ITEM 11. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Overview

Our executive compensation policies are designed to reward the achievement of specific annual, long-term and strategic goals by the Company and to align executive’s interest with those of our shareholders by rewarding performance for achieving or exceeding established goals, with the ultimate objective of improving shareholder value. The Company seeks to provide aggregate compensation opportunities for our executives that are competitive in the business marketplace and that are based upon Company and individual performance. Our foremost objectives are to:

align executive pay and benefits with the performance of the Company; and attract, motivate, reward and retain the broad-based management talent required to achieve our corporate objectives.

The Board of Directors approves the appointment of members to the Compensation Committee (the Committee). During 2006, the Committee consisted of Messrs. Colson (Chair), Sciotto and Kaufman. After reviewing the qualifications of the current members of the Committee, and any relationships that they may have with the Company, the Board has determined that all of the members of the Committee are independent members of the Committee as independence is defined by Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act and Rule 4200(a)(15) of the NASDAQ Stock Market. Mr. Sciotto previously did not qualify as an independent director due to NASDAQ's determination that he was not independent because he beneficially owned more than 50% of the Company's common stock. Although Mr. Sciotto was not an independent director, he was appointed by the Board to the Compensation Committee invoking NASDAQ Rule 4350(c)(3)(C). This NASDAQ Rule allows the Board to appoint a director, who is not independent under the NASDAQ Rules, to the Committee if the Board of Directors determines that there are exceptional and limited circumstances whereby this individual's membership on the committee is required by the best interests of the Company and its shareholders and the Board discloses the nature of the relationship and the reasons for that determination.

Mr. Sciotto beneficially owned more than 50% of the Company's common stock on the date he was appointed to the Committee in 2005. The Board determined that Mr. Sciotto had extensive experience both in the private and public sectors in the role of founder and co-owner of FF Properties, or a comparable role, and, therefore, had the expertise to handle complex business issues including compensation matters. Given that fact, the Board believed that exceptional circumstances existed under which Mr. Sciotto would be elected as a member of the Committee. Mr. Sciotto currently beneficially owns 32.9% of the Company's common stock. The Company believes that Mr. Sciotto currently satisfies NASDAQ's rules for independence to serve on the Committee because he beneficially owns less than 50% of the Company's common stock.

The Committee recommends to the Board the compensation for the Company's executive officers and other key employees, administers the Sixth Amended and Restated OMNI Energy Services Corp. Stock Incentive Plan (the Incentive Plan) and performs such other functions as may be prescribed by the Board. The Committee meets as often as it deems necessary to review and consider all elements of the Company's executive officers' compensation including base salary, incentive pay, long-term equity incentives, benefits and payout obligations under severance and change in control scenarios.

Benchmarking Tools

In early 2006, the Committee engaged the Hay Group, an independent compensation consultant, to assist the Committee in the evaluation of executive compensation. In reviewing the appropriate range of overall compensation and the appropriate ranges of the components of compensation, the Committee used benchmarking tools and surveys presented by the Hay Group. The benchmarking tools and surveys presented by the Hay Group related to base compensation, short-term cash incentives and long-term non-cash incentives for executive officers. Surveys and proxies of a peer group of twelve companies comparable in size and nature of the business of the Company as identified by the Hay Group were used for comparison purposes (the Comparison Group).

Compensation Elements

In the aggregate, the Company's compensation program is designed to not only attract and retain desired employees in a highly competitive market, but also to reward quality individual contribution and overall Company performance. The Company's philosophy is to match executive compensation with the performance of the Company and the individual by using several compensation components for the Company's executives. The components of the Company's compensation program for its executives consist of:

base salary;

annual performance-based incentives paid in cash;

long-term performance-based incentives paid in stock options and restricted stock; and benefits.

The Committee believes that the various elements of the Company's compensation program serve to support the overall objectives of the compensation program, and the Company considers several factors in making decisions to materially increase or decrease compensation either at the individual level or at the organizational level. At the individual level, those items considered include such things as employee performance, changes in scope of responsibility, contribution to the Company, changes in external market conditions and internal salary consistency. At the corporate level, the primary drivers of change in the compensation program include external market factors and overall Company performance.

