach, and held discussions with, third parties to solicit indications of interest in a possible acquisition of our company.

In rendering its opinion, Blair assumed and relied upon, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of all the information examined by or otherwise reviewed or discussed with Blair for purposes of its opinion, including, without limitation, the Forecasts provided by our senior management. Blair did not make or obtain an independent valuation or appraisal of the assets, liabilities or solvency of our company. Blair was advised by our senior management that the Forecasts were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of our senior management. In that regard, Blair assumed, with the consent of our Board, that (i) the Forecasts would be achieved and (ii) all of our material assets and liabilities (contingent or otherwise) were as disclosed in our financial statements or other information made available to Blair. Blair expressed no opinion with respect to the Forecasts or the estimates and judgments on which they were based.

Blair's opinion did not address the merits of the underlying decision by our Board to engage in the merger, and the opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote with respect to the proposed merger. Blair's opinion was based upon economic, market, financial and other conditions existing on, and other information disclosed to Blair as of, the date of such opinion. Although subsequent developments may affect its opinion, Blair does not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm its opinion. Blair relied as to all legal matters on advice of our legal counsel, and assumed that the merger would be consummated on the terms described in the draft merger agreement, without any waiver of any material terms or conditions by us.

The following is a summary of the material financial analyses performed and material factors considered by Blair to arrive at its opinion. Blair performed certain procedures, including each of the financial analyses described below, and reviewed with our Board the assumptions upon which such analyses were based, as well as other factors. Although the summary does not purport to describe all of the analyses performed or factors considered by Blair in this regard, it does discuss those considered by Blair to be material in arriving at its opinion.

Selected Public Company Analysis. Blair reviewed and compared certain financial information for us to corresponding financial information, ratios and public market multiples for certain publicly traded companies with regional supermarket and wholesale food distribution operations that Blair deemed relevant. The comparable companies selected by Blair were Ingles Markets, Inc.; Marsh Supermarkets, Inc.; Nash Finch & Co.; Pathmark Stores, Inc.; and Spartan Stores, Inc. Blair selected these companies because they are the publicly traded companies that engage in businesses reasonably comparable to our business. Blair also considered the following companies, but excluded them due to their size of operation and other company-specific factors: The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., Inc.; Supervalu, Inc.; and Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc.

Among the information Blair considered were revenue; earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (commonly referred to as EBITDA); and earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization and rent (commonly referred to as EBITDAR). Blair considered the enterprise value as a multiple of revenue and EBITDA for each company for the last 12 months for which results were publicly available (commonly referred to as LTM), and the adjusted enterprise value as a multiple of EBITDAR for the LTM. The operating results and the corresponding derived multiples for us and each of the selected companies were based on each company's most recent available publicly disclosed financial information and closing share prices as of December 1, 2005. In our case, the most recent available publicly disclosed financial information was for the quarter ending October 8, 2005.

In December 2003, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued revised Interpretation No. 46 (commonly referred to as FIN 46), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities—an interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51. FIN 46 is intended to clarify the application of the majority voting interest requirement of ARB No. 51, Consolidated Financial Statements, to certain entities in which the equity investors do not have the characteristics of a controlling financial interest or do not have sufficient equity at risk for the entity to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support from other parties. These entities are deemed to be variable interest entities (commonly referred to as VIEs) under FIN 46. The controlling financial interest in a VIE may be achieved through arrangements that do not involve voting interests.

In the past, we have provided credit enhancements to certain of our franchisees in the form of lease and sublease arrangements and loan guarantees. As a result, we completed an evaluation of the financial arrangements with our franchisees and concluded that we are required to consolidate certain of these franchisees, primarily as a result of our loan guarantees to these entities. We adopted the requirement to consolidate these entities as of January 4, 2004. As of October 8, 2005, there were 20 franchise entities, which own 22 stores, that we consolidated under FIN 46 (commonly referred to as FIN 46 entities).

The implied enterprise value of our company for purposes of this analysis was based on the equity value implied by the per share merger price plus the total debt (including net capital leases, adjusted revolving credit agreement balances, long-term notes payable and debt associated with FIN 46 entities), plus the minority interest of FIN 46 entities, less any excess cash and cash equivalents assumed to be included in the merger. The implied adjusted enterprise value of our company for purposes of this analysis was based on the implied enterprise value plus the debt equivalent of our operating leases. The debt equivalent of our operating leases was estimated at eight times annual net rent expense. In each case, when calculating our implied enterprise value and implied adjusted enterprise value multiples, Blair excluded the amounts of revenue, EBITDA, and EBITDAR attributable to our FIN 46 entities because, even though we report such FIN 46 earnings as part of our consolidated results, such revenues, earnings and related FIN 46 cash flows benefit third party entities and owners.

Blair then compared our implied transaction multiples to the range of trading multiples for the selected companies. Information regarding the multiples from Blair's analysis of selected publicly traded companies is set forth in the following table.

	Our Implied Transaction Multiple	Selected Public Company Valuation Multiples
		Min	Mean	Median	Max
Enterprise Value / LTM October 2005 Revenue Ex FIN 46	0.16x	0.15x	0.25x	0.18x	0.45x
Enterprise Value / LTM October 2005 EBITDA Ex FIN 46	5.9x	5.1x	6.9x	6.7x	8.4x
Adjusted Enterprise Value / LTM October 2005 EBITDAR Ex FIN 46	7.0x	6.3x	7.2x	7.0x	8.3x

Blair noted that our implied transaction multiples based on the per share merger price were within the range of multiples of the selected public companies.

Although Blair compared the trading multiples of the selected companies at the date of its opinion to our company, none of the selected companies is identical to us. Accordingly, any analysis of the selected publicly traded companies necessarily involved complex considerations and judgments concerning the differences in financial and operating characteristics and other factors that would necessarily affect the analysis of trading multiples of the selected publicly traded companies.

Comparable Transactions Analysis. Blair performed an analysis of selected recent business combinations consisting of recently completed transactions focused on the regional supermarket and wholesale food distribution markets. Blair's analysis was based on publicly available and proprietary information for three transactions. The selected transactions were not intended to be representative of the entire range of possible transactions in the respective industries. The three transactions examined were (target/acquirer):

Minyard Food Stores, Inc./Texas Acquisition Vehicle II, LLC

Shaw's (J Sainsbury PLC)/Albertson's, Inc.

BiLo/Bruno's/Lone Star Funds

Blair reviewed the consideration paid in the selected transactions in terms of the enterprise value of the target in such transactions as a multiple of revenue and EBITDA of the target, and the adjusted enterprise value of the target as a multiple of EBITDAR of the target for the LTM prior to the announcement of these transactions. Blair compared the resulting range of transaction multiples of revenue, EBITDA, and EBITDAR for the selected transactions to our implied transaction multiples based on the per share merger price. For certain of the transactions, Blair took into account its knowledge of the implied multiples for transactions with undisclosed price and/or financial results.

Information regarding the multiples from Blair's analysis of selected transactions is set forth in the following table:

	Our Implied Transaction Multiple	Selected Comparable Transaction Valuation Multiples
		Min	Mean	Median	Max
Enterprise Value / LTM October 2005 Revenue Ex FIN 46	0.16x	0.09x	0.30x	0.26x	0.57x
Enterprise Value / LTM October 2005 EBITDA Ex FIN 46	5.9x	5.5x	6.9x	6.2x	10.2x
Adjusted Enterprise Value / LTM October 2005 EBITDAR Ex FIN 46	7.0x	5.3x 33	5.3x	5.3x	5.3x

Blair noted that our implied transaction multiples based on the per share merger price were within and, in one instance above, the range of multiples of the selected transactions.

Although Blair analyzed the multiples implied by the selected transactions and compared them to our implied transaction multiples based on the per share merger price, none of these transactions or associated companies is identical to the merger or to our company. Accordingly, any analysis of the selected transactions necessarily involved complex considerations and judgments concerning the differences in financial and operating characteristics, parties involved and terms of their transactions and other factors that would necessarily affect our implied value versus the values of the companies in the selected transactions.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. The discounted cash flow methodology is most appropriate for companies that exhibit relatively steady or somewhat predictable streams of future cash flow. For a company with limited intermediate and long-term cash flow visibility, the preponderance of the value can be in the terminal value, which is extremely sensitive to assumptions about the sustainable long-term growth of the company. Blair took the foregoing limitation into account in using this discounted cash flow methodology in the context of its overall analysis of the merger.

Blair utilized the Forecasts to perform a discounted cash flow analysis of our projected future cash flows for the period commencing January 1, 2006 and ending December 31, 2010. Using the discounted cash flow methodology, Blair calculated the present values of our projected free cash flows. In this analysis, Blair calculated terminal values (i) assuming exit multiples ranging from 5.0x to 6.0x our projected 2010 EBITDA and (ii) assuming growth rates in perpetuity of free cash flow beyond 2010 of 0.5% to 1.5%. Blair used discount rates ranging from 12.0% to 16.0%. Blair selected the terminal value inputs range based on Blair's review of factors projected to be relevant at the time of the exit, including, among other matters, the trading multiples of certain comparable companies, the transaction multiples of certain comparable transactions and certain industry growth rates. Blair determined the appropriate discount rate range based upon an analysis of our weighted average cost of capital and other comparable companies that Blair deemed relevant in its expertise and judgment, as well as our high company-specific risk. Blair aggregated (i) the present value of the free cash flows over the applicable forecast period with (ii) the present value of the range of terminal values. The aggregate present value of these items represented our enterprise value range. Our equity value was determined by deducting the sum of total debt, plus minority interest, less any cash and cash equivalents assumed to be included in the merger. Blair calculated our implied per share equity value range by dividing the resulting equity values by the fully diluted share count. The implied transaction per share equity values implied by the discounted cash flow analysis using EBITDA exit multiples ranged from $6.10 per share to $12.11 per share. The implied transaction per share equity values implied by the discounted cash flow analysis using perpetuity growth rates ranged from $3.67 per share to $11.95 per share. Blair also noted that these valuation ranges excluded the effects of potential contingent multi-employer pension plan withdrawal liabilities.

Premiums Paid Analysis. Blair reviewed data from 217 publicly available transactions occurring since January 1, 2003 and with enterprise values between $50 million and $200 million in which 50% or greater of the target was acquired. Specifically, Blair analyzed the per share acquisition price as a premium to the closing respective share price one day, one week and one month prior to the announcement of the transaction, for all 217 transactions and for a subgroup of those transactions that were cash transactions. Blair compared the resulting stock price premiums for the reviewed transactions to the premiums implied by the merger based on our respective stock prices one day, one week and one month prior to an assumed announcement on December 2, 2005. On November 17, 2005, 15 days prior to the announcement of the merger, we disclosed an $8.9 million after-tax long-lived asset impairment charge for the quarter ended October 8, 2005. Information regarding the premiums from Blair's analysis of selected transactions is provided in the following tables:

Premium Period	Our Implied Per Share Premium	Cash Deals				All Transactions
		Minimum	30%	50%	80%	Minimum	30%	50%	80%
1 Day Prior	19.3%	-55.1%	13.3%	24.8%	47.2%	-55.1%	14.0%	24.8%	47.1%
1 Week Prior	17.1%	-55.1%	15.6%	23.8%	51.9%	-55.1%	15.4%	24.5%	53.5%
1 Month Prior	-3.4%	-59.7%	20.2%	29.8%	51.7%	-59.7%	17.9%	29.9%	59.2%

Blair noted that the one-day and one-week premiums implied by the merger were between the 30th and 50th percentile of premiums paid in the referenced transaction group. Blair noted that the proposed merger price was a discount to our stock price one month before the announcement of the merger, but that such base price was prior to our November 17 impairment charge announcement.

