Note 2 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Financial Information

These condensed consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted (GAAP) in the United States, which require management to make estimates and assumptions regarding future events that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and these footnotes, including investment valuations, compensation accruals and other matters. Management believes that the estimates used in preparing its condensed consolidated financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates. Certain reclassifications have been made to prior period information to conform to current period presentation.

The condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company include all consolidated accounts of Greenhill & Co., Inc. and all other entities in which the Company has a controlling interest, including GCI, GCEI and GCPE, after eliminations of all significant inter-company accounts and transactions. In accordance with the accounting pronouncements on the consolidation of variable interest entities, the Company consolidates the general partners of its merchant banking funds in which it has a majority of the economic interest. The general partners account for their investments in their merchant banking funds under the equity method of accounting. As such, the general partners record their proportionate shares of income (loss) from the underlying merchant banking funds. As the merchant banking funds follow investment company accounting, and generally record all their assets and liabilities at fair value, the general partners' investment in merchant banking funds represent an estimation of fair value. The Company does not consolidate the merchant banking funds since the Company, through its general partner and limited partner interests, does not have a majority of the economic interest in such funds and the limited partners have certain rights to remove the general partner by a simple majority of unaffiliated third-party investors.

These condensed consolidated financial statements are unaudited and should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and notes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2008 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The condensed consolidated financial information as of December 31, 2008 has been derived from audited consolidated financial statements not included herein. The results of operations for interim periods are not necessarily indicative of results for the entire year.

Noncontrolling Interests

Effective January 1, 2009, the Company recorded the noncontrolling interests of other consolidated entities as equity (as opposed to as a liability or mezzanine equity) in the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. Additionally, the condensed consolidated statements of operations separately present income allocated to both noncontrolling interests and common stockholders. The Company has revised its prior period presentation, as required, to conform to this new presentation.

The portion of the consolidated interests in the general partners of our merchant banking funds, which are held directly by employees of the Company, are represented as noncontrolling interests in equity.

Revenue Recognition

Financial Advisory Fees

The Company recognizes financial advisory fee revenue for mergers and acquisitions or financing advisory and restructuring engagements when the services related to the underlying transactions are completed in accordance with the terms of its engagement letters. The Company recognizes fund placement advisory fees at the time of the client's acceptance of capital or capital commitments in accordance with the terms of the engagement letter. Retainer fees are recognized as financial advisory fee revenue over the period in which the related service is rendered.

The Company's clients reimburse certain expenses incurred by the Company in the conduct of financial advisory engagements. Expenses are reported net of such client reimbursements. Client reimbursements totaled $1.2 million and $1.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2009 and 2008, respectively and $2.7 million and $3.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

Merchant Banking and Other Revenues

Merchant banking revenues consist of (i) management fees on the Company's merchant banking activities, (ii) gains (or losses) on investments in the Company's investment in merchant banking funds and other principal investment activities, and (iii) merchant banking profit overrides.

Management fees earned from the Company's merchant banking activities are recognized over the period of related service.

The Company recognizes revenue on investments in its merchant banking funds based on its allocable share of realized and unrealized gains (or losses) reported by such funds. Investments held by merchant banking funds and certain other investments are recorded at estimated fair value. The value of merchant banking fund investments in privately held companies is determined by the general partner of the fund after giving consideration to the cost of the security, the pricing of other sales of securities by the portfolio company, the price of securities of other companies comparable to the portfolio company, purchase multiples paid in other comparable third-party transactions, the original purchase price multiple, market conditions, liquidity, operating results and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Discounts may be applied to the funds' privately held investments to reflect the lack of liquidity and other transfer restrictions. Investments in publicly traded securities are valued using quoted market prices discounted for any legal or contractual restrictions on sale. Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuations as well as the discounts applied, the estimated fair values of investments in privately held companies may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the securities existed. The values at which the Company's investments are carried on its books are adjusted to estimated fair value at the end of each quarter and the volatility in general economic conditions, stock markets and commodity prices may result in significant changes in the estimated fair value of the investments.

The Company recognizes merchant banking profit overrides when certain financial returns are achieved over the life of the fund. Profit overrides are generally calculated as a percentage of the profits over a specified threshold earned by each fund on investments managed on behalf of unaffiliated investors in GCP I and principally all investors except the Company in GCP II, GCP Europe and GSAVP. The profit overrides earned by the Company are recognized on an accrual basis throughout the year. In accordance with the guidance for accounting for formula based fees the Company records as revenue the amount that would be due pursuant to the fund agreements at each period end as if the fund agreements were terminated at that date. Overrides are generally calculated on a deal-by-deal basis but are subject to investment performance over the life of each merchant banking fund. We may be required to repay a portion of the overrides paid to the limited partners of the funds in the event a minimum performance level is not achieved by the fund as a whole (we refer to these potential repayments as "clawbacks"). We would be required to establish a reserve for potential clawbacks if we were to determine the likelihood of a clawback is probable and the amount of the clawback can be reasonably estimated. As of September 30, 2009, the Company has not reserved for any clawback obligations under applicable fund agreements. See "Note 3 Investments" for further discussion of the merchant banking revenues recognized.

Investments

The Company's investments in merchant banking funds are recorded under the equity method of accounting based upon the Company's proportionate share of the fair value of the underlying merchant banking fund's net assets. The Company's other investments, taking into consideration the Company's influence or control of the investee, are recorded under the equity method of accounting based upon the Company's proportionate share of the investee's net assets, or at estimated fair value.

Financial Advisory Fees Receivables

Receivables are stated net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. The estimate for the allowance for doubtful accounts is derived by the Company by utilizing past client transaction history and an assessment of the client's creditworthiness. The Company released its bad debt expense previously recorded of $0.3 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2009. No bad debt expense was recorded for the nine months ended September 30, 2008.

Restricted Stock Units

The Company accounts for its share-based compensation payments under which the fair value of restricted stock units granted to employees with future service requirements is recorded as compensation expense and generally amortized over a five-year service period following the date of grant. Compensation expense is determined at the date of grant. As the Company expenses the awards, the restricted stock units recognized are recorded within equity. The restricted stock units are reclassified into common stock and additional paid-in capital upon vesting. The Company records dividend equivalent payments, net of estimated forfeitures, on outstanding restricted stock units as a dividend payment and a charge to equity.

Earnings per Share

The Company calculates basic earnings per share ("EPS") by dividing net income allocated to common stockholders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS includes the determinants of basic EPS plus the dilutive effect of the common stock deliverable pursuant to restricted stock units for which future service is required as a condition to the delivery of the underlying common stock.

Effective on January 1, 2009, the Company adopted the accounting guidance for determining whether instruments granted in share-based payment transactions are participating securities. Under that guidance the Company evaluated whether instruments granted in share-based payment transactions are participating securities prior to vesting and therefore need to be included in the earnings allocation in calculating EPS. Additionally, the two-class method requires unvested share-based payment awards that have non-forfeitable rights to dividend or dividend equivalents to be treated as a separate class of securities in calculating earnings per share. The adoption of this pronouncement did not have a material effect in calculating earnings per share.

Foreign Currency Translation

Foreign currency assets and liabilities have been translated at rates of exchange prevailing at the end of the periods presented in accordance with the accounting guidance for foreign currency translation. Income and expenses transacted in foreign currency have been translated at average monthly exchange rates during the period. Translation gains and losses are included in the foreign currency translation adjustment included as a component of other comprehensive income (loss) in the condensed consolidated statement of changes in stockholders' equity. Foreign currency transaction gains and losses are included in the condensed consolidated statement of operations.

Goodwill

Goodwill is the cost in excess of the fair value of identifiable net assets at acquisition date. The Company tests its goodwill for impairment at least annually. An impairment loss is triggered if the estimated fair value of an operating business is less than estimated net book value. Such loss is calculated as the difference between the estimated fair value of goodwill and its carrying value. Goodwill is translated at the rate of exchange prevailing at the end of the periods.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. Depreciation is computed by the straight-line method over the life of the assets. Amortization of leasehold improvements is computed by the straight-line method over the lesser of the life of the asset or the term of the lease. Estimated useful lives of the Company's assets are generally as follows:

Equipment 5 years
Furniture and fixtures 7 years
Leasehold improvements the lesser of 10 years or the remaining lease term

Provision for Taxes

The Company accounts for taxes in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC), Income Taxes (Topic 740), which requires the recognition of tax benefits or expenses on the temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of its assets and liabilities.

Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity date of three months or less, when purchased, to be cash equivalents. At September 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, the carrying value of the Company's cash equivalents amounted to $41.2 million and $53.3 million respectively, which approximated fair value. Cash equivalents primarily consist of money market funds and overnight deposits.

The Company maintains its cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions with high credit ratings. The Company maintains deposits in federally insured financial institutions in excess of federally insured (FDIC) limits and in institutions in which deposits are not insured. However, management believes that the Company is not exposed to significant credit risk due to the financial position of the depository institutions in which those deposits are held.

Financial Instruments and Fair Value

The Company adopted the provisions of FASB ASC, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures (Topic 820) , as of January 1, 2008. FASB ASC Topic 820 establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under the pronouncement are described below:

Basis of Fair Value Measurement

Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;

Level 2 Quoted prices in markets that are not active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly;

Level 3 Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable.

A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. In determining the appropriate levels, the Company performs a detailed analysis of the assets and liabilities that are subject to FASB ASC Topic 820. At each reporting period, all assets and liabilities for which the fair value measurement is based on significant unobservable inputs or instruments which trade infrequently and therefore have little or no price transparency are classified as Level 3.

Derivative Instruments

The Company accounts for warrants under the guidance for accounting for derivative instruments and hedging activities. In accordance with that guidance the Company records warrants at estimated fair value in the condensed consolidated statement of financial condition with changes in estimated fair value during the period recorded in merchant banking revenue in the condensed consolidated statement of operations.

Accounting Developments

In May 2009, the FASB issued a new standard that provides guidance on management's assessment of subsequent events. The standard is effective prospectively for interim and annual periods ending after June 15, 2009. The implementation of this standard did not have a material impact on our consolidated financial position and results of operations. See Note 11 "Subsequent Events" for required disclosure.

In June 2009, the FASB issued an amendment to the accounting and disclosure requirements for the consolidation of variable interest entities. The guidance affects the overall consolidation analysis and requires enhanced disclosures on involvement with variable interest entities. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2009. The Company is currently assessing the impact of the guidance on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In June 2009, the FASB issued ASU No. 2009-01, "Topic 105 - Generally Accepted Accounting Principles - Amendments based on Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 168 - The FASB Accounting Standards Codification™ and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles." This Accounting Standards Update amends the FASB Accounting Standards Codification for the issuance of FASB Statement No. 168, including the accounting standards update instructions contained in Appendix B of the Statement. The FASB will no longer issue new standards in the form of Statements, FASB Staff Positions, or Emerging Issues Task Force Abstracts; instead the FASB will issue Accounting Standards Updates. Accounting Standards Updates will not be authoritative in their own right as they will only serve to update the Codification. These changes and the Codification itself do not change GAAP. Other than the manner in which new accounting guidance is referenced, the adoption of these changes had no impact on the condensed consolidated financial statements.

In September 2009, the FASB issued ASU No. 2009-12, "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures (Topic 820), Investments in Certain Entities that Calculate Net Asset Value per Share (or Its Equivalent)." This Accounting Standards Update amends Subtopic 820-10, "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures" and provides guidance on the fair value measurement of investments in certain entities that calculate net asset value per share (or its equivalent). The Company is currently assessing the impact of the guidance on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In October 2009, the FASB issued amendments to the accounting and disclosure for revenue recognition. These amendments, effective for fiscal years beginning on or after June 15, 2010 (early adoption is permitted), modify the criteria for recognizing revenue in multiple element arrangements and the scope of what constitutes a non-software deliverable. The Company is currently assessing the impact of the guidance on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

Note 3 Investments

Affiliated Merchant Banking Investments

The Company invests in merchant banking funds for which it also acts as the managing general partner. In addition to recording its direct investments in the funds, the Company consolidates each general partner in which it has a majority of the economic interest.

The Company's management fee income consists of fees paid by its merchant banking funds and other transaction fees paid by the portfolio companies.

Investment gains or losses from the merchant banking activities are comprised of investment income, realized and unrealized gains from the Company's investment in the Greenhill Funds, and the consolidated earnings of the general partner in which it has a majority economic interest, offset by allocated expenses of the funds. That portion of the earnings of the general partner which is held by employees and former employees of the Company is recorded as net income (loss) allocated to noncontrolling interests.

As the managing general partner, the Company makes investment decisions for the Greenhill Funds and is entitled to receive an override of the profits realized from the funds. The Company includes in consolidated merchant banking revenue all realized and unrealized profit overrides it earns from the Greenhill Funds. This includes profit overrides of the managing general partner of GCP I with respect to all investments it made after January 1, 2004 and the profit overrides of the general partners of GCP II, GCP Europe and GSAVP for all investments. From an economic perspective, profit overrides in respect of all merchant banking investments made after January 1, 2004 are allocated 50% to the Company and 50% to employees of the Company. In addition, the Company also includes in merchant banking revenue its portion and certain employees' portion of the profit overrides of GCP I with respect to investments made prior to January 1, 2004. The economic share of the profit overrides allocated to the employees of the Company is recorded as compensation expense.

Other Investments

The Company has other principal investments including investments in Iridium, other merchant banking funds and other investment vehicles. The Company's other investments are as follows:

	As of September 30, 2009 (unaudited)	As of December 31, 2008
	(in thousands)
Iridium Common Stock (formerly GHLAC Common Stock)	$ 71,148	$ 21

Barrow Street Capital III, LLC	2,950	3,736
Total other investments	$ 105,662	$ 34,952

In February 2008 the Company completed the initial public offering of units in its subsidiary, GHLAC. Each unit consisted of one share of GHLAC's common stock ("GHLAC Common Stock") and one warrant (the "Founder Warrants"). At the time of the public offering the Company purchased private placement warrants for a purchase price of $8,000,000 (the "GHLAC Private Placement Warrants" , together with the Founder Warrants, the "GHLAC Warrants"). In October 2008 GCE invested $22.9 million in Iridium Holdings LLC in the form of a convertible subordinated note (the "Iridium 5% Convertible Note"), which is unsecured, accrues interest at the rate of 5% per annum starting six months after the date of issuance and matures on October 24, 2015. The Iridium 5% Convertible Note is convertible at the Company's option, into Class A units of Iridium Holdings LLC. In September 2009 GHLAC completed its acquisition of Iridium Holdings LLC. The combined company was renamed Iridium Communications Inc.

Prior to the completion of the acquisition of Iridium by GHLAC, the Company's fully diluted ownership in GHLAC was approximately 17%. Effective upon the closing of the acquisition of Iridium by GHLAC, the Company agreed to (1) forfeit 1,441,176 GHLAC common shares, (2) forfeit 8,369,563 Founder Warrants, (3) forfeit 4,000,000 GHLAC Private Placement Warrants, and (4) exchange 4,000,000 GHLAC Private Placement Warrants for restructured warrants with a strike price of $11.50 and an expiration date of February 15, 2015. Upon completion of the acquisition of Iridium by GHLAC, the Company's fully diluted ownership in Iridium is approximately 12%.

At September 30, 2009 the Company owned 6,928,387 common shares of Iridium ("Iridium Common Stock") and warrants to purchase 4,000,000 additional shares of Iridium Common Stock at $11.50 per share ("Iridium $11.50 Warrants"). In addition, the Company held the Iridium 5% Convertible Note, which was convertible into 1,946,471 common shares of Iridium plus accrued interest. Both the Iridium Common Stock and the Iridium $11.50 Warrants are restricted from sale for one year from the acquisition date of Iridium Holdings LLC (or six months in the case of a registered offering).

At September 30, 2009, the carrying value of the investment in Iridium Common Stock (NASDAQ: IRDM) was valued at its closing quoted market price discounted for legal and contractual restrictions on the sale of securities held by the Company. Prior to the acquisition of Iridium, the value of GHLAC Common Stock was accounted for under the equity method.