The Company considers the overall business environment, Company circumstances, overall goals sought to be accomplished by the compensation adjustment, and the perceived desires of the executives and employees in allocating compensation adjustments between cash and non-cash compensation. Base salary adjustments are generally utilized to motivate employees in the immediate future and in the short term. Annual performance-based incentives paid in cash are utilized to award executives and employees for their contribution to the Company in recent periods while long-term performance-based equity incentives are utilized to cultivate loyalty and provide a sense of ownership among the executives and employees.

Compensation of many of the executives and key managers are set out in employment agreements. Determination of the amount of additional compensation in the form of performance-based incentives paid in cash are generally set out in the employment agreements and are based upon the accomplishment of certain pre-determined goals established in advance (i.e. levels of combined revenue, net income at the business unit level, personnel evaluations and statistics related to safety record). A portion of the performance-based incentives (generally 60% of the total incentive) is left to the discretion of the Committee.

Direct Compensation

Base Salary

In order to attract, motivate and retain the caliber of highly skilled, qualified employees that the Company believes is necessary for continued growth, the Company targets base salaries of the Named Executives (as defined in the Summary Compensation Table below) to be near the market median of the Comparison Group. Based on the information presented by the Hay Group in a June 2006 report, the Committee adjusted annual base salaries where necessary so that the salary levels of all of the Named Executives are generally near the market median levels of salaries of the Comparison Group. The Company pays base salaries to its Named Executives under employment agreements, except for Mr. Milton who does not have an employment agreement. The employment agreements provide that the base salaries of the Named Executives cannot be decreased, but the Committee has sole discretion to determine any base salary increases.

In the fourth quarter, the Committee, in collaboration with the Chief Executive Officer (with respect to all other executive officers), reviews and sets the compensation for the following year, including any increases under the employment agreements. Company management makes no recommendations as to the Chief Executive Officer's compensation. For executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer and the Executive Vice President, the Committee receives additional recommendations from the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Executive Vice President.

Set forth below is a table showing the base salaries of the Named Executives at December 31, 2006:

NAME	2006 BASE SALARY
James C. Eckert	$ 250,000
John A. Harris	$ 185,000 ⁽¹⁾
G. Darcy Klug	$ 240,000
Gregory B. Milton	$ 105,000
Shawn L. Rice	$ 185,000
Nolan C. Vice, Jr.	$ 185,000 ⁽¹⁾

(1) The effective date of this rate of compensation was September 23, 2006, the date of their employment agreement.

Employment Agreements. The Company entered into employment agreements with each of Messrs. Eckert and Klug on July 1, 2004 and April 1, 2004, respectively, that are in effect until December 31, 2008 with automatic extensions for additional, successive one year periods commencing January 1, 2009, unless either party gives notice of non-renewal as provided for under the terms of the employment agreements. Annual base salaries for Messrs. Eckert and Klug currently are $250,000 and $240,000, respectively. Under the terms of their employment agreements, their respective base salaries are reviewed at least annually in the first quarter of each fiscal year. Each of Messrs. Eckert and Klug are eligible to receive an annual bonus. The bonus is determined and if appropriate, awarded by the Board during each calendar year, but is paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for each such calendar year, but not later than April 1 of the following calendar year. The annual bonus is calculated by the Company's auditors based upon the bonus plan submitted by the Board.

The Company entered into employment agreements effective September 23, 2006 with each of Messrs. Harris and Vice that are in effect until December 31, 2008. The agreements will be automatically extended for additional, successive one year periods commencing on January 1, 2009, unless either party gives notice of non-renewal as provided under the terms of the employment agreements. Annual base salaries under the agreements for each of Messrs. Harris and Vice are $185,000. Additionally, pursuant to their employment agreements, they are eligible to receive an annual bonus if certain business targets which are adjusted annually, as described in the employment agreements, are met. A portion of the bonus (60%) is at the discretion of the Compensation committee and the remaining portion (40%) is calculated based upon certain targets being achieved, including combined revenue, combined net income at the business unit level, personnel evaluations for each business unit and combined safety statistics. The bonus is not to exceed 75% of the respective annual base salaries. The bonus is determined and if appropriate, awarded by the Board during each calendar year, but is paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for each such calendar year, but not later than April 1 of the following calendar year.