General. The preparation of an opinion regarding fairness is a complex analytic process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances and, therefore, such an opinion is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. The preparation of a fairness opinion does not involve a mathematical evaluation or weighing of the results of the individual analyses performed, but requires Blair to exercise its professional judgment, based on its experience and expertise, in considering a wide variety of analyses taken as a whole. Each of the analyses conducted by Blair was carried out in order to provide a different perspective on the financial terms of the proposed merger and add to the total mix of information made available to our Board. Blair did not form a conclusion as to whether any individual analysis, considered in isolation, supported or failed to support an opinion about the fairness of the consideration to be received by our shareholders. Rather, in reaching its conclusion, Blair considered the results of the analyses in light of each other and ultimately reached its opinion based on the results of all analyses taken as a whole. Blair did not place particular reliance or weight on any particular analysis, but instead concluded its analyses, taken as a whole, supported its determination. Accordingly, notwithstanding the separate factors summarized above, Blair believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and the factors considered by it, without considering all analyses and factors, may create an incomplete view of the evaluation process underlying its opinion. No company or transaction used in the above analyses as a comparison is directly comparable to our company or the merger. In performing its analyses, Blair made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, business and economic conditions and other matters. The analyses performed by Blair are not necessarily indicative of future actual values and future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses.

Blair is a nationally recognized securities firm and, as part of its investment banking activities, is regularly engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with merger transactions and other types of strategic combinations and acquisitions. Blair is familiar with us, having provided certain investment banking services to our Board during 2005. Specifically, Blair was engaged by our Board to perform a strategic options analysis in May 2005 for which Blair received a separate fee from us as described below. Blair had not previously provided any investment banking or financial advisory services to us during the prior three years. Furthermore, in the ordinary course of its business, Blair and its affiliates may beneficially own or actively trade common shares and other securities of ours for its own account and for the accounts of customers, and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in these securities.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

Our Board hired Blair based, among other things, on its qualifications and expertise in providing financial advice to companies in our industry and its reputation as a nationally recognized investment banking firm. In making this decision, our Board considered Blair's perceived preeminent experience and expertise in successfully completing strategic transactions in the food distribution and retail industry, its first-hand knowledge and close professional relationships with senior executives at a number of companies in our industry that were believed could potentially be interested in a strategic relationship with us and its outstanding individual team leader and participants. Pursuant to a letter agreement dated April 26, 2005, for its strategic options analysis, Blair was paid a $100,000 fee upon execution of the letter agreement and $100,000 on May 23, 2005. We further agreed to pay Blair an incremental $200,000 fee upon delivery of a fairness opinion. In addition, under the terms of the April 26, 2005 letter agreement, Blair will be entitled to an additional fee of $1,500,000, inclusive of expenses, upon consummation of the merger. In addition, we also agreed to indemnify Blair against certain potential losses and expenses, including liabilities which may be incurred under the federal securities laws, arising out of its engagement.

Interests of Our Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger

In considering the recommendations of our Board, you should be aware that certain of our executive officers and directors have interests in the transaction that are different from, or are in addition to, the interests of our shareholders generally. Our Board was aware of these potential or actual conflicts of interest and considered them along with other matters when our Board determined to recommend the merger. See THE MERGER Background of the Merger.

Merger Consideration to be Received by Our Directors and Executive Officers

If the merger is completed, each shareholder will be entitled to receive $7.05 in cash, without interest, for each share of our common stock owned by such shareholder. As of January 1, 2006, all of our directors and named executive officers other than Mr. Dahly owned shares of our common stock. See SECURITY OWNERSHIP OF CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS. In addition, all outstanding options to acquire shares of our common stock will be canceled immediately prior to the effective time of the merger in exchange for nominal consideration pursuant to option cancellation agreements between us and each individual option holder. See THE MERGER AGREEMENT Treatment of Stock Options. As of January 1, 2006, each of our directors and named executive officers other than Mr. Barth owned options to acquire shares of our common stock and would receive an additional $100 payment in exchange for cancellation of his options. Based on their respective ownership of shares of our common stock and options to acquire shares of our common stock as of January 1, 2006, the following table reflects the total cash that our directors and named executive officers would receive as a result of the merger consideration, including consideration payable pursuant to option cancellation agreements:

Name	Position	Total Merger Consideration
Louis E. Stinebaugh	President, Chief Operating Officer and Director	$35,350
John H. Dahly	Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer, Secretary and Treasurer	$100
Jonathan B. Hoenecke	Vice President of Finance	$17,725
Walter G. Winding, III	Chairman of the Board	$80,026
Thomas M. Stemlar	Director	$20,574
Steven R. Barth	Director	$48,469
William E. May, Jr	Director	$6,474
R. Bruce Grover	Director	$63,861

Employment Agreements

Upon the completion of the merger, all employment agreements for Mr. Stinebaugh and Mr. Dahly with us will become effective. Either the executive or we may terminate the executive's employment for any reason upon 30 days advance notice.

KEESA with Mr. Hoenecke

Upon the completion of the merger, the existing KEESA with Mr. Hoenecke (as well as three other non-executive officers) will remain effective. For two years following the completion of the merger, Mr. Hoenecke's KEESA requires that he receive or be provided with (i) the position, authority, working conditions, duties and responsibilities at least commensurate with, and without material adverse change from, those in place immediately prior to the completion of the merger; (ii) employment at a location within the same metropolitan area at which he was employed immediately preceding the completion of the merger; (iii) base salary at a monthly rate at least equal to the annual base salary paid to him immediately prior to the completion of the merger; (iv) any and all plans providing benefits for the salaried employees of us (or any of our affiliates), including but not limited to, group life insurance, hospitalization, medical, dental, profit sharing and stock bonus plans, which benefits are in the aggregate at least as favorable as those in effect immediately prior to the completion of the merger; (v) annual paid vacation not fewer than the number of paid holidays to which he was entitled to immediately prior the completion of the merger, or such greater amount of paid vacation and number of paid holidays as may be made available annually to our other executives of comparable status and position; and (vi) plans providing additional benefits to our executives of comparable status and position, including but not limited to, deferred compensation, split-dollar life insurance, supplemental retirement, stock option, stock appreciation, stock bonus and similar plans, which benefits are in the aggregate at least as favorable as those in effect immediately prior to the completion of the merger.

Under Mr. Hoenecke's KEESA, upon a termination of his employment by us other than for cause, death or disability or upon a termination by him for good reason (as defined in his KEESA), in each case, within two years following the completion of the merger, Mr. Hoenecke is entitled to receive a lump sum severance payment. Such a severance payment would be equal to two times the sum of (i) the average of the two highest annual bonuses (if any) paid to him in the three years immediately prior to the completion of the merger, plus (ii) his annual base salary, as in effect immediately prior the completion of the merger. In addition, he would be entitled to continued health and dental coverage for a two-year period after the date of termination. He would also receive outplacement services provided by a nationally recognized executive placement firm.

The KEESA also provides that, if certain amounts to be paid to Mr. Hoenecke constitute excess parachute payments, as defined in Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code, then the severance benefits owed to Mr. Hoenecke would be decreased such that the aggregate payments would not constitute excess parachute payments.

The following table shows the estimated amount of potential cash severance payable to Mr. Hoenecke with respect to his KEESA, assuming a December 31, 2005 termination under circumstances entitling him to severance.

Executive Officer	Amount of Potential Cash Severance Payment(1)
Jonathan B. Hoenecke	$289,347

(1) Excludes the value of certain health benefits and outplacement services.

Payments Resulting from the Cancellation of KEESAs

Messrs. Winding, Stinebaugh and Dahly have each amended their respective KEESAs with us. The amendments to their KEESAs provide that their existing KEESAs will be cancelled contingent and effective upon the closing of the merger and, in exchange for cancellation of their KEESAs upon the closing of the merger, the executives will receive substantially reduced cash payments than they otherwise would have been entitled to receive as a result of the merger. We estimate that such agreed upon reductions will save us approximately $2.7 million of net after-tax costs and substantially facilitated an increased per share price payable to our shareholders in the merger. Messrs. Stinebaugh and Winding each received an initial cash payment of $25,000 upon the signing of the merger agreement with the balance to be paid upon the closing of the merger, and Mr. Dahly will receive his entire amount in a single payment upon the closing of the merger. These reduced payments are intended to avoid paying the executives a gross-up payment from us to cover excise taxes payable by these executives under Internal Revenue Code Section 280G and to ensure the tax deductibility of these payments to us. The amendments to the KEESAs continue to provide that if certain amounts to be paid to each executive constitute excess parachute payments, as defined in Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code, we will make an additional payment to such executive such that the aggregate payments will put such executive in the same after-tax position he would have been in if the excise tax under Section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code did not apply to the aggregate parachute payments. The executives will not be entitled to such additional payment, and their severance payment will be reduced, if the executives violated certain representations and warranties made to us with respect to the computation of excess parachute payments.

The following table shows the amounts payable to Messrs. Winding, Stinebaugh and Dahly as a result of the amendment and cancellation of their KEESAs:

Executive Officers	Amount of Cash Payment upon Merger(1)
--------------------	--

Walter G. Winding, III	$394,500
Louis E. Stinebaugh	$977,500
John H. Dahly	$220,000

- (1) Includes payments of $25,000 made to each of Messrs. Winding and Stinebaugh upon signing the amendment to their KEESAs.

Directors of the Surviving Corporation

Upon consummation of the merger, the directors of Acquisition Corp. immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will, from and after the effective time of the merger, be the directors of us, as the surviving corporation, until their successors are duly elected and qualified or until their earlier resignation or removal.

Indemnification and Insurance

For a period of six years after the merger, we will indemnify our present and former officers and directors to the fullest extent required and/or permitted by our bylaws against all liabilities in respect of acts or omissions taken in their capacity as our officers or directors prior to the merger. This includes amounts paid in settlement or compromise. Further, all rights to exculpation and indemnification for acts or omissions occurring prior to the merger now existing in favor of the officers and directors as provided in our articles of incorporation or bylaws, and Wisconsin law, will survive the merger for a period of six years.

The indemnification rights include our obligation to promptly advance legal or other expenses (including the cost of any investigation and preparation incurred in connection therewith); provided, however, that the officers or directors receiving the advance provide an undertaking to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that they are not entitled to indemnification.

For six years after the merger, we will, without any lapse in coverage, provide officers and directors liability insurance in respect of acts or omissions occurring prior to the merger covering each such person currently covered by our officers and directors liability insurance policies. The terms of coverage will be no less favorable than those of such policies in effect on the date hereof; however, we will not be required to pay more than $600,000 in the aggregate to acquire a six-year tail insurance policy, and if the aggregate premiums for such insurance would otherwise exceed $600,000, we will be obligated to obtain a policy or policies with the greatest coverage available for a cost not exceeding that amount.

