The following is a joint press release of Applica Incorporated and NACCO Industries, Inc. regarding the proposed spin off of by NACCO Industries, Inc. of its Hamilton Beach/Proctor Silex business to NACCO Industries, Inc. s stockholders and subsequent merger of Applica Incorporated with and into Hamilton Beach/Proctor Silex.

NACCO INDUSTRIES, INC. ANNOUNCES TAX-FREE SPIN-OFF OF HAMILTON BEACH/PROCTOR-SILEX AND MERGER OF APPLICA INTO HAMILTON
BEACH/PROCTOR-SILEX
HAMILTON BEACH, INC. EXPECTED TO BE THE LARGEST U.S. PUBLIC COMPANY
FOCUSED ON THE SMALL ELECTRIC HOUSEHOLD APPLIANCE INDUSTRY

CLEVELAND, OH, and MIRAMAR, FL, July 24, 2006 NACCO Industries, Inc. (NYSE: NC) and Applica Incorporated (NYSE: APN) today announced that NACCO, Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and Applica have entered into definitive agreements whereby NACCO will spin off its Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex business to NACCO s stockholders and, immediately after the spin-off, Applica will merge with and into Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex. The combined public company will be named Hamilton Beach, Inc., and will be headquartered in Richmond, VA. Hamilton Beach, Inc. will apply to list its Class A common stock on the New York Stock Exchange. The outstanding shares of Applica common stock will be converted into the right to receive a number of shares of Hamilton Beach, Inc. Class A common stock equal to 25 percent of the aggregate number of shares of Hamilton Beach, Inc. common stock outstanding immediately following the merger.

The proposed transaction is expected to create the largest U.S. public company focused on the small electric household appliance industry. The company is estimated to have annual sales of approximately $1.1 billion and a broad portfolio of some of the most recognized and respected brands in this industry, including Black & Decker[®], Hamilton Beach[®], Proctor Silex[®], electrics[®], Traditions[®], Windmere[®], TrueAir[®], LitterMaid[®], Hamilton Beach[®] Commercial and Belson[®]. Hamilton Beach, Inc. plans to design, market and distribute a wide range of products under these brand names, including coffee makers, irons, blenders, toaster ovens, indoor grills, food processors, air purifiers, personal care appliances and accessories, and automatic self-cleaning cat litter boxes.

The combination of Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and Applica is expected to provide enhanced scale, improved competitive positioning and increased capital structure flexibility, which are anticipated to deliver opportunities for considerable cost synergies and future growth. In addition, the merger is expected to create a company with a strengthened international presence through the combination of complementary positions in Mexico, Latin America and Canada.

Following the spin-off, stockholders of NACCO will also maintain ownership in a strong operating holding company with leading positions in the forklift truck and coal mining industries through its NACCO Materials Handling Group and North American Coal subsidiaries, respectively, which have clear objectives and established profit improvement and growth initiatives that are increasingly providing visible improvements to operations and results. In addition, the transaction will enable investors in NACCO to have a more focused investment in the materials handling and coal mining businesses. NACCO will also continue to own and operate the Kitchen Collection retail business.

Commenting on the transaction, Alfred M. Rankin, Jr., Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of NACCO, said, "The proposed spin-off of Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and merger of Applica into Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex is a strategically and financially compelling transaction that is expected to create the opportunity for significant value enhancement for stockholders of both Applica and NACCO, as well as benefit customers and employees. We believe NACCO stockholders will benefit from direct ownership in Hamilton Beach, Inc., a company that is expected to have strong brands, a solid business platform, outstanding leadership, capital structure flexibility and enhanced financial performance. Following the completion of the merger, in light of the continued substantial long-term ownership interest of NACCO stockholders in Hamilton Beach, Inc., Mr. Rankin will become the Non-executive Chairman of Hamilton Beach, Inc.'s Board of Directors.

Harry D. Schulman, Applica's Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "Earlier this year, we launched a review of strategic alternatives to deliver enhanced stockholder value, and today we are pleased to announce this exciting combination that clearly meets this objective. We have made solid progress in our restructuring initiatives over the past year and our efforts are beginning to yield positive results, particularly when taking into account non-recurring items, as you will see in our upcoming second-quarter earnings release on August 3, 2006. I'm encouraged that our financial performance has been improving steadily due to what we believe are some very proper and responsible actions to control costs and enhance performance. We have solidly restructured the organization and the results are becoming evident. I'm also encouraged by our prospects for the second half of 2006, particularly in regard to progress on our restructuring program.