The Company entered into an amended employment agreement effective November 30, 2004 with Mr. Rice. The employment agreement expired on December 31, 2006 but was automatically extended for an additional one year period commencing January 1, 2007. Annual base salary under the agreement for Mr. Rice is $185,000. Additionally, he will be eligible to receive an annual bonus if certain business targets are met. A portion of the bonus (60%) is at the discretion of the Committee and the remaining portion (40%) is calculated based upon certain targets being achieved, including combined revenue, combined net income at the business unit level, personnel evaluations for each business unit and combined safety statistics. The bonus is not to exceed 75% of the annual base salary. The bonus is determined and if appropriate, awarded by the Board during each calendar year, but is paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for each such calendar year, but not later than April 1 of the following calendar year. On April 25, 2007, Mr. Rice gave the Company notice of his resignation from the Company effective May 25, 2007. Consequently, Mr. Rice's employment agreement will terminate on May 25, 2007.

Annual Performance-Based Incentives Paid in Cash

In order to encourage and reward quality performance, the Company has developed an annual performance-based incentive program, which is paid in the form of a cash bonus. The Company believes that the program helps to focus its executive officers on financial and operational objectives that the Committee believes are primary drivers of the Company's stock price over time. The annual performance-based incentives paid in cash to certain of the Named Executives are provided for in their employment agreements (see Employment Agreements above). In making the bonus determination, the Committee evaluates (i) benchmark data from the Comparison Groups as included in the June 2006 report from the Hay Group; (ii) the Company's strategic initiatives; (iii) the ability of the positions to contribute to the profitability of the Company; (iv) the safety statistics of the applicable departments; and (v) annual evaluations. Additionally, in 2006, the Committee used the following performance measures for all of the Named Executives:

Earnings per share;

Operating free cash flow; and Comparable revenues.

Set forth below is a table showing the bonuses paid to the Named Executives for 2006.

NAME	2006 BONUS
James C. Eckert	$ 58,910
John A. Harris	$ 17,500
G. Darcy Klug	$ 48,601
Gregory B. Milton	$ 2,500
Shawn L. Rice	$ 17,500
Nolan C. Vice, Jr.	$ 67,500

Long-Term Incentive Compensation

In order to retain key officers and to create a linkage between those key officers, Company performance and shareholders' interest, the Company has developed a long-term incentive program that awards either stock options or restricted stock. In determining the level of long-term incentive compensation, appropriate focus is given to the following factors:

appreciation of the Company's stock price;

management of ongoing operations and implementation of strategic plan; and the Company's relationship to the Comparison Group.

The Company believes that the grant of significant annual equity awards further links the interests of senior management and the Company's shareholders. Therefore, the Company believes that the grant of stock options and the award of restricted stock are important components of annual compensation. The Company's executive officers, including each of the Named Executives, are eligible to receive awards under the Incentive Plan. In July of each year, the Committee sets the components of the long-term incentive compensation for that year. The Committee considers several factors in determining whether awards are granted to an executive officer under the Plan. In addition to the factors referenced above regarding an executive officer's overall compensation, factors include the executive's position in the Company, his or her performance and responsibilities, the amount of options or other awards, if any, currently held by the officer, and their vesting schedule.

Stock options are granted at exercise prices equal to 100% of the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the grant date. Stock options vest quarterly over a three year period at a rate of one-twelfth per quarter and expire ten years from the date of grant.

Indirect Compensation

Various employee benefits assist the Company in attracting and retaining employees in a competitive labor market. From time to time the Committee reviews the benefit plans. The Committee may recommend that the Company implement changes to existing plans or adopt new benefits. The Committee strives to meet the market median with respect to Company benefits.

Health and Welfare Benefits.

The Company offers a standard range of health and welfare benefits to all employees, including the Named Executives. The benefits include: medical, prescription drug, vision and dental coverage, life insurance, and accidental death and dismemberment. Executive officers participate in these employee benefit plans generally available to all employees on the same terms as similarly situated employees.

Perquisites and other Personal Benefits.

In order to attract and retain key officers, the Company approves certain perquisites to those officers whose job duties or positions justify a business need for such items. Perquisites for certain officers include Company-owned vehicles and/or a fixed monthly mileage allowance and certain living expenses. See Summary Compensation Table for values associated with these perquisites and other personal benefits for the Named Executives.