Amendment to Our Rights Agreement

On October 12, 2001, we entered into a Rights Agreement with Firststar Bank, N.A., as rights agent. On August 19, 2002, we entered into a Agreement of Substitution and Amendment of Rights Agreement with American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, which succeeded Firststar Bank, N.A. as rights agent. In general, the Rights Agreement imposes a significant penalty upon any person or group that acquires 20% or more of our outstanding common stock without the approval of our Board.

On December 5, 2005, immediately prior to the execution of the merger agreement, we and American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, entered into an amendment to the Rights Agreement which provides that neither the execution of the merger agreement nor the completion of the merger will trigger the provisions of the Rights Agreement.

In particular, the amendment to the Rights Agreement provides that none of Certifresh Holdings, Acquisition Corp. or any of their respective affiliates shall become an Acquiring Person, and no Shares Acquisition Date or Distribution Date will occur, in each case as a result of:

- the execution and delivery of the merger agreement;
- the public announcement of such execution and delivery of the merger agreement; or
- the completion of the merger or the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

The Rights Agreement, as amended, also provides that, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, such agreement will terminate and the holders of the rights shall not be entitled to any benefits under the Rights Agreement, including, without limitation, the right to acquire any of our securities.

Guaranty

In connection with the merger, on December 5, 2005, Certified executed a guaranty in favor of us, whereby Certified unconditionally guaranteed the payment obligation of Certifresh Holdings, subject to the terms and satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the merger agreement, to pay when due, the aggregate merger consideration. Upon any failure by Certifresh Holdings to pay punctually the merger consideration if and when due in accordance with the merger agreement, Certified agrees that it will forthwith make available or cause to be made available to the paying agent cash in amounts necessary for the payment of the merger consideration

Merger Financing

The merger is not conditioned on the Certifresh parties obtaining financing. Based on the cash purchase price of $7.05 per share, Certifresh Holdings will pay our shareholders approximately $34.8 million in the aggregate. The Certifresh parties have informed us that the total amount of funds estimated to be necessary to complete the merger and pay related fees and expenses will be approximately $40.0 million. In connection with the merger, bank debt of Certified and us will be refinanced in the estimated amounts of $15.0 million and $23.6 million, respectively. The expenses associated with the consummation of the merger and these debt refinancings are expected to be approximately $78.6 million in the aggregate. The Certifresh parties expect this amount to be provided through the proceeds of the syndicated committed bank loan facility of up to $115.0 million with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. as the lead bank described below.

Certified is a party to a binding commitment letter with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. and J.P. Morgan Securities, Inc. Under the terms of the commitment letter, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. as the lead bank together with a syndicate to be formed, has committed to provide an aggregate of up to $115.0 million in financing under various senior credit facilities, including a $40.0 million term loan to be used to pay the merger consideration and related fees and expenses and two revolving loans providing aggregate credit of up to $75.0 million, of which approximately $38.6 million is expected to be used to refinance the existing indebtedness of Certified and us described above upon completion of the merger. The financing commitment letter is subject to the satisfaction of various conditions that are typical of bank commitment letters for facilities and transactions of this type.

Regulatory Approvals and Requirements

It is currently expected that no regulatory approvals will be required in order to complete the merger.

In connection with the merger, we will be required to make certain filings with, and comply with certain laws of, various federal and state governmental agencies, including:

filing a proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (which we refer to as the SEC) calling for a special shareholders meeting to approve the merger agreement and the merger; filing a certificate of merger with the Department of Financial Institutions of the State of Wisconsin in accordance with Wisconsin law after the approval and adoption of the merger agreement and the merger by our shareholders; certain notice filings with the SEC to terminate registration of our stock; and certain notice filings with the Nasdaq Stock Market.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences

The following summary sets forth the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger that are expected to be material to U.S. holders (as defined below) of our common stock. This summary is included for general information purposes only and does not purport to be a complete technical analysis or listing of all potential tax consequences that may be relevant to parties to the merger. It is not intended to be, nor should it be construed as being, legal or tax advice. For this reason, holders of our common stock should consult their own tax advisors concerning the tax consequences of the merger. Further, this discussion does not address any tax consequences arising under the income or other tax laws of any state, local or foreign jurisdiction or any tax treaties.

This discussion is based upon the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (referred to as the Code), the applicable regulations of the U.S. Treasury Department, and publicly available judicial and administrative rulings and decisions, all as in effect on the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, any of which may change, possibly retroactively. Any changes could affect the continuing validity of this discussion.

For purposes of this summary, the term U.S. holder means a beneficial owner of shares of our common stock who is:

an individual who is a citizen of the U.S. or who is resident in the U.S. for U.S. federal income tax purposes;

a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, created or organized under the laws of the U.S., any state thereof or the District of Columbia;

a trust, if either (i) a court within the U.S. is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (ii) the trust has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury Regulations to be treated as a U.S. person; or an estate that is subject to U.S. federal income tax on its income regardless of its source.

For purposes of this discussion, an entity that is classified as a partnership for federal income tax purposes is not a U.S. holder. The U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partnership and its partners depends upon a variety of factors, including the activities of the partnership and the partners. Holders of our common stock that are partnerships or partners in a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes should consult their tax advisors concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger.

This summary assumes that you hold your shares of our common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code. Further, this discussion does not address all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be relevant to you in light of your particular circumstances or that may be applicable to you if you are subject to special treatment under the U.S. federal income tax laws, including if you are:

a financial institution or thrift;

a tax-exempt organization;

an S corporation or other pass-through entity or an owner thereof;

40

an entity taxable as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes;

an insurance company;

a mutual fund;

a dealer in stocks and securities or foreign currencies;

a trader or an investor in securities who elects the mark-to-market method of accounting for your securities;

a Fresh Brands shareholder who received Fresh Brands common stock from the exercise of employee stock options, from an employee stock purchase plan or otherwise as compensation;

a Fresh Brands shareholder who received our common stock from a tax-qualified retirement plan, individual retirement account or other qualified savings account;

a U.S. holder that has a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar;

a holder of options granted under any employee or other benefit plan of us; or a Fresh Brands shareholder who holds our common stock as part of a hedge against currency risk, straddle or a constructive sale or conversion transaction; or other risk reduction or integrated investment transaction.

This discussion does not address tax consequences that may vary with, or are contingent upon, individual circumstances, including without limitation alternative minimum tax consequences. Moreover, it does not address any non-income tax or any foreign, state or local tax consequences of the merger. Tax matters are very complicated, and the tax consequences of the merger to you will depend upon the facts of your particular situation. Accordingly, you are strongly urged to consult with a tax advisor to determine the particular federal, state, local or foreign income or other tax consequences to you of the merger.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences to U.S. Holders

Generally, the merger will be taxable to U.S. holders for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A U.S. holder of our common stock generally will recognize gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the holder's adjusted tax basis in the our common stock surrendered. Tax matters are very complex, and the tax consequences of the merger to you will depend on the facts of your own situation. You should consult your tax advisor for a full understanding of the tax consequences of the merger to you, including the federal, state, local and foreign tax consequences of the merger.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

In general, information reporting requirements will apply to cash received by a U.S. holder in connection with the merger. This information reporting obligation, however, does not apply with respect to certain U.S. holders, including corporations, tax-exempt organizations, qualified pension and profit sharing trusts, and individual retirement accounts. In the event that a U.S. holder subject to the reporting requirements fails to supply its correct taxpayer identification number in the manner required by applicable law or is notified by the Internal Revenue Service that it has failed to properly report payments of interest and dividends, a backup withholding tax (at a rate that is currently 28%) generally will be imposed on the amount of the cash received. A U.S. holder may generally credit any amounts withheld under the backup withholding provisions against its U.S. federal income tax liability, and, as a result, may entitle the U.S. holder to a refund, provided the required information is furnished to the Internal Revenue Service. Such amounts, once withheld, are not refundable by us or the paying agent.

FIRPTA Withholding

Under Section 1445 of the Code, a person acquiring a U.S. real property interest from a foreign person generally is required to deduct and withhold a tax equal to 10% of the amount realized by that foreign person on the sale or exchange of that U.S. real property interest, referred to here as FIRPTA Withholding. However, Section 1445(b)(6) of the Code exempts from FIRPTA Withholding the sale or exchange of a share of stock that is treated as a U.S. real property interest if that share of stock is regularly traded on an established securities market.

We expect that our common stock will continue to be regularly traded on the Nasdaq National Market at all times leading up to and as of the effective time of the merger, such that the our common stock should be considered to be regularly traded on an established securities market for purposes of Section 897(c)(3) of the Code. Assuming that this expectation proves to be correct, the paying agent will be required to deduct and withhold amounts on account of FIRPTA Withholding with respect to payments in the merger to a non-U.S. holder.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following summary of the material terms of the merger agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached as Appendix A to this proxy statement and incorporated herein by reference. We urge you to read the merger agreement carefully and in its entirety.

The representations and warranties in the merger agreement were made by Fresh Brands and the Certifresh parties for purposes of the merger agreement, including important modifications and limitations set forth in disclosure letters delivered by each party to the other. The representations and warranties are reproduced and summarized in this proxy statement to provide information regarding the contractual terms of the merger agreement. We will provide additional disclosure in our public reports to the extent that we are aware of the existence of any material facts that are required to be disclosed under federal securities law and that might otherwise contradict the terms and information contained in the merger agreement and will update such disclosure as required by federal securities laws. Information about Fresh Brands and the Certifresh parties can be found elsewhere in this document and in other public filings that Fresh Brands makes with the SEC, which are available without charge at www.sec.gov. See WHERE YOU CAN FIND MORE INFORMATION.

Structure of the Merger

At the effective time of the merger, Acquisition Corp. will merge with and into us and the separate corporate existence of Acquisition Corp. will end. We will be the surviving corporation in the merger and become a wholly owned subsidiary of Certifresh Holdings.

The articles of incorporation of Acquisition Corp., as amended pursuant to the merger agreement, and the bylaws of Acquisition Corp., as in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, will be the articles of incorporation and bylaws of us, as the surviving corporation. The directors of Acquisition Corp. immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will, from and after the effective time of the merger, be the initial directors of us, as the surviving corporation, until their successors are duly elected and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal. The initial officers of the surviving corporation will be as designated by Certifresh Holdings prior to the effective time of the merger, until their successors are duly elected and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal.

When the Merger Becomes Effective

We and Acquisition Corp. will file articles of merger with the Department of Financial Institutions of the State of Wisconsin within two business days after the satisfaction or waiver of the closing conditions to the merger (other than the conditions that can only be satisfied at the closing) or at such other time as Acquisition Corp. and we may agree. The merger will become effective at the close of business as of the date of the filing of the articles of merger with the Department of Financial Institutions of the State of Wisconsin or at such other time as may be agreed by us and Acquisition Corp. and specified in the articles of merger.

Treatment of Our Common Stock

At the effective time of the merger, each share of our common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be cancelled and converted into the right to receive $7.05 in cash, without interest, less any withholding taxes, other than shares of our common stock:

held in the Company's treasury immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, which shares will be canceled without payment or other consideration; and owned by any of our subsidiaries, Certifresh Holdings or any wholly owned direct or indirect subsidiary of Certifresh Holdings immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, which shares will be canceled without payment or other consideration.

