Monica Eisinger, Chairperson and CEO, commented: "In the first quarter of 2007 we once again proved our unique model of execution on profitability, in an environment that is almost universally weakened by delayed decisions. During the quarter we continued to enhance our suite of products that generate new wins and follow-on orders from existing customers. We focus on delivering high quality solutions and on expanding our relationship with our customers as they grow their business or transform their businesses to address convergence. While the sales cycles are long and the timing of required deliveries is difficult to predict, we see demand for our products and services that we expect to provide us with growth opportunities for years to come."