Auto allowances. Fixed monthly mileage allowance is awarded to those individuals whose job duties routinely require them to be out of the office either calling on customers or visiting various sites within the organization. Company-owned vehicles are offered to members of the executive team and to regional or divisional managers. These officers may elect to receive a fixed monthly mileage allowance in lieu of using a Company-owned vehicle. The fixed monthly mileage allowance can be as little as $300 per month up to a maximum of $900 per month, depending on the position and anticipated business usage.

Living expenses. In order to facilitate effective management, the Company provides meals and housing during the week for two members of its executive team who live in Mississippi but spend the workweek in Louisiana. The cost of providing the meals and housing is determined using rental estimates for the housing component and per diem rates as determined by the Internal Revenue Service for the meal component.

Retirement Plans

The Company believes that financial security during retirement can be as important as financial security before retirement. Consistent with the Company's desire to provide financial security in retirement, the Company also offers a 401(k) plan to its employees, including its executive officers. Beginning in October 2006, the Company provides a 25% match of a portion of the contributions made by employees on a voluntary basis.

The amounts contributed by the Company to 401(k) plan matching accounts of the Named Executives for additional contributions for fiscal year 2006 were $1,601. The amount of contribution made by the Company on behalf of the Named Executives as the employer matching contribution on the 401(k) portion of the Company's 401(k) averages less than 1% of base salaries.

Change in Control/Severance Agreements

Employment Agreements. The Company has entered into employment agreements with each of the Named Executives (except for Mr. Milton). Under the terms of the employment agreements with Messrs. Eckert and Klug, if the Company terminates either of Mr. Eckert's or Mr. Klug's employment without cause (except as provided in the Incentive Plan), then the Company shall, and only if and as long as Mr. Eckert or Mr. Klug (as applicable, employee) is not in breach of his obligations under the employment agreement, promptly pay or otherwise provide to employee, in addition to those amounts set forth in the Incentive Plan: (i) an amount equal to employee's monthly annual base salary then in effect, payable semi-monthly and in accordance with the Company's normal payroll practices, for a period equal to the lesser of 30 months or the number of months remaining in the Initial Period or the Additional Period (both defined in the employment agreement); (ii) an annual bonus calculated on a daily pro-rata basis to the bonus which would otherwise be payable under the Incentive Plan; and (iii) an amount in cash equal to the fair market value, on the date of termination of employment, of any vested, but restricted, shares granted employee and the amount of any non-vested stock-based award granted to employee on November 4, 2003 pursuant to the Restricted Stock Incentive Agreement (see below). The above payment operates as a full settlement of the Company's obligations to employee under his employment agreement in the event of a termination without cause.

Under the employment agreements entered into with Messrs. Harris and Vice, if the Company terminates either Mr. Harris or Mr. Vice, without cause, the Company shall pay (i) the annual base salary then in effect in semi-monthly payments and in accordance with the Company's normal payroll practices for the remainder of the contract period or twelve months, whichever is greater, (ii) vacation pay earned but not taken to the date of such termination, (iii) annual bonuses prorated to the date of termination, if awarded pursuant to the employment agreement. In addition, all stock options will become vested and shall be eligible for execution twelve months after termination of employment.

Under the terms of Mr. Rice's employment agreement, if the Company terminates his employment without cause, the Company shall pay (i) the annual base salary in effect in semi-monthly payments and in accordance with the Company's normal payroll practices for the greater of the remainder of the extension period or twelve months, (ii) vacation pay earned but not taken to the date of such termination, (iii) annual bonuses prorated to date of termination, if awarded pursuant to the employment agreement, and (iv) documented moving expenses to relocate out of the Lafayette, Louisiana area up to a maximum of $10,000, which reimbursement right shall expire six months after termination.