Payment for Our Common Stock in the Merger

Prior to the effective time of the merger, Certifresh Holdings will designate a bank or trust company to act as paying agent in connection with the merger. At the effective time of the merger, Certifresh Holdings will deliver to the paying agent, for the benefit of our shareholders entitled to receive the merger consideration, the amount of the aggregate merger consideration that our shareholders are entitled to receive under the merger agreement. Our stock transfer books will be closed, and there will be no further registration of transfers of the shares of our common stock that were outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

As soon as reasonably practicable after the effective time of the merger, but in no event later than five business days thereafter, the paying agent will mail to each record holder of our common stock whose stock certificates were converted into the right to receive merger consideration a letter of transmittal and instructions for use in effecting the surrender of stock certificates in exchange for the applicable merger consideration of $7.05 per share, without interest, less any withholding taxes required by law.

You should not return your stock certificate with the enclosed proxy card, and you should not forward your stock certificates to the paying agent without a letter of transmittal.

You will not be entitled to receive the merger consideration until you surrender your stock certificate or certificates to the paying agent, together with a duly completed and executed letter of transmittal. The merger consideration may be paid to a person other than the person whose name the corresponding certificate is registered if the certificate is properly endorsed or is otherwise in the proper form for transfer. In addition, the person who surrenders such certificate must either pay any transfer or other applicable taxes or establish to the satisfaction of Certifresh Holdings or the paying agent that such taxes have been paid or are not applicable.

The paying agent, Certifresh Holdings, Acquisition Corp. and the surviving corporation will not be liable to any person for any cash delivered to the public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar law. Any certificates that have not been surrendered prior to the third anniversary of the effective time (or immediately prior to such earlier date on which any merger consideration in respect of such certificate would otherwise escheat or become property of any governmental entity), any amounts payable in respect of such certificate will become the property of the surviving corporation, free and clear of all claims or interest of any person previously entitled thereto.

If a mutilated certificate is surrendered to the paying agent or if the holder of the certificate submits an affidavit to the paying agent stating that the certificate has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, such holder shall, if required by Certifresh Holdings, furnish an indemnity bond sufficient in the reasonable judgment of Certifresh Holdings, to protect Certifresh Holdings, the surviving corporation and the paying agent from any loss that any of them may suffer.

Treatment of Stock Options

Prior to the effective time of the merger, all options to acquire shares of our common stock that are outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, whether or not exercisable, will be canceled as of the effective time of the merger in exchange for nominal consideration pursuant to Option Cancellation Agreements between us and each individual option holder. A total of 517,000 shares are subject to outstanding options, with a weighted average exercise price of $10.67 per share. Only one option for 20,000 shares has an exercise price lower than $7.05 per share. This one option will be terminated for a payment equal to its net spread of $7,000. All other options will be terminated for consideration of $100 per option holder. All payments made in respect of options will be subject to applicable withholding taxes.

For the purposes of the merger agreement, a material adverse effect means any change, circumstance, event or effect that either alone or individually, is or is reasonably likely to be materially adverse to our business, financial condition or results of operations taken as a whole, or impairs or adversely affects in any material respect our ability to perform our obligations under the merger agreement; provided, that none of the following will be considered in determining whether there has been a material adverse effect:

agree to take any of the actions described above.

Shareholders Meeting

The merger agreement requires us to promptly take all necessary action in accordance with Wisconsin Law, our articles of incorporation and our by-laws, to convene a meeting of our shareholders to adopt the merger agreement. The only shareholder vote required for approval of the merger agreement is the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares. We are required to use our reasonable best efforts to have the merger agreement adopted by our shareholders. Our Board is required to recommend that our shareholders vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement, except that our Board may withdraw or modify its recommendation if it determines (after consultation with its legal and financial advisors) that such action is reasonably necessary in order to comply with its fiduciary duties under applicable law.

No Solicitation

From December 5, 2005 until the effective time of the merger or the termination of the merger agreement, we may not, directly or indirectly:

No Solicitation

solicit, initiate, or encourage, or knowingly induce, or take any action to facilitate the making of, any inquiry, offer or proposal that constitutes, or may reasonably be expected to lead to, any acquisition proposal ;

participate in any discussions or negotiations regarding any acquisition proposal or, in connection with any acquisition proposal, furnish or provide access to any person to properties, books and records or any nonpublic information or data with respect to us or any of our affiliates;

approve or recommend, or propose to approve or recommend any acquisition proposal;

enter into any agreement, understanding, letter of intent or similar document contemplating or otherwise relating to any acquisition proposal or approve or resolve to approve any acquisition proposal; or take any action to make the provisions of the Rights Agreement or any anti-takeover statute or provision of our articles of incorporation or bylaws inapplicable to any transactions contemplated by an acquisition proposal.

Under the merger agreement, an acquisition proposal is any proposal or offer from any person relating to (i) any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of at least a 10% of our assets or of over 10% of any class of our equity securities; (ii) any tender offer or exchange offer involving any class of our equity securities; (iii) any merger, consolidation, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving us; (iv) any other transaction, the consummation of which would reasonably be expected to impede, interfere with, prevent or materially delay the merger; or (v) any other transaction similar to any of the foregoing with respect to us; in each case, other than any transactions to be effected pursuant to the merger agreement.

Notwithstanding the prohibitions described above, we are not prohibited from participating in any discussions or negotiations regarding any acquisition proposal that is submitted to us after the date of the merger agreement by any person (including, without limitation, any person with whom we were in discussions regarding a potential acquisition proposal prior to the date of the merger agreement) or furnishing nonpublic information with respect to us, in response to an unsolicited, bona fide and written acquisition proposal that is submitted to us after the date of the merger agreement and prior to the adoption of the merger agreement by our shareholders if and only if, prior to taking any of those actions:

we have not violated the "no solicitation" provisions mentioned above;

our Board determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel and Blair:

that such person is reasonably capable of consummating such acquisition proposal taking into account the legal, financial, regulatory and other aspects of such acquisition proposal; and that such acquisition proposal will result in, or could reasonably be expected to constitute or result in, a "superior proposal";

our Board determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel and Blair, that the taking of such action is reasonably necessary in order for our Board to comply with its fiduciary duties to our shareholders under applicable law;

within one business day following any such good faith determination by our Board, we give Certifresh Holdings written notice of such determination and at least two business days prior to participating in discussions or negotiations with, or furnishing any nonpublic information to, such person, we give Certifresh Holdings written notice of our intention to participate in discussions or negotiations with, or furnish or disclose nonpublic information to, such person;

in each such case, our Board has received from the person being furnished or disclosed any nonpublic information, an executed confidentiality agreement (the subject matter of which shall be limited to the protection of nonpublic information or standstill provisions) on terms no less favorable to us in any material respect than those contained in the confidentiality agreement between us and Certified, dated February 16, 2005, which confidentiality agreement shall in no event provide such person with any exclusive right to negotiate with us or have the effect of prohibiting us from satisfying our obligations under the merger agreement; and simultaneous with or prior to furnishing or disclosing any nonpublic information to such person, we furnish such information to Certifresh Holdings (to the extent such information has not been previously delivered or made available by us to Certifresh Holdings).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, we are not prohibited from approving or recommending, or entering into, a definitive agreement with respect to an unsolicited, bona fide and written acquisition proposal that is submitted to us after the date of the merger agreement and prior to the adoption of the merger agreement by our shareholders if and only if:

we have not violated the "no solicitation" provisions mentioned above; and our Board determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel and Blair, that such proposal is a superior proposal and that the termination of the merger agreement to accept such superior proposal and/or the recommendation of such superior proposal to our shareholders is reasonably necessary in order for our Board to comply with its fiduciary duties to our shareholders under applicable law; provided, however, that we shall not have the right to take any such action or to terminate the merger agreement, and our Board shall not recommend a superior proposal to our shareholders, unless prior to any such termination:

we have provided Certifresh Holdings with written notice that we intend to terminate the merger agreement and take such action with respect to a superior proposal, not less than three full business days prior to the time the action is to be taken;

during the three full business day period following the delivery of the notice, Certifresh Holdings shall have the right to propose adjustments in the terms and conditions of the merger agreement and we and our advisors will negotiate in good faith with Certifresh Holdings in an effort to make such adjustments in the terms and conditions of the merger agreement such that such acquisition proposal would no longer constitute a superior proposal;

following any such negotiations and adjustments, the Board determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel and Blair, that such proposal is a superior proposal and that the termination of the merger agreement to accept such superior proposal and/or the recommendation of such superior proposal to our shareholders is reasonably necessary in order for our Board to comply with its fiduciary duties to our shareholders under applicable law;

at least three full business days after Certifresh Holdings receives the written notice from us, we (i) deliver to Certifresh Holdings a written notice of termination of the merger agreement, and (ii) pay the termination fee discussed in the section THE MERGER AGREEMENT Termination of the Merger Agreement ; and we do not approve or recommend or enter into a definitive agreement with respect to any acquisition proposal at any time before Certifresh Holdings receives the written notice from us and payment of the termination fee.

Employee Benefits

Under the terms of the merger agreement, we have entered into Amendment and Cancellation of Key Executive Employment and Severance Agreements dated as of December 5, 2005 with each of Messrs. Stinebaugh, Dahly and Winding pursuant to which each of their respective KEESA contracts will be terminated prior to closing. Under the terms of the merger agreement we have also amended as of December 5, 2005 the KEESA contract with Mr. Livorsi to eliminate relocation as a good reason to terminate employment. A schedule to the merger agreement lists the aggregate cash payments to be received by each of Messrs. Stinebaugh, Dahly and Winding upon closing with respect to the termination of their KEESA contracts.

The terms of the merger agreement additionally provide that we and Acquisition Corp. will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the new agreements with respect to each of Messrs. Stinebaugh and Dahly to be executed and delivered prior to closing and that Certifresh Holdings will cause the surviving corporation to fully honor all of the terms and conditions of those agreements.

Additionally, the merger agreement provides that Certifresh Holdings will cause us as the surviving corporation to fully honor all of the terms and conditions of all of the KEESA contracts currently in effect (other than those described above) and the aggregate termination payments to be received by each party under such KEESA contracts upon termination of employment or consulting relationship, as applicable, with us.

Indemnification and Directors and Officers Insurance

For a period of six years after the merger, we will indemnify our present and former officers and directors to the fullest extent required and/or permitted by our bylaws against all liabilities in respect of acts or omissions taken in their capacity as our officers or directors prior to the merger. This includes amounts paid in settlement or compromise. Further, all rights to exculpation and indemnification for acts or omissions occurring prior to the merger now existing in favor of our officers and directors as provided in our articles of incorporation or bylaws, and Wisconsin law, will survive the merger for a period of six years.

The indemnification rights include our obligation to promptly advance legal or other expenses (including the cost of any investigation and preparation incurred in connection therewith); provided, however, that the officers or directors receiving the advance provide an undertaking to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that they are not entitled to indemnification.

