Description of Business

Consulier Engineering, Inc. (Consulier) and its subsidiaries are engaged in three primary business lines: the distribution of Captain Cra-Z Soap , investment activities and medical software activities.

Consulier International, Inc. (a subsidiary) markets and distributes Captain Cra-Z Soap .

Consulier's income (loss) derived from ownership of limited liability companies are derived from investments in limited liability companies and limited partnership interests (Note 4) in BioSafe Systems, LLC (BioSafe), Systems Technologies, LLC (ST, LLC) and AVM, L.P. (AVM), an Illinois limited partnership. BioSafe develops and markets environmentally safe products, alternatives to traditionally toxic pesticides. AVM is a broker/dealer in government securities and other fixed income instruments. Consulier's Chairman and majority stockholder, Warren B. Mosler (Mosler), is a general partner of the general partner of AVM. ST, LLC is the majority member (75%) of Patient Care Technology Systems, LLC (PCTS) which develops and licenses data based integrated emergency room information systems, under the trade name Amelior ED . Mosler ownership in ST, LLC was approximately 28% as of June 30, 2005. On September 28, 2004, PCTS acquired all of the assets and assumed certain liabilities of Healthcare Information Technology, Inc. (HIT), a provider of passive tracking technologies for emergency departments and operating rooms. The software technologies acquired from HIT track the status and location of patients and assets through wireless badges worn by patients and staff or attached to equipment in the emergency department and ancillary areas.

On October 8, 2004, the Company merged C-6 Products, Inc. into Consulier Engineering, Inc. C-6 Products, Inc. distributed the Tool Topper™ products.

Basis of Consolidation

The accompanying condensed interim consolidated financial statements include Consulier and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Consulier International, Inc., (collectively known as the Company). The Company began consolidating ST, LLC, a variable interest entity (VIE) as of December 31, 2004. Effective April 1, 2005, ST, LLC amended its operating agreement to reallocate membership interests based upon historical contributions (Note 2).

The accompanying condensed interim consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Consulier and its subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. The Company uses the equity method of accounting for investments where its ownership is between 20% and 50%. For investments in partnerships that meet the criteria of a VIE and where the Company is deemed to be the primary beneficiary for accounting purposes, such entities are consolidated effective December 31, 2004 (Note 2).

Interim Financial Data

The accompanying unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for interim financial information and with instructions to Form 10-QSB and Regulation S-B. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for complete financial statements. However, management believes the accompanying unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements contain all adjustments, consisting of only normal recurring adjustments, necessary to present fairly the consolidated financial position of the Consulier Engineering, Inc. and subsidiaries (Consulier) as of June 30, 2005, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the three months ended June 30, 2005 and 2004. The results of operations and cash flows for the period are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations or cash flows that can be expected for the year ending December 31, 2005. For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements and footnotes thereto included in Consulier s annual report on Form 10-KSB for the year ended December 31, 2004.

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Estimates are used when accounting for allowances for doubtful accounts, revenue reserves, inventory reserves, depreciation and amortization, taxes, contingencies and impairment allowances. Such estimates are reviewed on an on-going basis, actual results could differ from these estimates and those differences may be material.

Concentrations

Financial instruments, which potentially expose the Company to concentrations of credit risk, as defined by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 105, Disclosure of Information about Financial Instruments with Off-Balance-Sheet Risk and Financial Instruments with Concentrations of Credit Risk, consist primarily of accounts receivable. ST, LLC s accounts receivable are concentrated in the healthcare industry. However, ST, LLC s customers typically have been well-established hospitals or medical facilities. However, some hospitals and medical facilities have experienced significant operating losses as a result of limits on third-party reimbursements from insurance companies and governmental entities and extended payment of receivables from these entities is not uncommon.

To date, ST, LLC has relied on a limited number of customers for a substantial portion of its total revenues. The Company expects that a significant portion of its future revenues will continue to be generated by a limited number of customers. The failure to obtain new customers or expand sales through remarketing partners, the loss of existing customers or reduction in revenues from existing customers could materially and adversely affect the Company's operating results.

ST, LLC currently buys all of its hardware and some major software components for its emergency room information systems from third-party vendors. Although there are a limited number of vendors capable of supplying these components, management believes that other suppliers could provide similar components on comparable terms. A change in suppliers, however, could cause a delay in system implementations and a possible loss of revenues, which could adversely affect operating results.