The employment agreements with each of Messrs. Harris, Vice and Rice contain non-competition provisions. Under the agreement, Messrs. Harris, Vice or Rice will not (i) engage in or carry on, directly or indirectly, either in their individual capacity or as a member of a partnership or as a shareholder, investor, owner, officer or director of a company or other entity, or as an employee, agent, associate or consultant of any person, partnership, corporation or other entity, any business in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi or any parish or county thereof (including, but not limited to, the Parishes and Counties specifically listed in the exhibits to the employment agreement) or the offshore waters within one-hundred (100) miles of the coast of either such state that directly competes with any services or products produced, sold, provided, conducted or developed, by the Company on the date of termination of their employment including the services specifically described in the exhibits to the employment agreement, and (ii) whether for the employee's own account or the account of any person (A) solicit, employ, or otherwise engage as an employee, independent contractor, or otherwise, any person who is an employee of the Company or any of its affiliates or in any manner induce or attempt to induce any employee of the Company and any such affiliate to terminate employment with the Company or such affiliate or (B) interfere with the Company's, or any of its affiliate's, relationship with any person, including any person who at any time during the employee's employment with the Company was an employee, contractor, supplier or customer of the Company or any such affiliate.

2007 Incentive Agreements. On January 5, 2007, the Company entered into new Restricted Stock and Stock-Based Award Incentive Agreements (hereinafter "RSA") with Messrs. Eckert and Klug. The new RSA replaces the prior restricted stock agreements (described below) between the Company and each of Messrs. Eckert and Klug that were effective December 1, 2003. The RSA provides for the granting of between 400,000 and 500,000 shares of the Company's restricted common stock to each of Messrs. Eckert and Klug in the event of (i) a change in control or the receipt by the Company's Board of Directors of a change of control offer (as defined by the RSA); (ii) termination without cause (as defined in the RSA); or (iii) death or disability. The number of shares awarded is based upon the volume weighted average closing price per share of the Company's common stock over the five prior trading days; provided however, that for purposes of a death or disability valuation, the fair market valuation shall be the volume weighted average closing price per share of the Company's common stock over the ten prior trading days commencing with the ninetieth (90th) day following the death of the employee or the disability determination ("FMV"). If the FMV of a share of the Company's common stock is greater than or equal to $7.50 but less than $11.00 at the time of vesting, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will each receive 400,000 shares of the Company's common stock. If the FMV of a share of the Company's common stock is greater than or equal to $11.00 but less than $12.00 at the time of vesting, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will each receive 450,000 shares of the Company's common stock. If the FMV of a share of the Company's common stock is greater than or equal to $12.00 at the time of vesting, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will each receive 500,000 shares of the Company's common stock. Additionally, at the time of vesting in the restricted shares, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will each receive the right to a cash payment of $1.2 million. The revised RSA will terminate on December 31, 2008, and any unvested restricted common stock or stock-based awards will terminate and lapse.

2004 Stock-Based Award Incentive Agreement. The RSA described above replaces the Stock-Based Award Incentive Agreements (hereinafter "SBA") with Messrs. Eckert and Klug entered into on June 30, 2004. The SBA was computed and payable: (a) on the date of the executive's termination of employment (for any reason other than resignation or termination for cause), (b) 90 days after the executive's death or disability or (c) upon a Change in Control (as defined in the SBA). The executive managers were awarded 55% and 45%, respectively, of: (1) 10% of the fair market value (hereinafter "FMV"), defined as the average closing price per share on the Nasdaq Global Market over the five prior trading days times the number of the Company's issued and outstanding shares, of a share of Common Stock greater than or equal to $1.00 but less than $1.50, plus (2) 15% of the FMV of a share of Common Stock greater than or equal to $1.50 but less than $2.50, plus (3) 20% of the FMV of a share of Common Stock greater than or equal to $2.50 but less than $10.00, plus (4) 15% of the FMV of a share of Common Stock greater than or equal to $10.00 but less than $20.00, plus (5) 10% of the FMV of a share of Common Stock greater than or equal to $20.00. If no payments would have been made, the right would have terminated on December 31, 2008 or upon termination of employment by resignation or for cause, whichever occurred first. The intrinsic value of this award was $32.8 million at December 31, 2006. No compensation expense has been recorded at December 31, 2006 because the expense is contingent on future events, none of which were considered probable at December 31, 2006. The SBA was replaced by the RSA in January 2007 as discussed above.