For six years after the merger, we will, without any lapse in coverage, provide officers and directors liability insurance in respect of acts or omissions occurring prior to the merger covering each such person currently covered by our officers and directors liability insurance policies. The terms of coverage will be no less favorable than those of such policies in effect on the date hereof; however, we will not be required to pay more than $600,000 in the aggregate to acquire a six-year tail insurance policy, and if the aggregate premiums for such insurance would otherwise exceed $600,000, we will be obligated to obtain a policy or policies with the greatest coverage available for a cost not exceeding that amount.

Conditions to Completion of the Merger

The obligations of us and Certifresh Holdings to complete the merger are subject to satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

the merger and the merger agreement shall have been approved and adopted by our shareholders;

no law or order shall have been promulgated, enacted, entered or enforced, and no other action shall have been taken, by any governmental entity that has the effect of making illegal or directly or indirectly restraining, prohibiting or restricting the consummation of the merger;

no litigation or decision instituted by any governmental entity shall be pending seeking to prohibit, restrain, restrict or challenge the consummation of the merger; and the waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act applicable to the merger, if any, shall have expired or been terminated.

In addition to the foregoing conditions, there are certain conditions to the merger that are applicable only to the obligations of Certifresh Holdings and Acquisition Corp. to consummate the merger. Those conditions include:

certain of our representations and warranties (such as capitalization, no violation, etc.) must be true and correct in all material respects as of the closing date. All other representations and warranties we made must be true and correct as of the closing date, other than for such failures to be true and correct that individually or in the aggregate would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect, with all such representations and warranties deemed not qualified by any references therein to materiality generally or to a material adverse effect ;

we shall have performed in all material respects all obligations, and complied in all material respects with all agreements and covenants, required to be performed by us prior to the closing date of the merger;

the KEESAs with Messrs. Stinebaugh, Dahly and Winding shall have been terminated, and the KEESA with Mr. Livorsi shall have been amended, prior to the effective time of the merger; since the date of the merger agreement, no event, condition, change or development, or worsening of any existing event, condition, change or development, shall have occurred that, individually or in combination with any other event, condition, change, development or worsening thereof, has had (and continues to have) or could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect ;

executed option cancellation agreements shall have been received from all option holders;

Blair shall have delivered to our Board its fairness opinion, and a copy of such opinion shall have been delivered to JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (Certified's lead bank);

we shall have provided to Certifresh Holdings payoff letters from all of our lenders in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Certifresh Holdings (i) certifying that, upon payment of the payoff amounts set forth therein, all amounts owing under our existing credit documents will be paid in full and all commitments thereunder shall be terminated and (ii) agreeing, upon receipt of the payoff amounts set forth therein, to promptly execute and deliver such releases and terminations of all liens and security interests; and appropriate provision shall have been made such that JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. and the other lenders under Certified's credit facility will be granted a first priority lien and security interest on all of our tangible and intangible assets, including a first mortgage on land and buildings located in Sheboygan, upon receipt of the payoff amounts set forth in the payoff letters.

Our obligation to complete the merger is subject to the following additional conditions:

the representations and warranties of Certifresh Holdings and Acquisition Corp. must be true and correct as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date, other than for failures to be true and correct that individually or in the aggregate would not reasonable be expected to have a material adverse effect on Certifresh Holdings and Acquisition Corp. to perform its obligations under the merger agreement and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, with all such representations and warranties deemed not qualified by any reference therein the materiality in general or to a material adverse effect ; and Certifresh Holdings and Acquisition Corp. shall have performed in all materials respects and obligations, and complied in all material respects with all agreements and covenants, required to be performed by them prior to the closing date of the merger.

The parties do not have any present intention to waive any of the conditions to the merger and do not anticipate any circumstances under which any of the conditions would be waived.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement may be terminated at any time and for any reason prior to the effective time of the merger by the mutual written consent of us and Certifresh Holdings.

Either we or Certifresh Holdings may terminate the merger agreement at any time prior to the effective time of the merger if:

there is any law that prohibits the merger or if a governmental entity has issued an order restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the merger;

the merger is not consummated by April 30, 2006, except that the right to terminate the merger agreement for this reason will not be available to any party whose failure to fulfill any of its obligations under the merger agreement has been the cause of or resulted in the failure to consummate the merger by such date (and we will be obligated to pay to Certifresh Holdings the termination fee described below in THE MERGER AGREEMENT Fees and Expenses, in the event of termination under this provision (i) without our shareholder meeting having occurred or (ii) at such time a third party has conveyed an acquisition proposal interest to us and we enter into an acquisition proposal within 12 months following termination of the merger agreement pursuant to these provisions); or shareholder approval of the merger agreement is not obtained at the special meeting, including any adjournment or postponement thereof (and we will be obligated to pay to Certifresh Holdings the termination fee described below in THE MERGER AGREEMENT Fees and Expenses, in the event of termination under this provision at such time a third party has conveyed an acquisition proposal interest to us and we enter into an acquisition proposal within 12 months following termination of this agreement pursuant to these provisions).

In addition, Certifresh Holdings may terminate the merger agreement at any time prior to the effective time of the merger if:

we breach or fail to perform in any material respect any of our representations, warranties or covenants, which breach or failure to perform (i) would give rise to the failure to be able to bring down our representations and warranties or covenants; and (ii) cannot be cured or has not been cured within 15 days after the giving of written notice to us of such breach, provided, however, that Certifresh Holdings and Acquisition Corp. shall not have the right to so terminate the merger agreement pursuant to this provision if then in material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained in the merger agreement (and we will be obligated to pay to Certifresh Holdings the termination fee described below in THE MERGER AGREEMENT Fees and Expenses, in the event of termination under this provision at such time a third party has conveyed an acquisition proposal interest to us and we enter into an acquisition proposal within 12 months following termination of the merger agreement pursuant to these provisions);

our Board (i) fails to include its recommendation of the merger agreement in the proxy statement or shall have withdrawn, modified or changed the recommendation; (ii) approves or recommends to our shareholders any other acquisition proposal; (iii) fails to call, convene and hold the shareholders meeting or fails to prepare and mail to our shareholders the proxy statement; or (iv) takes action to render inapplicable to any other transaction the provisions of the Rights Agreement or any anti-takeover statute or anti-takeover provision in our articles of incorporation or bylaws (and in the event of termination under clauses (i), (ii) or (iii), we will be obligated to pay to Certifresh Holdings the termination fee described below in THE MERGER AGREEMENT Fees and Expenses); or since the date of the merger agreement, there shall have been any event or condition that individually or in combination with any other event or condition has had or could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect, provided that, Certifresh Holdings provides us with five business days to cure such material adverse effect.

In addition, we may terminate the merger agreement at any time prior to the effective time of the merger if:

either Certifresh Holdings or Acquisition Corp. breaches or fails to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties or covenants, which breach or failure to perform (i) would give rise to the failure to be able to bring down the representations and warranties or covenants, and (ii) cannot be cured or has not been cured within 15 days after the giving of written notice to Certifresh Holdings of such breach, provided, however, that we will not have the right to so terminate the merger agreement pursuant to this provision if then in material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained in the merger agreement; or prior to approval of the merger at the shareholders meeting, our Board approves a superior proposal, but only if we complied with our obligation not to solicit alternative transactions and made payment of the termination fee described below in THE MERGER AGREEMENT Fees and Expenses).

Fees and Expenses

Each party to the merger agreement agrees to pay its own expenses incurred in connection with the merger. Under certain circumstances identified above in THE MERGER AGREEMENT Termination of the Merger Agreement, we would be required to pay a termination fee in the amount of $1,740,000 (inclusive of expenses) to Certifresh Holdings.

Modification or Amendment of the Merger Agreement

Subject to applicable law, Certifresh Holdings, Acquisition Corp. and we may by written agreement, at any time prior to the effective time of the merger, modify or amend the merger agreement, provided, however, that after the approval of the merger by our shareholders, no amendment may be made which by law requires further approval by our shareholders without such further approval.

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the respective Boards of Directors of Parent, Acquisition Sub and Company have each unanimously approved this Agreement and the merger of Acquisition Sub with and into Company (the "Merger"), upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement;

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of Company (the Board of Directors) has unanimously determined that the Merger, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, is fair and in the best interests of its shareholders and has unanimously resolved to recommend, subject to the terms of this Agreement, that the holders of the shares of Company s issued and outstanding common stock, $0.05 par value per share (Common Stock), approve this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby;

WHEREAS, Parent, Acquisition Sub and Company desire to make certain representations, warranties, covenants and agreements in connection with the Merger and also to prescribe various conditions to the Merger; and

WHEREAS, capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings set forth in Section 7.16.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained, and intending to be legally bound hereby, Parent, Acquisition Sub and Company hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I THE MERGER

Section 1.01. The Merger. (a) Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement, at the Effective Time in accordance with the WBCL, Acquisition Sub shall be merged with and into Company. Following the Merger, the separate corporate existence of Acquisition Sub shall cease and Company shall continue as the surviving corporation. Company as the surviving corporation after the Merger hereinafter sometimes is referred to as the Surviving Corporation.

Section 1.02. Closing; Effective Time.

(a) The closing of the Merger (the Closing) will take place at 10:00 a.m. on a date to be specified by the parties, which shall be no later than the second Business Day after satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Article V, at the offices of Sonnenschein Nath & Rosenthal LLP, 8000 Sears Tower, 233 S. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60606, unless another date, time or place is agreed to in writing between Parent and Company. The date on which the Closing occurs is referred to in this Agreement as the Closing Date.

(b) Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement, on the Closing Date, the parties hereto shall file a plan of merger (the Plan of Merger), in accordance with Section 180.1101 of the WBCL, with the Department of Financial Institutions of the State of Wisconsin (the WDFI), in such form as required by, and executed in accordance with the relevant provisions of, the WBCL. The Merger shall become effective upon the filing of the Plan of Merger (the time of such filing (or such later time as is specified in such Plan of Merger as agreed between Parent and Company) being the Effective Time).

Section 1.03. Effect of the Merger. At the Effective Time, the effect of the Merger shall be as provided in the applicable provisions of the WBCL. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, and subject thereto, at the Effective Time all the property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises of Company and Acquisition Sub shall vest in the Surviving Corporation, and all Liabilities and duties of Company and Acquisition Sub shall become the Liabilities and duties of the Surviving Corporation.

Section 1.04. Subsequent Actions. If, at any time after the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation shall consider or be advised that any deeds, bills of sale, assignments, assurances or any other actions or things are necessary or desirable to vest, perfect or confirm of record or otherwise in the Surviving Corporation its right, title or interest in, to or under any of the rights, properties or assets of either of Company or Acquisition Sub acquired or to be acquired by the Surviving Corporation as a result of, or in connection with, the Merger or otherwise to carry out this Agreement, the officers and directors of the Surviving Corporation shall be authorized to execute and deliver, in the name and on behalf of either Company or Acquisition Sub, all such deeds, bills of sale, assignments and assurances and to take and do, in the name and on behalf of each of such corporations or otherwise, all such other actions and things as may be necessary or desirable to vest, perfect or confirm any and all right, title and interest in, to and under such rights, properties or assets in the Surviving Corporation or otherwise to carry out this Agreement.

Section 1.05. Articles of Incorporation; By-Laws; Directors and Officers.

