Item 8.01. Other Events

As previously disclosed in Note 3 to Xcel Energy's financial statements in its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2005, in April 2004, Xcel Energy filed a lawsuit in U.S. District Court for the District of Minnesota against the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to establish its entitlement to deduct, for tax years 1993 and 1994, policy loan interest related to corporate-owned life insurance (COLI) policies on some of the employees of Public Service Company of Colorado (PSCo), a utility subsidiary of Xcel Energy. These COLI policies are owned and managed by PSR Investments, Inc. (PSRI), a wholly owned subsidiary of PSCo. In December 2004, Xcel Energy filed suit in U.S. Tax Court in Washington D.C. for tax years 1995 through 1997 and again in March 2005 for tax years 1998 and 1999. The IRS had challenged the deductibility of such interest expense deductions and has disallowed the deductions taken in tax years 1993 through 2001.

Xcel Energy requested that the tax court consolidate and stay its petitions pending the decision in the district court litigation and Xcel Energy brought a motion for summary judgment in the district court litigation. Oral arguments on Xcel Energy's summary judgment motion were expected to be presented to the district court on June 17, 2005. On June 14, 2005, the IRS filed its own motion for summary judgment, arguing that PSCo was not entitled to the COLI deductions because PSCo had no insurable interest in its employee's lives. Xcel Energy denies that this claim has any merit. On June 15, 2005, the court determined to hear both motions on July 22, 2005.

Reference is made to Xcel Energy's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2005 for a discussion of the potential financial impact of this matter on Xcel Energy.