The Company has used an internally developed model to value the Iridium $11.50 Warrants and the GHLAC Warrants, which takes into account various standard option valuation methodologies, including Black Scholes modeling. Selected inputs for the Company's model include: (1) the terms of the warrants, including exercise price, exercisability threshold (where applicable) and expiration date; (2) externally observable factors including yields on U.S. Treasury obligations and various equity volatility measures, including historical volatility of broad market indices; and (3) for purposes of the GHLAC Warrants internal estimates, including the Company's weighted average cost of capital and the probability of a GHLAC acquisition closing.

At September 30, 2009 the value of the Iridium 5% Convertible Note was determined based upon its conversion value into Iridium Common Stock discounted for legal and contractual restrictions on sale. Prior to the acquisition of Iridium Holdings LLC, the Company determined the value of the Iridium 5% Convertible Note based upon Iridium's financial position, liquidity, operating results and the terms of the note and other qualitative and quantitative factors.

The Company committed $5.0 million to Barrow Street Capital III, LLC ("Barrow Street III"), a real estate investment fund, of which $0.5 million remains unfunded at September 30, 2009. The unfunded amount may be called at any time prior to the expiration of the fund in 2013 to preserve or enhance the value of existing investments.

The investment in Tammac Holdings Corp was in the form of a note, with an 8% interest rate and a maturity date of November 2009. Tammac Holdings Corp was a GCP I portfolio company. During the second quarter of 2008, the Company wrote down the value of its investment in Tammac Holdings Corp and recorded an unrealized loss of $2.0 million.

Note 4 Related Parties

At September 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, the Company had receivables of $0.2 million and $0.5 million, respectively, due from the Greenhill Funds relating to expense reimbursements, which are included in due from affiliates.

Included in accounts payable and accrued expenses are $0.3 million at September 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008 in interest payable on the undistributed earnings to the U.K. members of GCI.

Note 5 Revolving Bank Loan Facility

The Company has a $90.0 million revolving loan facility from a U.S. banking institution to provide for working capital needs, facilitate the funding of investments and other general corporate purposes. The revolving loan facility is secured by all management fees earned by GCPLLC and GVP and any cash distributed to GCPLLC or GVP in respect of its partnership interests in GCPI and GCPII or GSAVP, respectively. Interest on borrowings is based on the higher of Prime Rate or 4.00% and is payable monthly. The revolving loan facility matures on December 31, 2009. In addition, the Company must comply with certain financial and liquidity covenants. The weighted average daily borrowings outstanding under the loan facility during the nine months ended September 30, 2009 and 2008 was approximately $31.8 million and $75.2 million, respectively. The weighted average interest rates for the nine months periods ended September 30, 2009 and 2008 were 4.00% and 4.39%, respectively.

Note 6 Equity

Beginning January 2009, noncontrolling interests are included in equity as opposed to a liability or mezzanine equity. The Company has revised prior year presentation, as required, to conform to this new presentation.

On September 16, 2009, a dividend of $0.45 per share was paid to shareholders of record on September 2, 2009. During the nine months ended September 30, 2009 and 2008, dividend equivalents of $3.4 million and $2.6 million, respectively, were paid on the restricted stock units that are expected to vest.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2009, 322,641 restricted stock units vested and were issued as common stock of which the Company is deemed to have repurchased 129,708 shares at an average price of $68.53 per share in conjunction with the payment of tax liabilities in respect of stock delivered to its employees in settlement of restricted stock units.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2008, 284,768 restricted stock units vested and were issued as common stock of which the Company is deemed to have repurchased 102,492 shares at an average price of $64.44 per share in conjunction with the payment of tax liabilities in respect of stock delivered to its employees in settlement of restricted stock units. In addition, during the nine months ended September 30, 2008, the Company repurchased in open market transactions 240,880 shares of its common stock at an average price of $62.27.

Note 8 Income Taxes

The Company's effective rate will vary depending on the source of the income. Investment and certain foreign sourced income are taxed at a lower effective rate than U.S. trade or business income.

Based on the Company's historical taxable income and its expectation for taxable income in the future, management expects that the deferred tax asset, which relates principally to compensation expense deducted for book purposes but not yet deducted for tax purposes, will be realized as offsets to deferred tax liabilities and as offsets to the tax consequences of future taxable income.

Any gain or loss resulting from the translation of deferred taxes for foreign affiliates is included in the foreign currency translation adjustment incorporated as a component of other comprehensive income, net of tax, in the condensed consolidated statement of changes in equity.

The Company performed a tax analysis for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2009 and 2008, and determined that there was no requirement to accrue any liabilities for those particular periods.

Note 9 Regulatory Requirements

Certain subsidiaries of the Company are subject to various regulatory requirements in the United States and United Kingdom, which specify, among other requirements, minimum net capital requirements for registered broker-dealers.

G&Co is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital requirements under Rule 15c3-1 (the Rule), which specifies, among other requirements, minimum net capital requirements for registered broker-dealers. The Rule requires G&Co to maintain a minimum net capital of the greater of $5,000 or 1/15 of aggregate indebtedness, as defined in the Rule. As of September 30, 2009, G&Co's net capital was $11.1 million, which exceeded its requirement by $9.8 million. G&Co's aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio was 1.80 to 1 at September 30, 2009. Certain advances, distributions and other capital withdrawals of G&Co are subject to certain notifications and restrictive provisions of the Rule.

GCI, GCEI and GCPE are subject to capital requirements of the FSA. As of September 30, 2009, each of GCI, GCEI and GCPE was in compliance with its local capital adequacy requirements.

Note 10 Business Information

The Company's activities as an investment banking firm constitute a single business segment, with two principal sources of revenue:

Financial advisory, which includes engagements relating to mergers and acquisitions, financing advisory and restructuring, and fund placement services; and

Merchant banking, which includes the management of outside capital invested in the Greenhill Funds and the Company's principal investments in such funds and other investments.

The following provides a breakdown of our aggregate revenues by source for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2009 and 2008, respectively:

	For the Three Months Ended
	September 30, 2009		September 30, 2008

Merchant banking and other revenues	79.2	34%	12.8	8%
Total revenues	$ 232.2	100%	$ 169.1	100%

The Company's financial advisory and merchant banking activities are closely aligned and have similar economic characteristics. A similar network of business and other relationships upon which the Company relies for financial advisory opportunities also generate merchant banking opportunities. Generally, the Company's professionals and employees are treated as a common pool of available resources and the related compensation and other Company costs are not directly attributable to either particular revenue source. In reporting to management, the Company distinguishes the sources of its investment banking revenues between financial advisory and merchant banking. However, management does not evaluate other financial data or operating results such as operating expenses, profit and loss or assets by its financial advisory and merchant banking activities.

Note 11 Subsequent Events

On October 21, 2009, the Board of Directors of the Company declared a quarterly dividend of $0.45 per share. The dividend will be payable on December 16, 2009 to the common stockholders of record on December 2, 2009.

Effective October 24, 2009, the Company exercised its option to convert the Iridium 5% Convertible Note into 1,995,629 shares of Iridium Common Stock. Under terms of the note, unless the Company exercised its right to convert prior to October 24, 2009, the right to convert the note would have irrevocably terminated and the principal amount of the note plus interest accrued from the commencement of the interest accrual period would have been due in full on October 24, 2015.

On October 28, 2009, the Company announced that it had agreed to sell to Robert H. Niehaus (or an entity to be formed by him which we refer to as NewCo) the right to raise subsequent merchant banking funds, the right to use the track record for the GCP Funds, and portions of the partnership interests entitled to carried interest allocations for a purchase price of $25.0 million, payable principally in Greenhill common stock. The Company also agreed to grant NewCo an exclusive license to use the name Greenhill Capital Partners in connection with certain successor funds to the GCP Funds. Mr. Niehaus is an executive officer of the Company and the Chairman of Greenhill Capital Partners. The transaction is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2009.

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through October 30, 2009, the date as of which the financial statements are being issued.