However, in addition to performance improvement programs, we believe that enhanced scale is critical to succeed in today's environment," Mr. Schulman stated. "The proposed merger will enable us to become part of a larger organization with a greater breadth of products, a strengthened international presence and an expanded retailer network. We believe this combination will allow us to better realize the value of our existing assets and take advantage of our strong brand equity. In addition, we and Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex share a dedication to the development of innovative products that serve consumers' needs. We are confident that this transaction will enable us to continue to utilize our knowledge and abilities to deliver exceptional benefits to customers, while offering stockholders the opportunity to participate in substantial value creation through Hamilton Beach, Inc.

The objective is to complete this transaction by the end of the third quarter, subject to obtaining required regulatory and Applica stockholder approvals. Upon completion of the spin-off and merger, stockholders of both NACCO and Applica will receive shares in Hamilton Beach, Inc. Hamilton Beach, Inc.'s capital structure will have dual classes of stock similar to NACCO's capital structure.

In the spin-off, NACCO stockholders, in addition to retaining their shares of NACCO stock, will receive one-half of a share of Hamilton Beach, Inc. Class A common stock and one-half of a share of Hamilton Beach, Inc. Class B common stock for each share of NACCO common stock they own.

The outstanding shares of Applica common stock will be converted into the right to receive a number of shares of Hamilton Beach, Inc. Class A common stock equal to 25 percent of the aggregate number of shares of Hamilton Beach, Inc. common stock outstanding immediately following the merger.

Upon closing of the merger, NACCO stockholders are expected to own 75 percent of the outstanding common stock of Hamilton Beach, Inc. and Applica stockholders are expected to own 25 percent.

Under the terms of the proposed transaction, immediately prior to the spin-off, NACCO will receive a cash dividend of $110 million from Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex.

Commitments for financing have been secured to provide Hamilton Beach, Inc. with funding to finance ongoing operations and growth, the repayment of Applica's and Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex's existing debt and the cash dividend to NACCO. On a pro forma basis for the transaction, Hamilton Beach, Inc. would have had debt of approximately $295 million as of March 31, 2006, including the $110 million dividend and payment of estimated transaction fees and expenses.

The transaction, which was approved by the Boards of Directors of NACCO, Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and Applica, will be tax-free to stockholders of NACCO and Applica. The transaction is subject to approval by Applica's stockholders and to regulatory approvals and other customary closing conditions.

According to Mr. Rankin, "The combination of Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and Applica represents a compelling strategic opportunity. We believe Hamilton Beach, Inc. will have the size and industry focus to realize significant economies of scale and greater efficiencies, which should allow the company to be more competitive in this consolidating and highly competitive industry. Because both companies have historically had strong relationships with leading U.S. retailers, we believe Hamilton Beach, Inc. will have an even greater ability to provide important value-added services to its customers. Additionally, as a public company, Hamilton Beach, Inc. is expected to have greater capital structure flexibility to support additional growth should opportunities arise.

Dr. Michael J. Morecroft, Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex's current President and Chief Executive Officer, will lead Hamilton Beach, Inc. as President and Chief Executive Officer following the merger and will be supported by Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex's strong core management team, reinforced by Applica personnel. Dr. Morecroft has more than 30 years of experience in the U.S. and European small electric household appliance industry, and he and his team have a proven track record of improving operations and generating significant improvements in cash flow.

Commenting on the transaction, Dr. Morecroft said, "Both Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and Applica share a commitment to high-quality products, innovation and customer service. This commitment will remain unwavering at Hamilton Beach, Inc. In today's highly competitive environment, we recognize that delivering successful products and reliable services to retailers is critically important, and we believe Hamilton Beach, Inc. will have an enhanced ability to meet these needs. We believe employees of Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex and Applica will also benefit by being part of a larger, more dynamic enterprise. We at Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex look forward to working with the combined team to realize these significant opportunities.

In addition, with our larger size and greater efficiencies, the new company is expected to achieve pre-tax annual run-rate cost synergies of approximately $40 million to $50 million, as well as improved working capital efficiency of up to approximately $40 million, by the end of 2008. In combination with the underlying profitability of the business, this improved efficiency is expected to provide significant cash flow to de-leverage the balance sheet, fund the costs to achieve synergies and help facilitate future growth opportunities, said Dr. Morecroft.

UBS Investment Bank acted as financial advisor and Jones Day acted as legal advisor to NACCO. Banc of America Securities LLC acted as financial advisor and Greenberg Traurig acted as legal advisor to Applica. McGuireWoods LLP acted as legal advisor to Hamilton Beach/Proctor-Silex. Richards, Layton & Finger advised the Directors of NACCO and Jefferies & Company, Inc. delivered an opinion in connection with this transaction.