Capitalized Software Development Costs

Software development costs are accounted for in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 86, Accounting for the Costs of Software to be Sold, Leased or Otherwise Marketed. Costs associated with the planning and designing phase of software development, including coding and testing activities necessary to establish technological feasibility are classified as product research and development and are expensed as incurred. Once technological feasibility has been determined, a portion of the costs incurred in development, including coding, testing, and product quality assurance, are capitalized and subsequently reported at the lower of unamortized cost or net realizable value.

Amortization is provided on a product-by-product basis over the estimated economic life of the software, not to exceed three years, using the straight-line method. Amortization commences when a product is available for general release to customers. Unamortized capitalized costs determined to be in excess of the net realizable value of a product are expensed at the date of such determination.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets consist of customer lists acquired in connection with PCTS's acquisition of HIT (Note 2), which are being amortized, over five years, using the straight-line method. The Company periodically reviews its intangible assets for impairment and assesses whether significant events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable.

Partnership and Limited Liability Companies Investments

The Company's partnership and limited liability companies (LLC) investments, all of which are less than 50% interests, are accounted for using the equity method or consolidated under the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 46(R) Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities (FIN 46R) which is effective as of December 31, 2004. The Company owns less than 20% in the partnership investment; however, the Company has the ability to significantly influence this investee under the terms of the partnership agreement. Income or loss is allocated to Consulier based on the partnership and LLC agreements. The Company reviews its partnership and limited liability companies investments for other than temporary declines in value on a monthly basis by analyzing the underlying investee's actual revenue, earnings capacity and estimated future undiscounted cash flows. Due to the Company's partnership agreement with ST, LLC and ST, LLC's partnership agreement with PCTS, the Company is exposed to the majority of risk related to the activities of ST, LLC and PCTS. Therefore, in accordance with FIN 46R, the Company considers ST, LLC as a variable interest entity that requires consolidation into the Company's financial statements as of December 31, 2004. However, effective April 1, 2005, the partnership agreement was amended to reallocate membership interests in this partnership based upon historical contributions. The Company receives allocated losses to the extent of its contributions from inception. Consequently, the losses allocated to Consulier can be greater than or less than the Company's ownership percentage.

The Company has elected, as permitted under FIN 46R, not to restate prior year's financial statements. In 2003 and 2004, the investment in ST, LLC was carried on the equity method of accounting. As a result of consolidating ST, LLC, a minority interest was created representing the other members.

Stock-Based Compensation

In previous years, the Company granted stock options to employees under stock option plans that are more fully described in the Company's 10-KSB for the year ended December 31, 2004. The Company accounted for those plans using the intrinsic value method under Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. All options under such plans, granted in previous years, expired during 2001 and no new options were granted in 2005 and 2004.

As such, there is no proforma effect on net income (loss) and earnings (loss) per share if the Company had applied the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, and SFAS No. 148 Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from sales of goods is recognized when (i) persuasive evidence of an arrangement between the Company and the customer exists, (ii) the good or service has been provided to the customer, (iii) the price to the customer is fixed or determinable and (iv) collectibility of the sales prices is reasonably assured. Shipping and handling expenses incurred by the Company are recorded as selling expenses, and are classified in the caption selling, general and administrative expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations. For the six months ended June 30, 2005 and 2004, shipping and handling expenses were not material. Historically, the Company's warranty costs have been nominal as the Company's suppliers bear the cost of warranty claims.

Software revenue is derived from the licensing and sale of systems, either directly to end-users or through third-party resellers, comprised of internally developed software, third-party software and hardware components, product support, maintenance and professional services. The Company's revenue recognition policies conform to Statement of Position 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition. Generally, revenue from software license fees and hardware sales to end-users is recognized when a master agreement is signed and products are made available to end-users. Revenues from agreements that contain multiple-element arrangements are allocated to the various elements based on the fair value of the elements. Revenues related to routine installation and integration and project management are deferred until the work is performed. If a contract requires the Company to perform services and modifications that are deemed significant to system acceptance, revenues are recorded either on the percentage-of-completion method or revenues related to the delivered hardware and software components are deferred until such obligations are deemed insignificant, depending on the contractual terms. The Company follows this method since reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various stages of a contract can be made. Recognized revenues and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. Revisions in profit estimates are charged or credited to income in the period in which the facts that give rise to the revision become known. Revenues from consulting, education, and application-hosting services are recognized as the services are performed. Revenues from short-term support and maintenance agreements are recognized ratably over the term of the agreements. Billings to customers recorded prior to the recognition of revenues are classified as deferred revenues. Revenues recognized prior to progress billings to customers are recorded as receivables.