Overview

Greenhill is an independent investment banking firm that (i) provides financial advice on significant mergers, acquisitions, restructurings and similar corporate finance matters as well as fund placement services for private equity and other financial sponsors and (ii) manages merchant banking funds and similar vehicles and commits capital to those funds and vehicles. We act for clients located throughout the world from offices in New York, London, Frankfurt, Toronto, Tokyo, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, and San Francisco. Our activities constitute a single business segment with two principal sources of revenue:

Financial advisory, which includes engagements relating to mergers and acquisitions, financing advisory and restructuring, and fund placement advisory; and

Merchant banking, which includes the management of outside capital invested in the firm's merchant banking funds and other similar vehicles, primarily Greenhill Capital Partners (GCP I), Greenhill Capital Partners II (GCP II), Greenhill Capital Partners Europe (GCP Europe), and Greenhill SAV Partners (GSAVP together with GCP I, GCP II, and GCP Europe, the Greenhill Funds), and the firm's principal investments in the Greenhill Funds, Iridium Communication Inc., other merchant banking funds and other investments.

Historically, our financial advisory business has accounted for the majority of our revenues, and we expect that to remain so. There have been periods such as third quarter of 2009, the second quarter of 2008 and the first quarter of 2006, in which the revenues of our merchant banking business have outweighed our financial advisory revenues. Since our initial public offering our financial advisory business has generated 80% of total revenues and our merchant banking and other business has generated 20% of our total revenues.

The main driver of the financial advisory business is overall mergers and acquisitions, or M&A, and restructuring volume, particularly in the industry sectors and geographic markets in which we focus. We have recruited and plan to continue to recruit new managing directors to expand our industry sector and geographic coverage. We expect these hires will, over time, add incrementally to our revenue and income growth potential. In 2009 we have announced the recruitment of fourteen Managing Directors who bring us additional sector expertise in Financial Services, Infrastructure, Insurance, Energy, Consumer and Retail, and Gaming and Lodging. We opened an office in Los Angeles in the second quarter and an office in Houston in the third quarter.

The principal drivers of our merchant banking revenues are management fees paid by the Greenhill funds and realized and unrealized gains on investments and profit overrides, the size and timing of which are tied to a number of different factors including the performance of the particular companies in which we invest, general economic conditions in the debt and equity markets and other factors which affect the industries in which we invest, such as commodity prices. Presently, we have three merchant banking funds which are actively investing and we have assets under management in those funds of $1.3 billion. The amount of profit override we recognize will depend upon the underlying fair value of each portfolio company and is subject to volatility based upon the factors mentioned above. Profit overrides are generally calculated as a percentage of profits over a specified threshold earned by such fund on investments of each fund. At September 30, 2009, the net internal rate of return of each of GCP II, GCP Europe and GSAVP was negative. Unless we have significant gains in the portfolio companies in each fund it is not likely in the near-term that we will exceed the profit threshold for each fund and recognize profit override revenue.

In 2007, we formed GHIL Acquisition Corp. (GHILAC), a special purpose acquisition company, which completed an initial public offering in early 2008. Prior to the completion of the acquisition of Iridium and the related equity offering by GHILAC, the firm owned approximately 17% of GHILAC. On September 29, 2009, the firm announced that GHILAC completed its acquisition of Iridium Holdings LLC. The combined company has been renamed Iridium Communications Inc. (NASDAQ: IRDM, IRDMW, IRDMU, IRDMZ) (Iridium). Following the planned conversion of the firm's convertible note in Iridium in the fourth quarter 2009, the firm will own 8,924,016 shares of Iridium common stock and warrants to purchase 4,000,000 additional shares of common stock of Iridium at $11.50 per share, each of which are restricted from sale for one year from the acquisition date (or six months in the case of a registered offering). Upon completion of the acquisition of Iridium by GHILAC, the firm's fully diluted ownership in Iridium is approximately 12%.

As a result of its investment in Iridium the firm has reported cumulative investment gains of approximately $72.0 million, including approximately $66.0 million in the third quarter of 2009. Because Iridium is a publicly traded company in which we have a significant investment we are exposed to significant increases or decreases in our revenues due to changes in Iridium's market value. Since GHILAC acquired Iridium on September 29, 2009 the share price of Iridium has ranged between $7.80 and $11.70. The closing price at September 30, 2009 was $11.41.

Business Environment

Economic and global financial market conditions can materially affect our financial performance. See the Risk Factors in our Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and any updates to such risks discussed in subsequently filed quarterly reports on Form 10-Q. Net income and revenues in any period may not be indicative of full-year results or the results of any other period and may vary significantly from year-to-year and quarter-to-quarter.

Financial advisory revenues were $42.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2009 compared to $37.0 million for the three months ended September 30, 2008, which represents an increase of 15%. Financial advisory revenues were $153.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2009 compared to $156.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2008, which represents a decrease of 2%. At the same time, worldwide completed M&A volume decreased by 46%, from $2,123 billion in the first nine months of 2008 compared to $1,141 billion in the first nine months of 2009.²

Since July 2007 the financial markets have experienced a sharp contraction in credit availability and global M&A activity. Recent levels of capital markets volatility and an uncertain macroeconomic outlook have further contributed to a volatile and uncertain environment for evaluating many assets, securities and companies, which has created a more difficult environment for M&A activity. There is considerable uncertainty as to how much longer this difficult economic environment may last, although the firm agrees with many market participants and observers who have noted the beginning of a potential upturn in transaction activity. Depending on transaction timing, we believe this increased activity is likely to impact our revenue more in 2010 and beyond than in the final quarter of 2009. Because we earn a majority of our financial advisory revenue from fees that are dependent on the successful completion of a merger, acquisition, restructuring or similar transaction or the closing of a fund, our financial advisory business has been negatively impacted and may be further impacted by a reduction in M&A activity. We believe, however, that our simple business model as an independent, unconflicted adviser, in a period of instability of many of our larger banking-focused competitors, will create opportunities for us to attract new clients and has provided us with excellent recruiting opportunities to further expand our industry expertise and geographic reach.

The firm earned $73.9 million in merchant banking and other revenues in the third quarter of 2009 compared to negative revenues of ($51.9) million in the third quarter of 2008. We recognized an unrealized investment gain of approximately $66.0 million during the current quarter as a result of the successful completion of the acquisition of Iridium by our special purpose acquisition company, GHL Acquisition Corp. In the third quarter of 2008, the firm reversed previously recognized unrealized merchant banking gains and related accrued profit overrides principally resulting from mark-to-market gains on two publicly traded energy companies which had been recorded in the second quarter of 2008.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2009, we earned $79.2 million in merchant banking and other revenues compared to $12.8 million in the same period of 2008. The increase in merchant banking revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 2009 resulted principally from the unrealized gain on the acquisition of Iridium.

Adverse changes in general economic conditions, commodity prices, credit and public equity markets, including a decline in the share price of Iridium, could impact negatively the amount of both financial advisory and merchant banking revenue realized by the firm.

Recent Developments

On October 28, 2009, the firm announced that it had agreed to sell to Robert H. Niehaus (or an entity to be formed by him which we refer to as NewCo) the right to raise subsequent merchant banking funds, the right to use the track record for the GCP Funds, and portions of the partnership interests entitled to carried interest allocations for a purchase price of $25.0 million, payable principally in Greenhill common stock. The firm also agreed to grant NewCo an exclusive license to use the name Greenhill Capital Partners in connection with certain successor funds to the GCP Funds. Mr. Niehaus is an executive officer of the firm and the Chairman of Greenhill Capital Partners. The transaction is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2009.

Results of Operations

Summary

Our third quarter 2009 revenues of $116.3 million compare with negative revenues of ($14.9) million for the third quarter of 2008, which represents an increase of $131.2 million. Revenues for the third quarter of 2008 included the reversal of unrealized mark-to-market merchant banking gains recognized in the prior quarter on publicly traded energy investments that resulted from a sharp decline in energy prices during the quarter. On a year to date basis, revenue through September 30, 2009 was $232.2 million, compared to $169.1 million for the comparable period in 2008, representing an increase of $63.1 million, or 37%. The increase resulted principally from the increase in merchant banking revenues resulting from the completion of the acquisition of Iridium by our special purpose acquisition company.

