Item 8.01 Other Events

On February 2, 2007, Allied Holdings, Inc. (Allied or the Company) filed with the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Georgia a motion to reject the Company s collective bargaining agreement with affiliates of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (the U.S. Teamsters) pursuant to Section 1113 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. A copy of the motion is furnished with this Current Report as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated by reference into this Item 8.01.

Statements in this Current Report on Form 8-K, including the exhibits furnished herewith, that are not strictly historical are forward-looking statements. Such statements include, without limitations, any statements containing the words believe, anticipate, estimate, expect, intend, plan, seek, and similar expressions. These forward-looking statements involve a number of risks and uncertainties including risks and uncertainties relating to the following: Allied s ability to negotiate a new collective bargaining agreement with its employees in the U.S. represented by the U.S. Teamsters; the impact on the Company if the court denies Allied s motion to reject the collective bargaining agreement with the U.S. Teamsters; labor disputes involving Allied or its significant customers; the impact of the Chapter 11 proceedings and the related circumstances which could materially affect the amounts of assets and liabilities included in the consolidated financial statements or the Company s market share; risks associated with Allied s ability to obtain approval of and/or to implement its plan of reorganization; risks associated with Allied s ability to obtain exit financing to replace the Debtor-In-Possession Credit Facility; sufficient cash availability for the Company to meet its working capital need; the ability to comply with the terms of our current debt agreements and customer contracts; economic recessions or downturns in new vehicle production or sales; the highly competitive nature of the automotive distribution industry; dependence on the automotive industry and ongoing initiatives of customers to reduce costs; loss or reduction of revenues generated by the Company s major customers or the loss of any such customers; the variability of OEM production and seasonality of the automotive distribution industry; Allied s highly leveraged financial position; Allied s ability to obtain financing in the future; Allied s ability to fund future capital requirements; increased costs, capital expenditure requirements and other consequences of the Company s aging fleet of Rigs as well as Rig purchasing cycles; dependence on key personnel; and the availability of qualified drivers.

Many of these factors could cause Allied s actual results to differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking statements and are beyond the Company s ability to control or predict. Allied cautions readers not to place undue reliance on the forward-looking statements and Allied also disclaims any obligation to update or review forward-looking statements, except as may be required by law.