NOTE 2. ACCOUNTING FOR
ENTITY (VIE)

In January 2003, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an Interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51 (FIN 46R). In December 2003, the FASB modified FIN 46R to make certain technical corrections and address certain implementation issues that had arisen. FIN 46R provides a new framework for identifying VIEs and determining when a company should include the assets, liabilities, noncontrolling interests and results of activities of a VIE in its financial statements and deferred the effective date for us until December 31, 2004.

In general, a VIE is an entity used to conduct activities or hold assets that either (1) has an insufficient amount of equity to carry out its principal activities without additional subordinated financial support, (2) has a group of equity owners that are unable to make significant decisions about its activities, or (3) has a group of equity owners that do not have the obligation to absorb losses or the right to receive returns generated by its operations.

FIN 46R requires a VIE to be consolidated if a party with an ownership, contractual or other financial interest in the VIE is obligated to absorb a majority of the risk of loss from the VIEs activities, is entitled to receive a majority of the VIEs residual returns (if no party absorbs a majority of the VIEs losses), or both. A variable interest holder that consolidates the VIE is called the primary beneficiary. Upon consolidation, the primary beneficiary generally must initially record all of the VIEs assets, liabilities and noncontrolling interests at fair value and subsequently account for the VIE as if it were consolidated based on majority voting interest.

The Company began consolidating the balance sheet and operations of ST, LLC in accordance with FIN 46R as of December 31, 2004. This entity qualified as a VIE under FIN 46R during that period, and we were the primary beneficiary. Previously the Company carried the investment under the equity method. ST, LLC's surplus in stockholders' equity at June 30, 2005, is reflected as a minority interest liability in the unaudited condensed interim consolidated balance sheet. On April 1, 2005 (date of the amendment to the operating agreement), the Company's ownership in ST, LLC increased to 54%, thereby being subject to consolidation under the equity method of accounting.

NOTE 4. PARTNERSHIP AND LIMITED

The limited partnership and limited company interests consist of Consulier's investments in AVM, L.P. and BioSafe Systems, LLC, respectively.

AVM, L.P.

Consulier owns approximately 7.54% of AVM L.P.'s (AVM) capital as of June 30, 2005 and approximately 8.0% at June 30, 2004. Based on capital and earnings distributions provided in the partnership agreement, Consulier was allocated approximately 5.6% and 8.5% of AVM's earnings during the six-month periods ended June 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Under the partnership agreement, Consulier may withdraw all or any portion of its capital account upon 30 days written notice. AVM's general partner may also expel Consulier from the partnership through payment of the balance of Consulier's capital account.

Following is a summary of the result of operations (unaudited) of AVM and the income allocated to the Company:

(a) As of June 30, 2005, the Company did not have any outstanding common stock equivalents to be included in its diluted earnings per share computation.

Common stock equivalents were not included in the calculation of diluted loss per common share for the three and six months ended June 30, 2005, as their effect would be anti-dilutive.

NOTE 6. SEGMENT

Net Deferred Tax Assets	$ 1,187,861

NOTE 8. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

Effective July 15, 2005, the Company's subsidiary, PCTS, entered into an asset purchase agreement with nuMedica, Inc. providing for the acquisition of certain assets of nuMedica's paper charting division. The purchase price specified in the agreement was $592,223, payable in cash upon the completion of certain terms of the asset purchase agreement. Included in the purchase price was $200,000 assigned to one year non-compete agreements with the former owners of nuMedica, Inc. Pursuant to the asset purchase agreement, PCTS will not assume any debt, obligations, or other liabilities arising out of the seller's business or operations as of July 15, 2005. With this acquisition, the Company expects to compete in the paper charting market segment and provide the Company with opportunities to migrate paper charting customers to its computer-based charting system, Amelior ED System.