Our third quarter net income of $30.1 million compares with a net loss of ($12.2) million for the third quarter of 2008. For the nine months ended September 30, 2009, net income was $54.1 million compared to net income of $36.3 million for the comparable period in 2008, which represented an increase of $17.8 million, or 51%. The increase in net income for both the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2009 as compared to the same periods in 2008 was principally attributable to the improvement in merchant banking revenues.

The firm's quarterly revenues and net income can fluctuate materially depending on the number and size of completed transactions on which it advised, the number and size of merchant banking gains (or losses) and other factors. Accordingly, the revenues and net income in any particular period may not be indicative of future results.

Revenues By Source

The following provides a breakdown of our total revenues by source for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2009 and 2008, respectively:

Financial Advisory Revenues

Financial advisory revenues were $42.4 million in of the third quarter of 2009 compared to $37.0 million in the third quarter of 2008, which represents an increase of 15%. The increase in our financial advisory fees in the third quarter of 2009 as compared to the same period in 2008 generally reflected an increase in the volume of transaction activity offset in part by a decrease in the scale of the completed assignments.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2009, advisory revenues were $153.0 million compared to $156.3 million for the comparable period in 2008, representing a decrease of 2%. The slight decrease in our advisory revenues in the nine months ended September 30, 2009 as compared to the same period in the prior year reflected the completion of fewer large transactions offset by an increase in our client engagement activity in a much slower global M&A market.

Completed assignments in the third quarter of 2009 included:

the acquisition by Barnes & Noble, Inc. of Barnes & Noble College Booksellers, Inc.;

the representation of Groupe Aeroplan Inc. on its participation in a credit facility for Air Canada;

the acquisition by Laboratory Corporation of America of Monogram Biosciences, Inc.;

the representation of Quebecor World Inc in connection with its restructuring under Canada's Companies Creditors Arrangement Act and Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy code;

the representation of Rexam plc on its rights issue; and the acquisition by Validus Holdings Ltd. of IPC Holdings Ltd.

Merchant Banking and Other Revenues

Our merchant banking fund management activities currently consist primarily of the management of and our investment in Greenhill's merchant banking funds: GCP I, GCP II, GCP Europe and GSAVP. We generate merchant banking revenue from (i) management fees paid by the funds, (ii) gains (or losses) on our investments in the merchant banking funds and other principal investment activities, and (iii) merchant banking profit overrides. The following table sets forth additional information relating to our merchant banking and other revenues:

	For the Three Months Ended September 30,		For the Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2009	2008	2009	2008
	(in millions, unaudited)
Management fees	$ 4.2	$ 5.1	$ 13.2	$ 14.7
Net realized and unrealized gains (losses) on investments in merchant banking funds	4.5	(21.8)	(1.8)	(2.5)
Net realized and unrealized merchant banking profit overrides	(0.7)	(35.5)	(0.3)	(0.9)
Other realized and unrealized investment income (loss)	65.9	(0.5)	67.8	(1.8)
Interest income	0.0	0.8	0.3	3.3
Total merchant banking and other revenues	$ 73.9	$ (51.9)	$ 79.2	$ 12.8

The firm earned $73.9 million in merchant banking and other revenues in the third quarter of 2009 compared to negative ($51.9) million in the third quarter of 2008. During the third quarter of 2009 we announced that GHL Acquisition Corp., the special purpose acquisition company sponsored by the firm, had completed its acquisition of Iridium.

As a result of the completion of the acquisition of Iridium by GHLAC we recognized an unrealized investment gain of approximately $66.0 million during the quarter. Following the planned conversion of the firm's convertible note in Iridium, we will own 8,924,016 shares of Iridium common stock and warrants to purchase 4,000,000 additional shares of common stock of Iridium at $11.50 per share, each of which are restricted from sale for one year from the acquisition date (or six months in the case of a registered offering). We also recognized investment gains during the quarter from an increase in the fair market value of investments held through our merchant banking funds.

In the third quarter of 2008 we reversed previously recognized unrealized merchant banking gains and related accrued profit overrides of approximately $53.8 million principally resulting from mark-to-market gains on two publicly traded energy companies which had been recorded in the second quarter of 2008. During the third quarter of 2009 our merchant banking funds (and the firm) recognized gains from eight of our portfolio companies and recorded losses on two of our portfolio companies.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2009, the firm earned $79.2 million in merchant banking and other revenues compared to $12.8 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2008, an increase of $66.4 million. The increase in merchant banking and other revenues in the first nine months of 2009 compared with the same period in 2008 resulted primarily from the unrealized gain on the firm's investment in Iridium offset by lower interest earned on cash balances and a slight reduction in management fee revenue.

On a year to date basis in 2009, our merchant banking funds (and the firm) recognized gains from ten of our portfolio companies and recorded losses on nine of our portfolio companies.

The values at which our investments are carried on our books are adjusted to fair value at the end of each quarter based upon a number of factors including the length of time the investments have been held, the trading price of the shares (in the case of publicly traded securities), restrictions on transfer and other recognized valuation methodologies. Significant changes in general economic conditions, stock markets and commodity prices, as well as capital events at the portfolio companies such as initial public offerings or private sales of securities, may result in significant movements in the fair value of such investments. Accordingly, any such changes or capital events may have a material effect, positive or negative, on our revenues and results of operations. The frequency and timing of such changes or capital events and their impact on our results are by nature unpredictable and will vary from period to period. See

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates Revenue Recognition Merchant Banking and Other Revenues .

Moreover, the aggregate value of our merchant banking investments may fluctuate depending on the timing of the investment and liquidation events and the life cycles of each of the funds. For example, the commitment period for GCP I expired on March 31, 2007, and the investments in GCP I have been largely sold or otherwise monetized, while the commitments made to GCP II, GCPE and GSAVP are still in the process of being invested (with approximately 82% of the commitments in GCP II, 39% of the commitments in GCPE, and 48% of the commitments in GSAVP having been drawn down as of September 30, 2009). The time elapsed between making and monetization of investments in our merchant banking funds can vary considerably and the fair value of the investments may fluctuate significantly over that time.

Additionally, because Iridium is a publicly traded company in which we have a significant investment we are exposed to significant increases or decreases in our revenues due to changes in Iridium's market value. We are currently restricted from sale of our holdings in Iridium for one year from the acquisition date (or six months in the case of a registered offering). At September 30, 2009 the carrying value of our investment in Iridium was $102.7 million, discounted for legal and contractual restrictions on the sale of securities held by the Company.

At September 30, 2009, the firm had principal investments of $178.5 million, including our investment in Iridium. Of that amount, 17% of our investments related to the financial services sector, 8% to the energy sector, 17% to other industry sectors and 58% to the investment in Iridium. We held approximately 96% of our total principal investments in North American companies, with the remainder in European companies. Our investments in merchant banking companies that became publicly traded after we first invested in them, including Iridium, represented 66% of our total principal investments.

In terms of new investment activity in our merchant banking funds, during the third quarter of 2009, our funds invested $5.5 million, 11% of which was firm capital. In the same period in 2008, our funds invested $106.0 million, 11% of which was firm capital. On a year to date basis in 2009, our funds invested $14.3 million, 11% of which was firm capital. In the same period in 2008 our funds invested $134.1 million, 11% of which was firm capital.

The investment gains or losses in our merchant banking and other investment portfolio may fluctuate significantly over time due to factors beyond our control, such as performance of each company in our portfolio, equity market valuations, commodity prices and merger and acquisition opportunities. Revenue recognized from gains (or losses) recorded in any particular period are not necessarily indicative of revenue that may be realized and/or recognized in future periods.

Operating Expenses

We classify operating expenses as compensation and benefits expense and non-compensation expenses.

Our total operating expenses for the third quarter of 2009 were $65.0 million, compared to $4.0 million of total operating expenses for the third quarter of 2008. Total operating expenses in the third quarter of 2008 were significantly lower than in the same period in 2009 as a result of a reduction in accrued compensation due to the negative revenue reported in the third quarter of 2008 and is more fully described below. The pre-tax income margin for the quarter ended September 30, 2009 was 44%.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2009, total operating expenses were $141.3 million, compared to $111.0 million of total operating expenses for the same period in 2008. The increase of $30.3 million, or 27%, relates principally to an increase in compensation expense described in more detail below. The pre-tax income margin for the nine months ended September 30, 2009 was 39% compared to 34% for the comparable period in 2008.

