METHANEX NOT TO PROCEED WITH METHANOL FACILITY IN WESTERN AUSTRALIA

September 29, 2003

Methanex Corporation today announced that it will not proceed with the construction of a 1.3 million tonne per year methanol plant located on the Burrup Peninsula in Western Australia as capital costs for the proposed project have escalated to an unacceptable level. Methanex will take a one-time, non-cash charge, which is expected to be approximately US$40 million, in the third quarter to write-off the costs incurred in developing the project.

Mr. Pierre Choquette, Methanex's Chairman and CEO commented, "We have rigorously studied several combinations of sites, technologies and scale in Australia but we have been unable to develop a methanol project that delivers acceptable returns for our shareholders. We cannot proceed with large capital projects that only deliver marginal returns."

Mr. Bruce Aitken, Methanex's President and COO added, "We remain committed to maintaining our strong presence in the expanding Asian market and we are continuing to develop alternatives to support our strategic customer base in Asia." Mr. Aitken continued, "Our global supply chain allows us the flexibility to effectively service key Asian markets from our plants in New Zealand, Chile and North America."

Methanex is the world's largest producer and marketer of methanol. Methanex shares are listed for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange in Canada under the trading symbol "MX" and on the Nasdaq National Market in the United States under the trading symbol "MEOH."