The Company is still in the process of obtaining valuations of certain intangible assets and accordingly, allocation of the purchase price is subject to modification in the future. Any such modification is not expected to be significant.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S
DISCUSSION
AND ANALYSIS
OR PLAN OF
OPERATION
RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following compares the results of operations for the three months ended June 30, 2005 and the six months ended June 30, 2005:

During the quarter ended June 30, 2005, sales increased approximately $144,000 from the comparable amounts recorded during the quarter ended June 30, 2004. However, approximately $162,000 is due to the consolidation of ST, LLC. Loss from operations for the second quarter of 2005 was approximately $320,000, or $0.06 per share, compared to a loss of approximately $568,000, or $0.11 per share, for the second quarter of 2004.

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, sales increased approximately $322,000 from the comparable amounts recorded during the six months ended June 30, 2004. However, approximately $352,000 is due to the consolidation of ST, LLC. Income from operations for the six months ended June 30, 2005 was approximately $216,000, or $0.04 per share, compared to a loss of approximately $972,000, or $0.19 per share, for the six months ended June 30, 2004.

During the quarter ended June 30, 2005, other income (loss)/(expense) increased from a loss to income by approximately $1,544,000 from the comparable amounts for the quarter ended June 30, 2004. This was primarily a result of the decrease in the undistributed loss of equity investees' related party of approximately $1,553,000, due to the consolidation of ST, LLC and the amendment to ST, LLC's operating agreement.

During the six months ended June 30, 2005, other income (loss)/(expense) increased from a loss to income by approximately $2,829,000 from the comparable amounts for the six months ended June 30, 2004. This was primarily a result of the decrease in the undistributed loss of equity investees' related party of approximately $2,868,000, due to the consolidation of ST, LLC and the amendment to ST, LLC's operating agreement.

Investment in BioSafe Systems, LLC (BioSafe) Equity in the income of BioSafe was approximately $71,000 in the second quarter of 2005, compared to income of approximately $15,000 for the quarter ended June 30, 2004. This represents the Company's 40% interest in BioSafe's net income of approximately $178,000 in the second quarter of 2005, compared to income of approximately $33,000 in the second quarter of 2004.

Table of Contents

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S

Investment in Systems Technologies, LLC (ST, LLC) The loss allocated from ST, LLC was approximately $1,579,000 in the second quarter of 2005, after the minority interest loss allocation of approximately $781,000, compared to a loss of approximately $1,497,000 in the second quarter of 2004. Management continues to monitor these activities as it relates to budget amounts. See Liquidity and Capital Resources and Future Outlook sections below. The Company maintains an open option to sell its interest in ST, LLC to the primary stockholder of the Company for its total investment as noted in the accompanying financial statements.

Investment in AVM, L.P. (AVM) Equity in the income of AVM was $652,000 in the second quarter of 2005, compared to income of approximately $663,000 for the quarter ended June 30, 2004. This represents the Company's 5.64% interest in AVM's net income of approximately $11,500,000 in the second quarter of 2005, compared to income of approximately $770,000 in the second quarter of 2004.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

At June 30, 2005, Consulier's cash totaled approximately $263,000 as compared to approximately $117,000 at December 31, 2004. Net cash used in operations was approximately $3,337,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2005 compared to approximately $456,000 of net cash provided in the six months ended June 30, 2004. Net cash provided by investing activities was primarily due to the distribution of approximately $1,359,000 from AVM during the six months ended June 30, 2005 offset by acquisition of property and equipment totaling approximately $554,000 and loans from related parties totaling approximately $44,000.

Consulier can require Consulier's principal stockholder to purchase its interest in ST, LLC for cash equal to Consulier's capital investment (dollar for dollar) in ST, LLC at any time with 60 days written notice. Consulier has contributed to ST, LLC approximately $13,000,000 since inception and has no remaining net investment at June 30, 2005.

The ability of Consulier to continue to generate cash flow in excess of its normal operating requirements depends almost entirely on the performance of its limited partnership investment in AVM. Consulier cannot, with any degree of assurance, predict whether there will be a continuation of the net return experienced in the period that the AVM limited partnership interest has been owned. However, Consulier does not expect that the rate of return will decline to the point where Consulier has negative cash flow. Furthermore, although AVM has given Consulier no indication of any intention on its part to redeem the partnership interest, there can be no assurance that AVM will not do so in the future.

The Company has a $2,000,000 line of credit from a bank available, of which $754,000 has been used. It is anticipated that the cash requirements for ST, LLC will reduce in the future as the sales increase within that limited liability company.

FUTURE OUTLOOK

Based on AVM's recent operations and operating results over the past five years, management expects continued annualized returns in 2005 on Consulier's limited partnership investments. However, there is no guarantee that the annualized return in the second quarter of 2005 will be maintained throughout fiscal 2005.