The following table sets forth information relating to our operating expenses, which are reported net of reimbursements of certain expenses by our clients and merchant banking portfolio companies:

	For the Three Months Ended September 30,		For the Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2009	2008	2009	2008
	(in millions, unaudited)
Employee compensation and benefits expense	$53.2	$ (6.6)	$106.8	$ 77.9
% of revenues	46%	NM	46%	46%
Non-compensation expense	11.8	10.6	34.5	33.1
% of revenues	10%	NM	15%	20%
Total operating expense	65.0	4.0	141.3	111.0
% of revenues	56%	NM	61%	66%
Total income (loss) before tax	51.4	(18.9)	90.9	58.2
Pre-tax income margin	44%	NM	39%	34%

Depending on advisory transaction timing and the year-end market values of the firm's investments, we may end the year with a somewhat higher compensation ratio than we have had historically. If that does occur, the firm's objective will be to revert to a historic compensation ratio as soon as practicable as advisory activity increases.

Compensation and Benefits Expenses

Our employee compensation and benefits expenses in the third quarter of 2009 were $53.2 million, which reflects a 46% ratio of compensation to revenues. This amount compares to negative ($6.6) million for the third quarter of 2008. In the third quarter of 2008 we reversed a portion of the annual bonus accrual recorded earlier in the year consistent with the negative revenues reported in that quarter.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2009 and 2008, the ratio of compensation to revenues remained constant at 46%. Our employee compensation and benefits expenses amounted to $106.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2009 compared to $77.9 million of compensation and benefits expenses for the same period in the prior year. The increase of $28.9 million, or 37%, is due to higher revenues in the first nine months of 2009 compared to the same period in the prior year.

Our compensation expense is generally based upon revenue and can fluctuate materially in any particular quarter depending upon the amount of revenue recognized as well as other factors. Accordingly, the amount of compensation expense recognized in any particular period may not be indicative of compensation expense in a future period.

Non-Compensation Expenses

Our non-compensation expenses include the costs for occupancy and rental, communications, information services, professional fees, recruiting, travel and entertainment, insurance, depreciation, interest expense and other operating expenses. Reimbursable client expenses are netted against non-compensation expenses.

Our non-compensation expenses were $11.8 million in the third quarter of 2009, compared to $10.6 million in the third quarter of 2008, representing an increase of 11%. The increase is principally related to higher professional and recruitment fees offset by lower interest expense due to lower average borrowings outstanding.

For the first nine months of 2009, our non-compensation expenses were $34.5 million, compared to $33.1 million in the first nine months of 2008, representing an increase of 4%. The increase is principally related to higher professional fees, recruitment fees related to the hiring of new personnel, and the absence of foreign currency gains, partially offset by decreased interest expense due to lower average borrowings outstanding and slightly lower borrowing rates.

Non-compensation expenses as a percentage of revenues in the three months ended September 30, 2009 were 10%. Non-compensation expenses as a percentage of revenues in the nine months ended September 30, 2009 were 15% compared to 20% for the same period in the prior year. The decrease in non-compensation expenses as a percentage of revenues in the nine months ended September 30, 2009 compared to the same period in the prior year reflects a slightly higher amount of expenses spread over significantly higher revenues.

The firm's non-compensation expenses as a percentage of revenue can vary as a result of a variety of factors including fluctuation in revenue amounts, the amount of recruiting and business development activity, the amount of reimbursement of engagement-related expenses by clients, the amount of short term borrowings, interest rate and currency movements and other factors. Accordingly, the non-compensation expenses as a percentage of revenue in any particular period may not be indicative of the non-compensation expenses as a percentage of revenue in future periods.

Provision for Income Taxes

The provision for taxes in the third quarter of 2009 was $21.3 million, which reflects an effective tax rate of 41%. This compares to an income tax benefit in the third quarter of 2008 of $6.7 million. The effective tax rate for the third quarter of 2009 is higher than our historical average rate due to a greater proportion of our income being earned in higher tax rate jurisdictions during the period.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2009, the provision for taxes was $36.8 million, which reflects an effective tax rate of 41%. This compares to a provision for taxes for the nine months ended September 30, 2008 of $21.9 million, which reflects an effective tax rate of 38% for the period. The increase in the provision for taxes in the year to date period in 2009 as compared to the same period in 2008 is due to higher pre-tax income and a higher effective tax rate due to a greater proportion of our income being earned in higher tax rate jurisdictions during 2009.

The effective tax rate can fluctuate as a result of variations in the relative amounts of financial advisory and merchant banking income earned in the tax jurisdictions in which the firm operates and invests. Accordingly, the effective tax rate in any particular period may not be indicative of the effective tax rate in future periods.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our liquidity position is monitored by our Management Committee, which generally meets monthly. The Management Committee monitors cash, other significant working capital assets and liabilities, debt, principal investment commitments and other matters relating to liquidity requirements. As cash accumulates it is invested in short term investments expected to provide significant liquidity.

We generate cash from both our operating activities in the form of financial advisory fees and asset management fees and our merchant banking and other principal investments in the form of distributions of investment proceeds, in the case of our merchant banking investments, and profit overrides. We use our cash primarily for operating purposes, compensation of our employees, payment of income taxes, investments in merchant banking funds, payment of dividends, repurchase of shares of our stock and leasehold improvements.

Because a portion of the compensation we pay to our employees is distributed in annual bonus awards in February of each year, our net cash balance is generally at its lowest level during the first quarter and accumulates throughout the remainder of the year. In general, we collect our accounts receivable within 60 days except for certain restructuring transactions where collections may take longer due to court-ordered holdbacks and fees generated through our fund placement advisory services, which are generally paid in installments over a period of two years. Our liabilities typically consist of accounts payable, which are generally paid monthly, accrued compensation, which includes accrued cash bonuses that are paid in the first quarter of the following year to the large majority of our employees, and taxes payable. In February 2009, cash bonuses of $18.6 million relating to 2008 compensation were paid to our employees. In addition, we paid $11.6 million in early 2009 related to income taxes owed for the year ended December 31, 2008.

Since our initial public offering we have used a portion of our cash reserves to repurchase shares of our common stock, pay dividends and make investments in our merchant banking funds. Our commitments to our merchant banking funds may require us to fund capital calls on short notice. On the other hand, distributions from our merchant banking funds are generally made shortly after proceeds are received by the funds. We are unable to predict the timing or magnitude of share repurchases, capital calls or distribution of investment proceeds.

Our merchant banking funds typically invest in privately held companies. The ability of our merchant banking funds to sell or dispose of the securities they own depends on a number of factors beyond the control of the funds, including general economic and sector conditions, stock market conditions, commodity prices, and the availability of financing to potential buyers of such securities, among other issues. As a result we consider our investments illiquid for the short term. Similarly, our investment in Iridium, is restricted from sale for one year from the acquisition date (or six months in the case of a registered offering) and our ability to sell those securities is subject to factors such as general economic, sector and stock market conditions which we cannot control. However, following the lapse of the resale restrictions dependent upon market conditions it is our intention to monetize our position in a disciplined manner over time.

As of September 30, 2009, we had total commitments (not reflected on our balance sheet) relating to future principal investments in GCP II, GSAVP and GCP Europe and other merchant banking activities of $47.6 million. These commitments, which may not be drawn down in full, are expected to be drawn on from time to time and be substantially invested over a period of up to five years from the relevant commitment dates.

To provide for working capital needs, facilitate the funding of merchant banking investments and other general corporate purposes we retain a $90.0 million revolving bank loan facility. Borrowings under the facility are secured by all management fees earned by Greenhill Capital Partners, LLC and Greenhill Venture Partners, LLC and any cash distributed in respect of their partnership interests in GCP I, GCP II and GSAVP, as applicable. Interest on borrowings is based on the higher of Prime Rate or 4.00%. The revolving bank loan facility has a term of twelve months and matures on December 31, 2009. We are currently in discussions with the lender to extend the term of our facility. At September 30, 2009, $33.6 million of borrowings were outstanding on the loan facility and we were compliant with all loan covenants.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2009, the firm is deemed to have repurchased 129,708 shares of its common stock at an average price of $68.53 per share as a result of the payment of tax liabilities in respect of stock delivered to its employees in settlement of restricted stock units.