(a) At the Effective Time, the Articles of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation shall be amended and restated in their entirety to read in the form of the Articles of Incorporation of the Acquisition Sub, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, until thereafter amended in accordance with their terms and as provided by applicable Laws and this Agreement, except that, as of the Effective Time, Article I of such Articles of Incorporation shall be amended to reflect the name of the Surviving Corporation designated by Parent.

(b) At the Effective Time, the By-Laws of Acquisition Sub, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, shall be the By-Laws of the Surviving Corporation until thereafter amended as provided by Law, the Articles of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation and such

By-Laws.

(c) The directors of Acquisition Sub immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be the initial directors of the Surviving Corporation, and the initial officers of the Surviving Corporation shall be as designated in writing by Parent prior to the Effective Time, in each case until their successors are duly elected or appointed and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal.

A-2

Section 1.06. Conversion of Shares. At the Effective Time, automatically by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of Acquisition Sub, Company or the holder of any of the following securities:

(a) Each share of Common Stock (a Share) issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than any Shares to be canceled pursuant to Section 1.06(b) and any Dissenting Shares) shall be canceled and be converted into the right to receive $7.05 in cash payable to the holder thereof, without interest (the Merger Consideration), upon surrender of the certificate representing such Share, less any withholding taxes. From and after the Effective Time, all such Shares shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be cancelled and retired and shall cease to exist, and each holder of a certificate representing any such Shares shall cease to have any rights with respect thereto, except the right to receive the Merger Consideration therefor, without interest, upon the surrender of such certificate in accordance with Section 1.08.

(b) Each Share held in the treasury of Company or owned by any Subsidiary and each Share owned by Parent or any direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Parent immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be canceled and no payment or other consideration shall be made with respect thereto.

(c) Each share of common stock, $0.001 par value, of Acquisition Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be converted into and thereafter represent one validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable (except as otherwise provided in Section 180.0622(2)(b) of the WBCL, as judicially interpreted) share of common stock, $0.05 par value per share, of the Surviving Corporation.

Section 1.07. Dissenting Shares.

(a) It is anticipated that on the record date fixed for purposes of determining the holders of Shares entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, a meeting to approve the Plan of Merger, the Shares will continue to be quoted on Nasdaq. Accordingly, subject to such continued quotation, holders of Shares will not have dissenters' rights under Section 180.1301 et seq. of the WBCL in connection with the Merger. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Sections 1.07(b) and (c) below shall apply in the event that holders of Shares do have dissenters' rights under Section 180.1301 et seq. of the WBCL, whether because the Shares no longer are quoted on Nasdaq on such record date or otherwise.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Shares that are issued and outstanding as of the Effective Time and that are held by any record holder who has not voted to approve the Plan of Merger or consented thereto in writing and is otherwise entitled to demand, and who has properly exercised, preserved and perfected dissenters' rights in accordance with Section 180.1301 et seq. of the WBCL (the Dissenting Shares) shall not be converted into the right to receive the Merger Consideration but shall instead become the right to receive such consideration as may be determined to be due in respect of such Dissenting Shares pursuant to the WBCL; provided, however, that any holder of Dissenting Shares who shall have failed to perfect or shall have withdrawn or lost his dissenters' rights with respect to such Dissenting Shares, in each case under the WBCL, shall forfeit his dissenters' rights with respect to such Dissenting Shares, and such Dissenting Shares shall be deemed to have been converted into the right to receive, as of the Effective Time, the Merger Consideration without interest, upon surrender of the certificates representing such Shares in accordance with Section 1.08. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 1.07(b), if the Merger is rescinded or abandoned, then the right of any shareholder to be paid the fair value of such shareholder's Dissenting Shares shall terminate.

(c) Company shall give Parent (i) prompt written notice of any notices of intent to demand payment, any withdrawals of such notices received by Company and any other related instruments served pursuant to Section 180.1301 et seq. of the WBCL and received by Company, and (ii) the opportunity to direct and participate in all negotiations and proceedings with respect to demands for payment under Section 180.1301 et seq. of the WBCL. Company shall not, except with the prior written consent of Parent, make any payment with respect to any demands for appraisal or negotiate, offer to settle or settle any such demands.

Section 1.08. Surrender of Shares; Stock Transfer Books.

Edgar Filing: FRESH BRANDS INC - Form DEFM14A

(a) Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall designate a bank or trust company reasonably acceptable to Company to act as paying agent in the Merger (the Paying Agent) and to receive the funds necessary to make the payments contemplated by Section 1.06(a). Parent shall, at or prior to the Effective Time, make available or cause to be made available to the Paying Agent cash in amounts necessary for the payment of the Merger Consideration under Section 1.08(b) to which holders of Shares shall be entitled at the Effective Time pursuant to Section 1.06(a). Such funds shall be invested by the Paying Agent as directed by Parent. Any net profits resulting from, or interest or income produced by, such investments shall be payable as directed by Parent.

(b) As soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Time, but in no event later than five (5) Business Days thereafter, the Surviving Corporation shall cause the Paying Agent to mail to each holder of record of a certificate or certificates that immediately prior to the Effective Time represented Shares (the Certificates) (i) a letter of transmittal (which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon proper delivery of the Certificates to the Paying Agent and shall be in a form and have such other provisions as Parent may reasonably specify) and (ii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates in exchange for the Merger Consideration as provided in Section 1.06(a). Upon surrender of a Certificate for cancellation to the Paying Agent or to such other agent or agents as may be appointed by Parent, together with such letter of transmittal, duly executed, and such other documents as may reasonably be required by the Paying Agent, the holder of such Certificate shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor the Merger Consideration, and the Certificate so surrendered shall forthwith be canceled.

(c) If payment of the Merger Consideration in respect of canceled Shares is to be made to a Person other than the Person in whose name a surrendered Certificate is registered, it shall be a condition to such payment that the Certificate so surrendered shall be properly endorsed or shall be otherwise in proper form for transfer and that the Person requesting such payment shall have paid any transfer and other taxes required by reason of such payment in a name other than that of the registered holder of the Certificate surrendered or shall have established to the satisfaction of Parent or the Paying Agent that such tax either has been paid or is not payable. If a mutilated Certificate is surrendered to the Paying Agent or if the holder of a Certificate submits an affidavit to the Paying Agent stating that the Certificate has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, such holder shall, if required by Parent, furnish an indemnity bond sufficient in the reasonable judgment of Parent to protect Parent, the Surviving Corporation and the Paying Agent from any loss that any of them may suffer. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 1.08, each Certificate shall be deemed at any time after the Effective Time to represent only the right to receive the Merger Consideration in cash as contemplated by this Section 1.08, without interest thereon.

(d) Promptly following the date which is one year after the Effective Time, the Paying Agent shall deliver to Parent all cash, certificates and other documents in its possession relating to the transactions contemplated hereby, and the Paying Agent's duties shall terminate. Thereafter, each holder of a Certificate (other than Certificates representing Dissenting Shares and Certificates representing Shares to be canceled pursuant to Section 1.06(b)) shall look only to the Surviving Corporation (subject to abandoned property, escheat or other similar Laws) and only as general creditors thereof, with respect to any Merger Consideration that may be payable upon due surrender of the Certificates held by such holder, without any interest thereon. Notwithstanding the foregoing, none of Parent, Acquisition Sub, the Surviving Corporation or the Paying Agent shall be liable to any Person in respect of any cash delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Law. If any Certificates have not been surrendered prior to the third anniversary of the Effective Time (or immediately prior to such earlier date on which any Merger Consideration in respect of such Certificate would otherwise escheat to or become the property of any Governmental Entity), any amounts payable in respect of such Certificate shall, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, become the property of the Surviving Corporation, free and clear of all claims or interest of any Person previously entitled thereto.

(e) Parent (or any Affiliate thereof) or the Paying Agent shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the Merger Consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of Shares such amounts as Parent or the Paying Agent is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment under the Code, or under any provision of state, local or foreign tax Law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld by Parent or the Paying Agent, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the holder of the Shares in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by the Parent or the Paying Agent.

(f) All Merger Consideration paid upon the surrender of Certificates in accordance with the terms of this Article I shall be deemed to have been paid in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to the Shares theretofore represented by such Certificates. At the Effective Time, the stock transfer books of Company shall be closed and thereafter there shall not be any further registration of transfers of Shares that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time on the records of the Surviving Corporation. If, after the Effective Time, Certificates are presented to the Surviving Corporation for transfer, they shall be canceled and exchanged for the Merger Consideration as provided in Section 1.06(a) and this Section 1.08.

Section 1.09. Stock Plans. Prior to the Effective Time, the Board of Directors (or, if appropriate, the Stock Option Committee thereof) of Company shall adopt appropriate resolutions and take all other actions necessary to cause each holder of an issued and outstanding option or similar right to purchase Common Stock, whether or not then vested or exercisable (an Option) pursuant to any stock option or similar plans, agreements or arrangements of Company including any related award agreements (collectively, the Stock Plans), to enter into an Option Cancellation Agreement, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A (an Option Cancellation Agreement), pursuant to which such

(ii) approving or recommending, or entering into, a definitive agreement with respect to an unsolicited, bona fide and written Acquisition Proposal that is submitted to Company after the date of this Agreement and prior to the adoption of this Agreement by Company's shareholders in accordance with this Agreement if and only if (A) none of Company, any of its Affiliates or any of the Representatives have violated any of the provisions of this Section 4.02, and (B) the Board of Directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel and a nationally recognized financial advisor (which may be Company's Financial Advisor), that such proposal is a Superior Proposal and that the termination of this Agreement to accept such Superior Proposal and/or the recommendation of such Superior Proposal to the shareholders of Company is reasonably necessary in order for the Board of Directors to comply with its fiduciary duties to Company's shareholders under applicable Law, provided, however, that Company shall not have the right to take any such action or to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 6.01(d)(ii) hereof and the Board of Directors shall not recommend a Superior Proposal to Company's shareholders pursuant to this Section 4.02, and any purported termination pursuant to Section 6.01(d)(ii) hereof shall be void and of no force or effect, unless prior to any such termination (1) Company has provided Parent with written notice that it intends to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 6.01(d)(ii) hereof and take such action with respect to a Superior Proposal, such notice to specify in reasonable detail the material terms and conditions of the Superior Proposal then determined to be more favorable, the parties thereto, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the proposed acquisition agreement for such Superior Proposal and any ancillary agreements each in substantially the form to be entered into, such notice and documents to be delivered not less than three full Business Days prior to the time the action is to be taken; and (2) during the three full Business Day period following the delivery of the notice referred to in clause (1) above, Parent shall have the right to propose adjustments in the terms and conditions of this Agreement and Company and its advisors shall negotiate in good faith with Parent in an effort to make such adjustments in the terms and conditions of this Agreement such that such Acquisition Proposal would no longer constitute a Superior Proposal, (3) following any such negotiations and adjustments pursuant to clause (2) above, the Board of Directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel and a nationally recognized financial advisor (which may be Company's Financial Advisor), that such proposal is a Superior Proposal and that the termination of this Agreement to accept such Superior Proposal and/or the recommendation of such Superior Proposal to the shareholders of Company is reasonably necessary in order for the Board of Directors to comply with its fiduciary duties to Company's shareholders under applicable Law, (4) at least three full Business Days after Parent receives the written notice from Company referred to in clause (1) above, Company delivers to Parent (a) a written notice of termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 6.01(d)(ii), and (b) a wire transfer of immediately available funds in the amount of the Termination Fee pursuant to Section 6.03(b); and (5) Company does not approve or recommend or enter into a definitive agreement with respect to any Acquisition Proposal at any time before Parent receives the written notice from Company and payment of the Termination Fee referred to in clause (4) above. Any withdrawal, modification or amendment of the recommendation of the Board of Directors, or any approval or recommendation or proposed approval or recommendation of any Superior Proposal or the entry by Company into any agreement with respect to any Superior Proposal shall not change the approval of the Board of Directors for purposes of causing any state takeover statute or other state law to be inapplicable to the Transactions contemplated hereby, including the Merger.