Consulier International, Inc. has been developing new retail and distribution outlets locally, nationally and internationally. There are several trade shows scheduled for marketing the Captain Cra-Z Hand and All Purpose Cleaner throughout 2005 and the internet web site continues to be a good lead generator with applications for distribution being received through the site from countries all over the world and new marketing materials are being developed.

Strong performances in our Agricultural and Aquatics market segments combined to account for the sales growth experienced in the Quarter. The timing of the rebound in the Agriculture market brought this segment to a positive 7.6% over the first half of 2005, while our achievement of the projected growth in Aquatics' product sales produced an almost doubling of the year-to-date results in that market. The timing of the sales in the Horticulture and Post Harvest markets, adversely effected temporarily by tighter inventory purchasing trends, offset some of the gains in Agriculture and Aquatics.

The Company intends to increase its investment in ST, LLC over the next three to five years. While the exact amount of the Company's future investment has not been quantified at this time, it is expected that the investment is to be between $5 million and $7 million. The exact amount will be based upon market acceptance of Patient Care Technology Systems, LLC's (PCTS) AmeliorTM products and the need for investment funds.

The acquisition of HealthcareIT, the nation's leading passive tracking solution provider's Passive Tracking Division, products and customer base during the 4th quarter of 2004 has proven positive. The Amelior ED Tracker eliminates confusion over patient location, personnel location, equipment location and order status, facilitates maximum utilization of beds, decreases follow-up calls to ancillaries, reduces length of stay and patient walkouts, improves patient flow, increases ward security, reduces patient dissatisfaction with their emergency room experience and provides record keeping essential for emergency room management and regulatory compliance. The Company is successfully cross marketing the Amelior ED Tracker with other Amelior products.

Table of Contents

On July 15, 2005, the Company acquired the products and customer base of the paper charting division of nuMedica, Inc. Marketed as formED, the products comprise a set of paper charting templates used by physicians in emergency departments who have not yet adopted computer-based charting systems such as the Company's comprehensive Amelior ED system. With this acquisition, the Company is now able to compete in the significant paper charting market segment which today accounts for over a third of the emergency department market. This provides the Company with the future opportunity to migrate paper customers to the Company's Amelior suite of emergency department software in order to realize the enhanced communication, management and safety benefits possible from adopting computer-based systems.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS

AND

PROCEDURES

Our management have conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15e and 15d-15(e) promulgated under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, as amended), as of the end of the fiscal quarter covered by this report. Based upon that evaluation, our management has concluded that except as provided below, our disclosure controls and procedures are effective for timely gathering, analyzing and disclosing the information we are required to disclose in the reports filed in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Management has determined that there are certain internal control deficiencies that they consider to be, in the aggregate, a material weakness, including, untimely identification and resolution of certain accounting matters; failure to perform timely review of accounting information by individuals with appropriate levels of experience, and inability to prepare accounting reconciliations for its fixed assets. A material weakness is a significant deficiency in one or more of the internal control components that alone or in the aggregate precludes internal control from reducing to an appropriate low level the risk that material misstatements in our financial statements will not be prevented or detected in a timely basis.

The Company is continuing to investigate the underlying causes of these material weaknesses and will consider the implementation of the following corrective actions: (1) Retention of additional personnel to respond to the financial reporting and control complexities associated with the Company's expanding operations; and (2) Developing and implementing additional control procedures over the review processes and other procedures including the initiation and review of adjusting journal entries as well as the accounting for certain fixed assets classified as sales type or operating leases to its customers.

A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Management necessarily applied its judgment in assessing the benefits of controls relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected. The design of any system of controls is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions, regardless of how remote. Because of the inherent limitations in a control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and may not be detected.

Change in Internal Controls: There have been no significant changes made in the Company's internal controls and there were no other factors that could significantly effect our internal controls during the quarterly periods covered by this report.

PROCEEDINGS

As of June 30, 2005, there were no legal proceedings pending against the Company or its subsidiaries nor did the Company have any knowledge of any proceedings which were being contemplated, except a personal injury claim concerning a fall from a lifeguard stand manufactured by the Company (prior to 2000 in a previous line of business). Although the outcome of any litigation cannot be guaranteed with certainty and the Company maintains insurance coverage for this type of claim, there is a good likelihood that the Company will succeed in its defense of this claim.