We evaluate our cash operating position on a regular basis in light of current market conditions. Our recurring monthly operating disbursements consist of base compensation expense and other operating expenses, which principally include rent and occupancy, information services, professional fees, travel and entertainment and other general expenses. Our recurring quarterly and annual disbursements consist of tax payments, dividend distributions and cash bonus payments. These amounts vary depending upon our profitability and other factors. We incur non-recurring disbursements for our investments in our merchant banking funds and other principal payments, leasehold improvements and share repurchases. While we believe that the cash generated from operations and funds available from the revolving bank loan facility will be sufficient to meet our expected operating needs, commitments to our merchant banking activities, build-out costs of new office space, tax obligations, share repurchases and common dividends, we may adjust our variable expenses and non-recurring disbursements, if necessary, to meet our liquidity needs. In the event that our needs for liquidity should increase further as we expand our business, we may consider a range of financing alternatives to meet any such needs.

Cash Flows

In the first nine months of 2009, our cash and cash equivalents decreased by $4.3 million from December 31, 2008. We generated $39.6 million in operating activities, including $18.9 million from net income after giving effect to the non-cash items and a net increase in working capital of $20.7 million (principally from a decrease in accounts receivable, and increases in accrued compensation payable and deferred taxes payable). We used $3.9 million in investing activities, including $6.6 million in new investments in our merchant banking funds and other investments and $2.8 million for the build-out of new office space, partially offset by distributions from investments of $5.5 million. We used $42.0 million for financing activities, including $8.9 million for the repurchase of our common stock from employees in conjunction with the payment of tax liabilities in settlement of vested restricted stock units and $41.7 million for the payment of dividends, partially offset by $7.1 million of net borrowing from our revolving loan facility.

In the first nine months of 2008, our cash and cash equivalents decreased by $121.4 million from December 31, 2007. We used $34.9 million in operating activities, including $69.2 million from net income after giving effect to the non-cash items, offset by a net decrease in working capital of $104.1 million (principally from the payments of year-end bonuses and taxes). We used $13.8 million in investing activities, including $40.6 million in new investments in our merchant banking funds and other investments and $2.1 million which was used for equipment purchases and leasehold improvements, partially offset by $17.7 million related to distributions received from our merchant banking investments and proceeds of $11.2 million from the sale of investments. We used $66.0 million for financing activities, including $5.3 million for the net borrowings from our revolving loan facility, $21.6 million for the repurchase of our common stock, $39.0 million for the payment of dividends and $1.4 million for the repayment of prior undistributed earnings to GCI's U.K. members.

Market Risk

We limit our investments to (1) short term cash investments, which we believe do not face any material interest rate risk, equity price risk or other market risk and (2) principal investments made in GCP, GSAVP, GCP Europe and other merchant banking funds, Iridium and other investments.

We maintain our cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions with high credit ratings. We may maintain deposits in federally insured financial institutions in excess of federally insured (FDIC) limits and in institutions in which deposits are not insured. However, management believes that the firm is not exposed to significant credit risk due to the financial position of the depository institutions in which those deposits are held. We monitor the quality of these investments on a regular basis and may choose to diversify such investments to mitigate perceived market risk. Our short term cash investments are primarily denominated in U.S. dollars, Canadian dollars, pound sterling and euros, and we face modest foreign currency risk in our cash balances held in accounts outside the United States due to potential currency movements and the associated foreign currency translation accounting requirements. To the extent that the cash balances in local currency exceed our short term obligations, we may hedge our foreign currency exposure.

With regard to our principal investments (including, to the extent applicable, our portion of any profit overrides earned on such investments), we face exposure to changes in the estimated fair value of the companies in which we and our merchant banking funds invest, which historically has been volatile. Significant changes in the public equity markets may have a material effect on our results of operations. Volatility in the general equity markets would impact our operations primarily because of changes in the fair value of our merchant banking or principal investments that are publicly traded securities. Volatility in the availability of credit would impact our operations primarily because of changes in the fair value of merchant banking or principal investments that rely upon a portion of leverage to operate. We have analyzed our potential exposure to general equity market risk by performing sensitivity analyses on those investments held by us and in our merchant banking funds which consist of publicly traded securities. This analysis showed that if we assume that at September 30, 2009, the market prices of all public securities, including Iridium, were 10% lower, the impact on our operations would be a decrease in revenues of $11.8 million. We meet on a quarterly basis to determine the fair value of the investments held in our merchant banking portfolio and to discuss the risks associated with those investments. The respective Investment Committees manage the risks associated with the merchant banking portfolio by closely monitoring and managing the types of investments made as well as the monetization and realization of existing investments.

In addition, the reported amounts of our revenues may be affected principally by movements in the rate of exchange between the euro, pound sterling and Canadian dollar (in which collectively 17% of our revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 2009 were denominated) and the dollar, in which our financial statements are denominated. We do not currently hedge against movements in these exchange rates. We analyzed our potential exposure to a decline in exchange rates by performing a sensitivity analysis on our net income. Because of the strengthening in value of the dollar, on weighted average basis, relative to the pound sterling and euro over the first nine months of 2009 as compared to the same period in 2008, our earnings in the first nine months of 2009 were lower than they would have been in the same period in the prior year had the value of the dollar relative to those other currencies remained constant. However, we do not believe we face any material risk in this respect.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

We believe that the following discussion addresses Greenhill's most critical accounting policies, which are those that are most important to the presentation of our financial condition and results of operations and require management's most difficult, subjective and complex judgments.

Basis of Financial Information

Our condensed consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, which require management to make estimates and assumptions regarding future events that affect the amounts reported in our financial statements and related footnotes, including investment valuations, compensation accruals and other matters. We believe that the estimates used in preparing our condensed consolidated financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates. Certain reclassifications have been made to prior period information to conform to current period presentation.

The condensed consolidated financial statements of the firm include all consolidated accounts and Greenhill & Co., Inc. and all other entities in which we have a controlling interest, including Greenhill & Co. International LLP, Greenhill & Co Europe LLP and Greenhill Capital Partners Europe LLP, after eliminations of all significant inter-company accounts and transactions. In accordance with the accounting pronouncements on the consolidation of variable interest entities, the firm consolidates the general partners of our merchant banking funds in which we have a majority of the economic interest. The general partners account for their investments in their merchant banking funds under the equity method of accounting. As such, the general partners record their proportionate share of income (loss) from the underlying merchant banking funds. As the merchant banking funds follow investment company accounting and generally record all their assets and liabilities at fair value, the general partners' investment in merchant banking funds represent an estimation of fair value. The firm does not consolidate the merchant banking funds since the firm, through its general partner and limited partner interests, does not have a majority of the economic interest in such funds and the limited partners have certain rights to remove the general partner by a simple majority of unaffiliated third-party investors.

Noncontrolling Interests

Effective January 1, 2009, the firm recorded the noncontrolling interests of other consolidated entities as equity (as opposed to as a liability or mezzanine equity) in the condensed consolidated statements of financial condition. Additionally, the condensed consolidated statements of income separately present income allocated to both noncontrolling interests and common stockholders. The firm has revised its prior period presentation, as required, to conform to this new pronouncement.

The portion of the consolidated interests in the general partners of our merchant banking funds, which are held directly by employees of the firm, are represented as noncontrolling interests in equity.

Revenue Recognition

Financial Advisory Fees

We recognize financial advisory fee revenue for mergers and acquisitions or financing advisory and restructuring engagements when the services related to the underlying transactions are completed in accordance with the terms of the engagement letter. The firm recognizes fund placement advisory fees at the time of the client's acceptance of capital or capital commitments in accordance with the terms of the engagement letter. Retainer fees are recognized as financial advisory fee revenue over the period in which the related service is rendered.

Our clients reimburse certain expenses incurred by us in the conduct of financial advisory engagements. Expenses are reported net of such client reimbursements.

Merchant Banking and Other Revenues

Merchant banking revenues consist of (i) management fees on our merchant banking activities, (ii) gains (or losses) on investments in our merchant banking funds and other principal investment activities and (iii) merchant banking profit overrides.