Executive Compensation Policies

Securities Trading Policy. The Board has included in the Company's Code of Ethics a section which addresses the subject of insider trading. The provisions of the Code of Ethics expressly prohibit directors, officers or other employees from trading, either directly or indirectly, after becoming aware of material nonpublic information related to the Company. The Code of Ethics provides guidance as to what constitutes material information and when information becomes public. It also addresses transactions by family members as well as other transactions which may be prohibited. The Code of Ethics also discussed the consequences of an insider trading violation and mentions additional trading restrictions and certain reporting requirements applicable to directors, officers and designated key employees. The Company's Code of Ethics is available on the Company's corporate website at <http://www.omnienergy.com> on the Home page under Code of Ethics .

Recoupment of Equity Awards Policy. Performance-based equity awards are granted after the achievement of certain levels of performance, and these awards typically include a vesting period for ownership. This practice negates the need for a recoupment policy for equity awards.

Policy on the Re-pricing of Stock Options. Stock options are granted at the fair market value on the date of the grant and are not subject to re-pricing.

Policy on Timing Stock Award. The timing of stock awards must be consistent with guidelines established in a stock program, such as the Incentive Plan, that the Committee approves prior to the awarding of any grant. The Committee approves the grant prior to the stock being awarded in the event of a requested special stock award or the awarding of stock or stock options to a new hire.

Policy on Hedging the Economic Risks of Equity Ownership. There is no policy regarding hedging the economic risks of equity ownership for the executive team or Directors of the Company and the Company does not engage in this practice.

Recoupment of Incentives Policy. There is no policy regarding the recoupment of incentives for the Company's executives or Directors.

Policy on Deductibility of Compensation Over $1 Million. Unless compensation is performance based, Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code, enacted in 1993, imposes a limit of $1 million on the amount that a publicly held corporation may deduct in any year for the compensation paid or accrued with respect to its chief executive officer and each of its four other most highly compensated executive officers. None of the Company's executive officers currently receives compensation exceeding the limits imposed by Section 162(m). While the Committee cannot predict with certainty how the Company's executive compensation might be affected in the future by Section 162(m) or applicable tax regulations issued, the Committee intends to try to preserve the tax deductibility of all executive compensation while maintaining the Company's executive compensation program as described in this Compensation Discussion and Analysis.

Policies on the Impact of Accounting/Tax Treatments on any Elements of Compensation. The Company's stock-based compensation policy applies to all forms of stock-based compensation including stock options, restricted stock units, and share units. All stock-based compensation is accounted for under the fair-value method as required by United States generally accepted accounting principles. The expense associated with stock based compensation is recognized over the vesting period of each individual arrangement.

The fair value of each stock option award is estimated on the date of grant using a Black-Scholes-Merton option valuation model. The fair value of restricted stock is based on the fair value at the date of grant. The fair value of each performance based share unit is estimated based on expected performance goals being attained and using the current public market price of the Company's common stock at the end of each reporting period.

Policy on assessing past stock awards in determining future awards. The value, or lack of value, realized from at-risk awards granted in prior years is not taken into account by the Committee in the process of setting compensation for the current year. The Committee believes that doing so would be inconsistent with the underlying reasons for the use of at-risk compensation. If current year awards were increased to recover from below-target performance in prior years or decreased to account for above-target performance in prior years, the Committee would be diluting or eliminating the link between performance and award. Recipients would have little incentive to improve performance if it meant decreased target awards in the future, or if the negative consequences for poor performance would be cushioned by increases in the target value of future awards. Additionally, the value realized from equity-based awards granted in prior periods depends in large measure on when the recipient decides to realize that value by exercising options or by selling vested shares of stock. The Committee does not believe it would be appropriate to adjust future grants in light of these types of individual decisions.

The Compensation Committee has reviewed and discussed the foregoing Compensation Discussion and Analysis with the management of the Company. Based on this review and discussion, we recommend to the Board of Directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K/A for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006.