A-30

(c) Company, its Affiliates and the Representatives shall immediately cease and cause to be terminated any and all existing discussions, negotiations, communications with any Persons with respect to any existing or potential Acquisition Proposal. Company agrees not to release any Person from, waive any provisions of, or fail to use reasonable best efforts to enforce any confidentiality agreement or standstill agreement to which Company or any of the Subsidiaries is a party. Company also shall, if it has not already done so, request within three Business Days of the date of this Agreement, to the extent it has a contractual right to do so, that each Person, if any, that has heretofore executed a confidentiality agreement within the 12 months prior to the date of this Agreement in connection with its consideration of any Acquisition Proposal return or destroy all confidential information or data heretofore furnished to such Person by or on behalf of Company or any of its Subsidiaries.

(d) Company shall promptly (and in any event within 24 hours after receipt of an Acquisition Proposal) notify Parent orally and confirm in writing if any proposals are received by, any information is requested from, or any negotiations or discussions are sought to be initiated or continued with, Company or its Representatives, in each case in connection with any Acquisition Proposal or the possibility or consideration of making an Acquisition Proposal (Acquisition Proposal Interest), and such notice shall indicate the name of the Person making such Acquisition Proposal Interest and describe in reasonable detail the material terms and conditions of such Acquisition Proposal Interest. Company agrees that it shall keep Parent informed, on a current basis, of the status and material terms and conditions of any Acquisition Proposal Interest.

(e) Acquisition Proposal shall mean any proposal or offer from any Person (in each case, whether or not in writing and whether or not delivered to the shareholders of Company generally) relating to (i) any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of at least a 10% portion of the assets of Company or any of its Subsidiaries or of over 10% of any class of equity securities of Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (ii) any tender offer or exchange offer involving any class of equity securities of Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (iii) any merger, consolidation, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving Company or any of its Subsidiaries or (iv) any other transaction, the consummation of which would reasonably be expected to impede, interfere with, prevent or materially delay the Merger, or (v) any other transaction similar to any of the foregoing with respect to Company or any of its Subsidiaries; in each case other than any Transactions to be effected pursuant to this Agreement. Superior Proposal shall mean a bona fide written Acquisition Proposal made by any Person to acquire all of the issued and outstanding Shares pursuant to a tender offer or a merger or to acquire all or substantially all of the assets of Company and the Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, that is (x) reasonably capable of being consummated and (y) would, if consummated, result in a transaction more favorable to Company's shareholders, from a financial point of view, than the Transactions contemplated by this Agreement (taking into account the nature of the currency and all legal, financial, regulatory, and similar aspects of, and conditions to, the proposal and the Person making the proposal, and after giving effect to any adjustments to the terms and provisions of this Agreement committed to in writing by Parent in response to such Acquisition Proposal, including taking into account the nature of the currency and all legal, financial, regulatory, and similar aspects of, and conditions to, the adjustments).

(f) Nothing contained in this Section 4.02 shall prohibit Company or its Board of Directors from taking and disclosing to Company's shareholders its position with respect to any tender or exchange offer by a third party pursuant to Rules 14d-9 and 14e-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act (provided that neither Company nor its Board of Directors may recommend any Acquisition Proposal unless permitted by this Section 4.02 and Company may not fail to make or withdraw, modify or change in a manner adverse to Parent all or any portion of the Company Board Recommendation unless permitted by Section 4.04 (in which case Parent shall have the right to terminate this Agreement as set forth in Section 6.01(c)(ii) and be paid the Termination Fee), and provided further that, notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any stop-look-and-listen communication by the Board of Directors of Company to the shareholders of Company pursuant to Rule 14d-9(f) of the Exchange Act, or any similar communication to the shareholders of Company in connection with the commencement of a tender offer or exchange offer containing only the substance of a stop-look-and-listen communication pursuant to Rule 14d-9(f), shall not be deemed to constitute a withdrawal, modification or change in any manner adverse to Parent of, all or a portion of the Company Board Recommendation).

Section 4.03. Access to Information.

(a) Subject to applicable Law, during the period commencing on the date hereof and ending on the earlier of the Closing Date and the date on which this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 6.01, Company shall, and shall cause each of Subsidiaries to, upon reasonable notice, afford Parent and Acquisition Sub, and their respective authorized Representatives, reasonable access during normal business hours to the employees, assets, properties, contracts, books and records of Company and Subsidiaries so that they may have the opportunity to make such investigations as they shall desire of the affairs of Company and Subsidiaries; provided, however, that such investigation shall not affect the representations and warranties made by Company in this Agreement. Company shall furnish as promptly as practicable to Parent and Acquisition Sub a copy of each form, report, schedule, statement, registration statement and other document filed by it or Subsidiaries during such period pursuant to the requirements of federal or state securities Laws or the WBCL. Company shall furnish as promptly as practicable to Parent and Acquisition Sub an unaudited monthly consolidated balance sheet of Company and the Subsidiaries for the month then ended and related consolidated statements of earnings, cash flows and shareholders' equity (which Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to furnish no later than ten days after the end of each month). Company further agrees to, and to use its reasonable efforts to cause its Representatives to, in a manner consistent with the fulfillment of their ongoing duties and obligations, furnish such additional financial and operating data (including accounting work papers of Company and, to the extent reasonably available to Company, of Company's auditors) and other information concerning the finances, operations and Business of Company or any Subsidiary, as Parent may reasonably request, and respond to such inquiries as Parent and Acquisition Sub shall from time to time reasonably request and use commercially reasonable efforts to make available during normal business hours to Parent, Acquisition Sub and their authorized Representatives the appropriate individuals (including management, personnel, employees, vendors, landlords/sublandlords, tenants, licensees, franchisees, attorneys, accountants and other professionals) for discussion of (A) Company's business, properties and personnel and (B) Parent's business, operating and financial plans for the Business following the Closing, in each case as Parent may reasonably request. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Company shall keep Parent apprised on a current and timely basis of the status of, and any significant issues relating to, the audit of Company's consolidated financial statements, and Company shall provide Parent with prompt written notice of all proposed adjustments and significant unresolved issues identified or raised by such independent public accounting firm following completion of its field work in connection with such audit.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein shall require Company or any of its Subsidiaries to disclose any information that would cause a violation of Law or any confidentiality agreement in effect as of the date of this Agreement or waive any attorney-client privilege (in which case the parties will make appropriate substitute disclosure arrangements, if such arrangements can be made by the parties using their reasonable best efforts and, if material to Company, without such violation or waiver); provided further, that all requests for such access, inspection or information pursuant to this Section 4.03 shall be made through Company's Chief Operating Officer or such other person as he shall designate in writing to Parent. All nonpublic information provided to, or obtained by, Parent in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby shall be Confidential Information for purposes of the Confidentiality Agreement.

(b) Subject to applicable Law, during the period commencing on the date hereof and ending on the earlier of (i) the Closing Date and (ii) the date on which this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 6.01, Parent shall cause its Representatives to furnish such information and respond to such inquiries as Company shall from time to time reasonably request regarding post-closing integration and operational issues.

Section 4.04. Company Shareholders Meeting. Company shall promptly take all action necessary in accordance with the WBCL and its Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws to convene Company Shareholders Meeting, regardless of whether the Board of Directors has withdrawn or modified the Company Board Recommendation at any time after the date of this Agreement. The only shareholder vote required for approval of the Merger and this Agreement shall be the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding Shares. No other vote of the holders of any class or series of the capital stock of Company is necessary to approve any of the other transactions contemplated hereby. Company shall include the Company Board Recommendation in the Proxy Statement and shall use its reasonable best efforts to solicit from shareholders of Company proxies in favor of the Merger and shall take all other reasonable action necessary or, in the reasonable opinion of Parent, advisable to secure any vote of shareholders required by the WBCL to effect the Merger; provided, however, that subject to the terms of this Agreement (including Sections 6.01(c)(ii) and 6.03(b) hereof), the Board of Directors may withdraw or modify the Company Board Recommendation if the Board of Directors shall have determined in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel and a nationally recognized financial advisor (which may be Company's Financial Advisor), that the taking of such action is reasonably necessary in order for the Board of Directors to comply with its fiduciary duties to Company's shareholders under applicable Law.

Section 4.05. Proxy Statement.

(a) As soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement, Company shall prepare and file the Proxy Statement with the SEC (provided that Parent and its counsel shall be given opportunity to review and comment on the Proxy Statement prior to its filing with the SEC). Parent and Company will cooperate with each other in the preparation of the Proxy Statement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, (i) Company will provide Parent with a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on the Proxy Statement (including all amendments and supplements thereto) and all responses to comments or requests of the SEC prior to their being filed with or sent to the SEC, and (ii) Parent will furnish to Company the information relating to it and Acquisition Sub required by the Exchange Act to be set forth in the Proxy Statement. The Proxy Statement shall contain the Company Board Recommendation, unless the Board of Directors shall have determined in good faith and in accordance with the terms of this Agreement (including Sections 4.04, 6.01(c)(ii) and 6.03(b) hereof), after consultation with its outside legal counsel and a nationally recognized financial advisor (which may be Company's Financial Advisor), that inclusion of such recommendation would cause the Board of Directors to not comply with its fiduciary duties to Company's shareholders under applicable Law.

(b) Company shall as soon as reasonably practicable notify Parent of the receipt of any comments from or other correspondence with the SEC staff with respect to the Proxy Statement and any request by the SEC for any amendment to the Proxy Statement or for additional information (and promptly deliver a copy of such comments, correspondence or request to Parent). Company shall use its reasonable best efforts, after consultation with Parent, to resolve all SEC comments with respect to the Proxy Statement as promptly as practicable after receipt thereof. Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Proxy Statement to be mailed to Company's shareholders as promptly as practicable after the Proxy Statement is cleared by the SEC.

(c) Company agrees, as to information with respect to Company, its officers, directors, shareholders, Subsidiaries and Business contained in the Proxy Statement, and Parent agrees, as to information with respect to Parent, Acquisition Sub and its officers, directors and shareholders furnished by Parent for inclusion in the Proxy Statement, that such information, at the date the Proxy Statement is mailed and (as then amended or supplemented) at the time of the Company Shareholders Meeting, will not be false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances in which they are made, not misleading. If at any time prior to the Company Shareholders Meeting any event or circumstances relating to Company or any Subsidiary, or their respective officers or directors, should be discovered by Company that is required to be set forth in an amendment or a supplement to the Proxy Statement in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, Company shall promptly inform Parent and file such amendment or supplement with the SEC.