Management fees earned from the firm's merchant banking activities are recognized over the period of related service.

We recognize revenue on investments in merchant banking funds based on our allocable share of realized and unrealized gains (or losses) reported by such funds. Investments held by merchant banking funds are recorded at estimated fair value. The value of merchant banking fund investments in privately held companies is determined by the general partner of the fund after giving consideration to the cost of the security, the pricing of other sales of securities by the portfolio company, the price of securities of other companies comparable to the portfolio company, purchase multiples paid in other comparable third-party transactions, the original purchase price multiple, market conditions, liquidity, operating results and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Discounts may be applied to the funds' privately held investments to reflect the lack of liquidity and other transfer restrictions. Investments held by the merchant banking funds as well as those held by us in publicly traded securities are valued using quoted market prices discounted for any legal or contractual restrictions on sale. Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuations as well as the discounts applied, the estimated fair values of investments in privately held companies may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the securities existed. The values at which our investments are carried on our books are adjusted to estimated fair value at the end of each quarter and the volatility in general economic conditions, stock markets and commodity prices may result in significant changes in the estimated fair value of the investments.

We recognize merchant banking profit overrides when certain financial returns are achieved over the life of the fund. Profit overrides are generally calculated as a percentage of the profits over a specified threshold earned by each fund on investments managed on behalf of unaffiliated investors for GCP I and principally all investors except the firm in GCP II, GCP Europe and GSAVP. The profit overrides earned by the firm are recognized on an accrual basis throughout the year in accordance with Method 2 of EITF Issue No. D-96, Accounting for Management Fees Based on a Formula (EITF D-96). In accordance with Method 2 of EITF D-96 the firm records as revenue the amount that would be due pursuant to the fund agreements at each period end as if the fund agreements were terminated at that date. Overrides are generally calculated on a deal-by-deal basis but are subject to investment performance over the life of each merchant banking fund. We may be required to repay a portion of the overrides paid to the limited partners of the funds in the event a minimum performance level is not achieved by the fund as a whole (we refer to these potential repayments as clawbacks). We would be required to establish a reserve for potential clawbacks if we were to determine that the likelihood of a clawback is probable and the amount of the clawback can be reasonably estimated. As of September 30, 2009, we have not reserved for any clawback obligations under applicable fund agreements.

Investments

The firm's investments in merchant banking funds are recorded under the equity method of accounting based upon the firm's proportionate share of the fair value of the underlying merchant banking fund's net assets. The firm's other investments, which consider the firm's influence or control of the investee, are recorded under the equity method of accounting based upon the firm's proportionate share of the investee's net assets, or at estimated fair value as described below.

Restricted Stock Units

The firm accounts for its share-based compensation payments under which the fair value of restricted stock units granted to employees with future service requirements is recorded as compensation expense and generally amortized over a five-year service period following the date of grant. Compensation expense is determined at the date of grant. As the firm expenses the awards, the restricted stock units recognized are recorded within equity. The restricted stock units are reclassified into common stock and additional paid-in capital upon vesting. The firm records dividend equivalent payments, net of estimated forfeitures, on outstanding restricted stock units as a dividend payment and a charge to equity.

Earnings per Share

The firm calculates basic earnings per share ("EPS ") by dividing net income allocated to common stockholders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS includes the determinants of basic EPS plus the dilutive effect of the common stock deliverable pursuant to restricted stock units for which future service is required as a condition to the delivery of the underlying common stock.

Effective on January 1, 2009, the firm adopted the accounting guidance for determining whether instruments granted in share based payment transactions are participating securities. Under that guidance the firm evaluated whether instruments granted in share-based payment transactions are participating securities prior to vesting and therefore need to be included in the earnings allocation in calculating EPS. Additionally, the two-class method requires unvested share-based payment awards that have non-forfeitable rights to dividend or dividend equivalents to be treated as a separate class of securities in calculating earnings per share. The adoption of this pronouncement did not have a material effect in calculating earnings per share.

Provision for Taxes

The firm accounts for taxes in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC), Income Taxes (Topic 740) , which requires the recognition of tax benefits or expenses on the temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of its assets and liabilities.

Cash Equivalents

The firm considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity date of three months or less, when purchased, to be cash equivalents. At September 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, the carrying value of the firm's cash equivalents approximated fair value. Cash equivalents primarily consist of money market funds and overnight deposits.

The firm maintains its cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions with high credit ratings. The firm maintains deposits in federally insured financial institutions in excess of federally insured (FDIC) limits and in institutions in which deposits are not insured. However, management believes that the firm is not exposed to significant credit risk due to the financial position of the depository institutions in which those deposits are held.

Financial Instruments and Fair Value

The firm adopted the provisions of FASB ASC, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures (Topic 820), as of January 1, 2008. FASB ASC Topic 820 establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under the pronouncement are described below:

Basis of Fair Value Measurement

Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;

Level 2 Quoted prices in markets that are not active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly;

Level 3 Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable.

A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. In determining the appropriate levels, the firm performs a detailed analysis of the assets and liabilities that are subject to FASB ASC Topic 820. At each reporting period, all assets and liabilities for which the fair value measurement is based on significant unobservable inputs or instruments which trade infrequently and therefore have little or no price transparency are classified as Level 3.

Derivative Instruments

The firm accounts for the warrants, which were obtained in connection with its investment in the Iridium, under the guidance for accounting for derivative instruments and hedging activities. In accordance with that guidance the firm records the warrants at estimated fair value in the condensed consolidated statement of financial condition with changes in estimated fair value during the period recorded in merchant banking revenue in the condensed consolidated statement of income.

Accounting Developments

In May 2009, the FASB issued a new guidance standard that provides guidance on management's assessment of subsequent events. The standard is effective prospectively for interim and annual periods ending after June 15, 2009. The implementation of this standard did not have a material impact on the firm's consolidated financial position and results of operations.

In June 2009, the FASB issued an amendment to the accounting and disclosure requirements for the consolidation of variable interest entities. The guidance affects the overall consolidation analysis and requires enhanced disclosures on involvement with variable interest entities. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2009. The firm is currently assessing the impact of the guidance on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In June 2009, the FASB issued ASU No. 2009-01, Topic 105 Generally Accepted Accounting Principles amendments based on Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 168 The FASB Accounting Standards Codification™ and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. This Accounting Standards Update amends the FASB Accounting Standards Codification for the issuance of FASB Statement No. 168, including the accounting standards update instructions contained in Appendix B of the Statement. The FASB will no longer issue new standards in the form of Statements, FASB Staff Positions, or Emerging Issues Task Force Abstracts; instead the FASB will issue Accounting Standards Updates. Accounting Standards Updates will not be authoritative in their own right as they will only serve to update the Codification. These changes and the Codification itself do not change GAAP. Other than the manner in which new accounting guidance is referenced, the adoption of these changes had no impact on the condensed consolidated financial statements.

In September 2009, the FASB issued ASU No. 2009-12, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures (Topic 820), Investments in Certain Entities that Calculate Net Asset Value per Share (or Its Equivalent). This Accounting Standards Update amends Subtopic 820-10, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures and provides guidance on the fair value measurement of investments in certain entities that calculate net asset value per share (or its equivalent). The firm is currently assessing the impact of the guidance on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

In October 2009, the FASB issued amendments to the accounting and disclosure for revenue recognition. These amendments, effective for fiscal years beginning on or after June 15, 2010 (early adoption is permitted), modify the criteria for recognizing revenue in multiple element arrangements and the scope of what constitutes a non-software deliverable. The firm is currently assessing the impact of the guidance on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

We do not believe we face any material interest rate risk, foreign currency exchange risk, equity price risk or other market risk. See Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations Market Risk above for a discussion of market risks.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Under the supervision and with the participation of the firm's management, including our Co-Chief Executive Officers and Chief Financial Officer, we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of the firm's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act)). Based upon this evaluation, our Co-Chief Executive Officers and Chief Financial Officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of the end of the period covered by this report.

No change in the firm's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) of the Exchange Act) occurred during the period covered by this report that materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the firm's internal control over financial reporting.