POTENTIAL PAYMENTS UPON TERMINATION OR CHANGE IN CONTROL

Employment Agreements

Pursuant to the terms of their respective employment agreements, if the Company terminates either of Mr. Eckert's or Mr. Klug's employment without cause (except as provided in the Plan), then the Company shall, and only if and as long as Mr. Eckert or Mr. Klug (as applicable, employee) is not in breach of his obligations under the employment agreement, promptly pay or otherwise provide to employee, in addition to those amounts set forth in the Plan: (i) an amount equal to employee's monthly annual base salary then in effect, payable semi-monthly and in accordance with the Company's normal payroll practices, for a period equal to the lesser of 30 months or the number of months remaining in the Initial Period or the Additional Period (both defined in the employment agreement, and such number at December 31, 2006 being 24 months for Mr. Eckert and 24 months for Mr. Klug); (ii) an annual bonus calculated on a daily pro-rata basis to the bonus which would otherwise be payable under the Plan; and (iii) an amount in cash equal to the fair market value, on the date of termination of employment, of any vested, but restricted, shares granted employee and the amount of any non-vested stock-based award granted to employee on November 4, 2003 pursuant to the Restricted Stock Incentive Agreement. The above payment operates as a full settlement of the Company's obligations to employee under his employment agreement in the event of a termination without cause.

Pursuant to Messrs. Harris and Vice's employment agreements, in the event their respective employments are terminated by the Company without cause, the Company shall pay (i) the annual base salary then in effect in semi-monthly payments and in accordance with the Company's normal payroll practices for the remainder of the contract period or twelve months, whichever is greater, (ii) vacation pay earned but not taken to the date of such termination, and (iii) annual bonuses prorated to the date of termination, if awarded pursuant to the employment agreement. In addition, all stock options will become vested and shall be eligible for execution twelve months after termination of employment.

2007 Incentive Agreements. On January 5, 2007, the Company entered into new Restricted Stock and Stock-Based Award Incentive Agreements (hereinafter "RSA") with Messrs. Eckert and Klug. The new RSA replaces the prior restricted stock agreements (described above under Compensation Discussion and Analysis Change in Control/Severance Agreements 2004 Stock-Based Award Incentive Agreement) between the Company and each of Messrs. Eckert and Klug that were effective December 1, 2003. The RSA provides for the granting of between 400,000 and 500,000 shares of the Company's restricted common stock to each of Messrs. Eckert and Klug based upon the volume weighted average closing price per share of the Company's common stock over the five prior trading days; provided however, that for purposes of a death or disability valuation, the fair market valuation shall be the volume average closing price per share of the Company's common stock over the ten prior trading days commencing with the ninetieth (90th) day following the death of the employee or the disability determination. (FMV) If the FMV of a share of the Company's common stock is greater than or equal to $7.50 but less than $11.00 at the time of vesting, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will each receive 400,000 shares of the Company's common stock. If the FMV of a share of the Company's common stock is greater than or equal to $11.00 but less than $12.00 at the time of vesting, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will each receive 450,000 shares of the Company's common stock. If the FMV of a share of the Company's common stock is greater than or equal to $12.00 at the time of vesting, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will receive 500,000 shares of the Company's common stock. The number of shares of restricted stock becomes fixed and payable in the event of (i) a change in control or the receipt by the Company's Board of Directors of a change of control offer (as defined by the RSA); (ii) termination without cause (as defined in the RSA); or (iii) death or disability. Additionally, at the time of vesting in the restricted shares, Messrs. Eckert and Klug will each receive the right to a cash payment of $1.2 million. The revised RSA will terminate on December 31, 2008, and any unvested restricted common stock or stock-based awards will terminate and lapse.

Set forth below is a table which sets forth the compensation of our Named Executives in the event of a termination of employment without cause, a change of control of the Company, or a change of control offer (as discussed above) as if such event occurred on December 31, 2006 and assumes the RSA was effective at such time.

Each non-employee director of the Company also received a meeting fee for board meetings of $2,500 for each meeting attended in person and $1,000 for meetings attended via conference call. Each non-employee director also received a $500 meeting fee for Committee meetings attended whether in person or by conference call. The Company reimburses the directors for their travel expenses for attending meetings.

Each non-employee director is granted an option to purchase 10,000 shares of the Company's common stock upon appointment to the Board at an exercise price equal to the fair market value of the common stock on the date such person becomes a director. Additionally, each person who is a non-employee director on the day following the annual meeting of the Company's shareholders is granted an option to purchase 5,000 shares of the Company's common stock at an exercise price equal to the fair market value of the common stock on such date. All such options become fully exercisable on the first anniversary of their date of grant and expire on the tenth anniversary thereof, unless the director ceases to be a director of the Company, in which case the exercise periods will be shortened.

The following table sets forth information regarding the compensation paid to the Company's Board of Directors for the 2006 fiscal year.