Section 4.06. Notification of Certain Matters. Company shall give prompt notice to Parent of any notice or other communication from any Person alleging that the consent of such Person is or may be required in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 4.07. Public Announcements. Company's initial press release concerning the execution of this Agreement shall be reasonably acceptable to Parent. Thereafter, so long as this Agreement is in effect, Parent and Company shall consult with each other before issuing, and provide each other a reasonable opportunity to review and comment upon, any press release or other public statements with respect to the Merger and shall not issue, or permit their Affiliates to issue, any such press release or make any such public statement prior to such consultation, except as may be required by Law or in accordance with any listing agreement with, or the rules, requirements or requests of, any securities exchange on which such party's securities are listed or quoted (and, in such event, only if time does not reasonably permit).

Parent and Acquisition Sub agree that all rights to exculpation and indemnification for acts or omissions occurring prior to the Effective Time now existing in favor of the Indemnified Parties as provided in the WBCL, the Articles of Incorporation or Article VIII of Company's By-Laws in effect on the date hereof and the By-laws of Subsidiaries, in each case in effect as of the date hereof, shall survive the Merger and shall continue in full force and effect for a period of six years after the Effective Time in accordance with their terms and without amendment thereof in any manner that would adversely affect the rights thereunder of individuals who are or at any time prior to the Effective Time were directors or officers of Company; provided, however, that any determination required to be made with respect to whether an Indemnified Party's conduct complies with the standards set forth under Article VIII of Company's By-Laws in effect on the date hereof, any other similar organizational documents of Company and Subsidiaries, as the case may be, shall be made by in the manner provided in Article VIII of Company's By-Laws in effect on the date hereof; and provided, further, that nothing in this Section 4.10 shall impair any rights of any Indemnified Party. (iii) if upon a vote at a duly held meeting or any postponement or adjournment thereof to obtain the Requisite Shareholder Vote, this Agreement shall not have been adopted by the Requisite Shareholder Vote;

(c) Termination by Parent.

(i) By Parent, if Company breaches or fails to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties or covenants, which breach or failure to perform (A) would give rise to the failure of a condition set forth in Section 5.02(a) or 5.02(b), and (B) cannot be cured or has not been cured within 15 days after the giving of written notice to Company of such breach, provided that Parent and Acquisition Sub shall not have the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 6.01(c)(i) if then in material breach of any of representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained in this Agreement; or

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Section 6.03, whether or not the Merger is consummated, all fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the Transactions contemplated hereby shall be paid by the party incurring such fees, costs and expenses.

(b) If this Agreement is terminated by Company pursuant to Section 6.01(d)(ii), or by Parent pursuant to Section 6.01(c)(ii), or by Company or Parent pursuant to Section 6.01(b)(ii) without the Company Shareholders Meeting having occurred, then Company shall pay $1,740,000 (the Termination Fee) to Parent, at or prior to the time of, and as a pre-condition to the effectiveness of, termination in the case of a termination pursuant to Section 6.01(d)(ii) or as promptly as practicable (and in any event within one Business Day) in the case of a termination pursuant to Section 6.01(c)(ii), payable by wire transfer of same day funds.

(c) If (A) Parent shall have terminated this Agreement pursuant to Section 6.01(b)(ii), 6.01(b)(iii) or 6.01(c)(i) or Company shall have terminated this Agreement pursuant to Section 6.01(b)(ii) or 6.01(b)(iii), (B) at any time on or after the date of this Agreement and prior to such termination of this Agreement there shall have been an Acquisition Proposal Interest (other than from Parent or Acquisition Sub or their Affiliates), and (C) concurrently with such termination, or within twelve months thereafter, Company enters into a merger agreement, acquisition agreement or similar agreement (including a letter of intent, but excluding a confidentiality agreement the subject matter of which is solely the protection of nonpublic information and/or standstill provisions) with respect to an Acquisition Proposal (which term, solely for purposes of this Section 6.03(c)(iii), shall mean any proposal or offer from any Person (in each case, whether or not in writing and whether or not delivered to the shareholders of Company generally) relating to (A) any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of at least a 50% portion of the assets of Company or any of any of its Subsidiaries or of over 50% of any class of equity securities of Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (B) any tender offer or exchange offer that, if consummated, would result in any Person beneficially owning 50% or more of any class of equity securities of Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (C) any merger, consolidation, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or (D) any other transaction similar to any of the foregoing with respect to Company or any of its Subsidiaries) with any Person (or any of their Affiliates) who submitted an Acquisition Proposal Interest prior to termination of this Agreement, or an Acquisition Proposal is consummated with any Person (or any of their Affiliates) who submitted an Acquisition Proposal Interest prior to termination of this Agreement, then Company shall pay the Termination Fee to Parent, by wire transfer of same day funds, on the date of the agreement in respect of the Acquisition Proposal or, if earlier, consummation of the transaction in respect of the Acquisition Proposal, as may be applicable.

(d) Company shall not withhold any amounts on any payment under this Section 6.03. The parties acknowledge that the agreements contained in Section 6.03 are an integral part of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and that, without these agreements, Parent and Acquisition Sub would not have entered into this Agreement. Accordingly, if Company fails to pay promptly any amounts due pursuant to Section 6.03, and, in order to obtain such payment, Parent commences Litigation which results in a judgment against Company for the fee or expense reimbursement set forth in Section 6.03, Company shall pay to Parent its costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys fees and expenses) in connection with such Litigation, together with interest on the amount due from each date for payment until the date of the payment at a rate equal to the prime rate (as announced by JPMorgan Chase & Co. or any successor thereto) in effect on the date on which such payment was required to be made plus 2%.

Parent and Acquisition Sub acknowledge that there are uncertainties inherent in attempting to make such estimates, projections and other forecasts and plans, that Parent and Acquisition Sub are familiar with such uncertainties and that Parent and Acquisition Sub are taking full responsibility for making their own evaluation of the adequacy and accuracy of all estimates, projections and other forecasts and plans so furnished to it, including, without limitation, the reasonableness of the assumptions underlying such estimates, projections and forecasts and that, absent fraud or willful misrepresentation, Parent and Acquisition Sub shall have no claim against anyone with respect thereto. Accordingly, Parent and Acquisition Sub hereby acknowledge that Company is making no representation or warranty with respect to such estimates, projections and other forecasts and plans, including, without limitation, the reasonableness of the assumptions underlying such estimates, projections and forecasts.

Section 7.02. Amendment. This Agreement may be amended by the parties hereto by action taken by the respective Board of Directors of Company, Parent and Acquisition Sub or by the respective officers authorized by such Boards of Directors at any time prior to the Effective Time (notwithstanding any shareholder approval); provided, however, that, after any approval of the Merger by the shareholders of Company, no amendment may be made which by Law requires further approval by such shareholders without such further approval. This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed by all of the parties hereto.

Section 7.03. Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the documents and the instruments referred to herein, including the Confidentiality Agreement and the schedules attached hereto) constitutes the entire agreement and supersedes any and all other prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof.

Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement shall be binding upon, inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

Section 7.05. Parties in Interest. Except with respect to Section 4.10 (which is intended to be for the benefit of the Persons identified therein, and may be enforced by such Persons), this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure solely to the benefit of each party hereto, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any other Person any rights or remedies of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

Section 7.06. Validity. If any term or other provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced by any rule of Law, or public policy, all other conditions and provisions of this Agreement shall nevertheless remain in full force and effect so long as the economic or legal substance of the transactions contemplated hereby is not affected in any manner materially adverse to any party. Upon such determination that any term or other provision is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced, the parties hereto shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible in an acceptable manner to the end that transactions contemplated hereby are fulfilled to the maximum extent possible.

Gentlemen:

You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders (the "Shareholders") of the outstanding shares of common stock of Fresh Brands, Inc. Pursuant to the terms of and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, Pillow Acquisition Corp. will be merged with and into the Company (the "Merger"), and each share of common stock of the Company, $0.05 par value per share, will be converted into the right to receive the Merger Consideration upon consummation of the Merger, other than shares held in treasury or by any wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company or as to which dissenters rights, if applicable, have been properly exercised.

In connection with our review of the proposed Merger and the preparation of our opinion contained herein, we have examined: (a) a draft dated November 30, 2005 of the Merger Agreement; (b) certain audited historical financial statements of the Company for the three fiscal years ended January 1, 2005; (c) the Company's report on Form 10-K for the year ended January 1, 2005; (d) the Company's reports on Form 10-Q for the periods ended April 23, 2005, July 16, 2005, and October 8, 2005; (e) certain internal business, operating and financial information and forecasts of the Company prepared by the senior management of the Company (the "Forecasts"); (f) the Company's bank loan covenant compliance schedule prepared by senior management; (g) certain information related to the Company's potential pension and health and welfare withdrawal liabilities provided by senior management; (h) financial and stock market information regarding selected public companies we deemed relevant; (i) information regarding publicly available financial terms of certain other business combinations we deemed relevant; (j) a draft guaranty pursuant to which Certified Grocers Midwest, Inc. will guaranty the obligations of Parent to pay the Merger Consideration; and (k) certain other publicly available information on the Company we deemed relevant. We have also held discussions with members of the senior management of the Company to discuss the foregoing and to discuss the Company's current strategic and financial position, including management's views of the risks associated with not pursuing the transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement. We have considered other matters which we have deemed relevant to our inquiry and have taken into account such accepted financial and investment banking procedures and considerations as we deemed relevant. In connection with our engagement, we were requested to approach, and held discussions with, third parties to solicit indications of interest in a possible acquisition of the Company.

It should be understood that, although subsequent developments may affect the opinion contained herein, we do not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm such opinion. We have assumed that the Merger Agreement that is executed by the Company will substantially conform to the draft dated November 30, 2005 and that the Merger will be consummated substantially on the terms described in the draft Merger Agreement, without any amendment or waiver of any material terms or conditions.

We are familiar with the Company, having provided certain investment banking services to the Company's Board of Directors during 2005. Specifically, we were engaged by the Board of Directors of the Company to perform a strategic options analysis in May 2005 for which Blair received a separate fee from the Company. In the ordinary course of our business, we may from time to time trade the securities of the Company for our own account and for the accounts of customers, and accordingly may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities. We have acted as the investment banker to the Company in connection with the Merger and will receive a fee from the Company for our services, a significant portion of which is contingent upon consummation of the Merger. In addition, the Company has agreed to indemnify us against certain liabilities arising out of our engagement.

Our investment banking services and our opinion were provided for the use and benefit of the Board of Directors of the Company in connection with its consideration of the transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement. Our opinion is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the Shareholders of the Merger Consideration in connection with the Merger, and we do not address the merits of the underlying decision by the Company to engage in the Merger, and this opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote with respect to the proposed Merger. It is understood that this letter may not be disclosed or otherwise referred to without prior written consent, except that the opinion may be included in its entirety in a proxy statement mailed to the shareholders by the Company with respect to the Merger.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, it is our opinion as investment bankers that, as of the date hereof, the Merger Consideration is fair, from a financial point of view, to the Shareholders.

Very truly yours,