Plan Not Approved by Stockholders. In January 1999, the Company approved the Amended OMNI Energy Services Corp. 1999 Stock Option Plan (the Option Plan) to provide for the grant of options to purchase shares of Common Stock to the Company's non-officer employees in lieu of year-end cash bonuses. The Option Plan is intended to increase stockholder value and advance the Company's interests by providing an incentive to employees and by increasing employee awareness of the Company in the marketplace. Under the Option Plan, the Company may grant options to any of its employees with the exception of officers of the Company. The options become exercisable immediately with respect to one-half of the shares, and the remaining one-half are exercisable one year following the date of the grant. The exercise price of any stock option granted may not be less than the fair market value of the Common Stock on the effective date of the grant. A total of 100,000 shares of Common Stock are authorized, of which 43,409 remain available for issuance at December 31, 2006.

ITEM 13. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS, DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE. TRANSACTIONS WITH RELATED PERSONS

The board reviews all relationships and transactions in which the Company and its directors and executive officers or their immediate family members are participants to determine whether such persons have a direct or indirect material interest. As matters come up, the Company relies on its corporate legal counsel to obtain information from the directors and executive officers with respect to related person transactions and for then determining, based upon the facts and circumstances, whether the Company or a related person has a direct or indirect material interest in the transaction. As required under SEC rules, transactions that are determined to be directly or indirectly material to the Company or a related person are disclosed in the Company's proxy statement. In addition, the Audit Committee reviews and approves or ratifies any related person transaction that is required to be disclosed.

On May 17, 2005, the Company entered into a Securities Purchase Agreement with certain of its affiliates and executive officers to issue up to $5.0 million of Series C Preferred Stock. The Series C Preferred Stock is convertible into shares of Common Stock at a conversion price of $1.95 per share and includes detachable five-year warrants to purchase up to 6,550,000 additional shares of Common Stock at exercise prices ranging between $1.95 and $3.50 per share. A portion of the 9% dividend obligation related to the Series C Preferred Stock has been satisfied through the issuance of payment-in-kind (PIK) dividends. The PIK dividends are paid through the issuance of additional shares of Series C Preferred Stock. These additional shares of preferred stock do not have warrants attached to them. During the year ended December 31, 2006, 479 shares of Series C Preferred Stock were issued as PIK dividends at par.

DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE

The Board has determined that except for Mr. Eckert, all the directors are independent as defined by Rule 4200(a)(15) of the NASDAQ Marketplace Rules. In making this determination, the Board considered transactions and relationships between each director or his or her immediate family and the Company and its subsidiaries, including those reported under Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation and Transactions with Related Persons above. The purpose of this review was to determine whether any such relationships or transactions were material and, therefore, inconsistent with a determination that the director is independent. There are no family relationships between any nominees, directors and executive officers.

Mr. Eckert is not an independent director because of his employment as Chief Executive Officer of the Company. Mr. Sciotto was previously not an independent director due to NASDAQ's determination that he was not independent due to his beneficial ownership of more than 50% of the Company's common stock as discussed under Compensation Discussion and Analysis Overview. The Company believes that Mr. Sciotto currently satisfies NASDAQ's rules for independence because he beneficially owns less than 50% of the Company's common stock.

Pre-Approval Policy

The Audit Committee has adopted a policy to require pre-approval of all audit and non-audit services provided by the Company's principal accounting firm. All of the services in 2006 under the audit fees, audit related fees, tax fees and all other fees sections in the table above were pre-approved by the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee has established a policy intended to clearly define the scope of services performed by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for non-audit services. This policy relates to audit services, audit-related services, tax and all other services which may be provided by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm and is intended to assure that such services do not impair the auditor's independence. The policy requires the pre-approval by the Audit Committee of all services to be provided by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm. Under the policy, the Audit Committee will annually review and pre-approve the services that may be provided by the independent registered public accounting firm without obtaining specific pre-approval from the Audit Committee or its designee. In addition, the Audit Committee may delegate pre-approval authority to one or more of its members. The member or members to whom such authority is delegated is required to report to the Audit Committee at its next meeting any services which such member or members has approved. The policy also provides that the Audit Committee will pre-approve the fee levels for all services to be provided by the independent registered public accounting firm. Any proposed services exceeding these levels will require pre-approval by the Audit Committee.
