ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Election of Directors

On August 8, 2006, Walter J. Young announced his intention to retire as a member of the Board of Directors effective as of the December 2006 Board of Directors meeting. At present, the Board of Directors consists of nine members. Section Five of the Company's Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation provides that the Board of Directors be divided as equally as possible into three classes designated as Class I, Class II and Class III. Generally, the directors in each class are elected to serve staggered three year terms so that the term of office of one class of directors expires at each annual meeting. Currently, the Board of Directors has three directors in Class I with terms expiring in 2007, three directors in Class II with terms expiring in 2008 and three directors in Class III with terms expiring in 2009.

The terms of office of current Class I directors James V. Hanna, James R. Kiko, Sr., and John E. Tonti will expire at the Annual Meeting upon the election of their successors. Additional information concerning the nominees for director, the directors and executive officers of Consumers Bancorp is provided in the following pages.

The common shares represented by the accompanying proxy will be voted for the election of the nominees to serve as directors, unless contrary instructions are indicated on the proxy card. The nominees for director receiving the greatest number of for votes will be elected as directors. If the election of directors is by cumulative voting, the persons appointed by the accompanying proxy intend to cumulate the votes represented by the proxies they receive and distribute such votes in accordance with their best judgment.

If one or more of the nominees should at the time of the Annual Meeting be unavailable or unable to serve as a director, the common shares represented by the proxies will be voted to elect the remaining nominees and any substitute nominee or nominees designated by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors knows of no reason why any of the nominees will be unavailable or unable to serve.

The Board of Directors recommends that the shareholders vote for the election of the nominees as Class I directors.

The Company has determined that all directors, except Ms. McClellan, Mr. Muckley, and Mr. Hanna are independent directors under the listing standards of NASD and the additional independence requirements of the Company.

Although the Company does not have a formal policy with respect to Board member attendance at annual meetings of shareholders, each member is encouraged to attend. All Board members attended the 2006 Annual Meeting of Shareholders in person except Ms. McClellan who attended telephonically.

The Board of Directors of Consumers Bancorp has determined that each member of the Audit Committee meets the independence standards of Rule 4200 (a) (15) of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Introduction and Overview

This Compensation Discussion and Analysis discusses the compensation awarded to, earned by, or paid to the named executive officers whose compensation is detailed in this proxy statement. These named executive officers are the chief executive officer, chief financial officer and the chief information officer. The Board of Directors has delegated to the Compensation Committee responsibility for the oversight and administration of compensation of the Company. The committee reviews and recommends company benefit and incentive plans, as well as, reviewing the individual performance of the chief executive officer and executive management.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

The objective of the Company's compensation programs is to fairly compensate the executive officers in light of their individual performances and their contributions to the performance of the Company, thereby aligning executives' incentives with shareholder value creation. The compensation philosophy is designed to reward effort and achievement by the officers and provide them with compensation targeted at market competitive levels. The Company's compensation program includes the following core components: base salary, quarterly cash incentive, and long-term compensation. The Committee manages all three components on an integrated basis to achieve the following objectives: to attract and retain highly qualified management and to provide short-term incentive compensation that varies directly with the Company's financial performance. The Company believes that, by setting and adjusting these elements, it has the flexibility to offer appropriate incentives to its executive officers.

Components of Compensation

Base Salary

Base salary is a major factor in attracting and retaining key personnel and therefore is the primary component of executive officers' compensation. In setting an officer's base salary, the Company considers parameters set by its size and complexity and the salaries offered by peers. The Company does not have a formal policy to target compensation at a specific level of market compensation. The Company experienced heightened competition for securing experienced individuals with the skill level required to meet current and future needs and found it necessary to offer competitive compensation packages at base ranges at or above the 75th quartile of peer banks of comparable size. Some of the resources used to compare the compensation offered by peers were Ohio Bankers League Bank Compensation and Benefits Survey and Crowe Chizek Financial Institutions Survey. The Company's performance as measured by its results compared to previous years is also considered in determining the overall adjustments to executive officers' salaries. Specific salaries are adjusted to reflect the contributions of the executive officer to the Company's operations and the accomplishment of its long term goals. Based on a review of the broad databases and other publicly available information, the Company believes that its executive compensation is in line with its compensation philosophy.

In establishing the Chief Executive Officer's compensation for 2007, the Committee considered the Company's short-term and long-term goals, past compensation practices, comparative peer data and competitive market guidelines for the position. Due to an anticipated shortfall in meeting budget expectations for the 2007 fiscal year, the full amount of the voluntary salary reduction taken by the Chief Executive Officer in 2006 remained in place through January 15, 2007. Effective January 16, 2007, a portion of the voluntary salary reduction that had been taken to Mr. Muckley's base salary was reinstated by the Board of Directors based on the achievement of several strategic objectives. These objectives include successfully establishing a culture of strong values and integrity, the focus on building a solid infrastructure and developing and maintaining key customer relationships in both the traditional bank lines and also within the alternative investment division. The Compensation Committee, in conjunction with the Board of Directors, will periodically review compensation of the Chief Executive Officer in relation to performance goals achieved during the 2008 fiscal year.

Incentive Compensation

The Company's quarterly cash incentive compensation is based on the Company's short-term performance as measured by earnings. The incentive compensation program, contemplates first providing a reasonable return on investment to shareholders and then providing a profit-sharing payment to employees thereafter. A minimum net income target of $450,000 per quarter must be achieved before an incentive payment will be made. After reaching the minimum net income target, net income is distributed to executive and non-executive employees on a profit-sharing basis. There were no incentive compensation payments since the minimum net income target was not reached.

Long-term Compensation

Long-term compensation includes a qualified retirement plan in the form of a 401(k) Plan and a non-qualified Salary Continuation Program. The Company provides safe harbor contributions under the 401(k) Plan, matching up to 100% of the first 4.0% contributed by the employee. The amount contributed on behalf of the executive officers is determined in accordance with the provisions of the plan applicable to all employees. The Salary Continuation Plan is designed to retain executive and senior management personnel. Entrance to the Salary Continuation Plan is limited and is subject to meeting performance criteria, established by the Compensation Committee and approved by the Board of Directors. The Company expects these plans to promote longevity with the Company and discourage turnover among its executive officers and other employees.

The following table sets forth the cash compensation and certain other compensation paid or earned by the Company's Chief Executive Officer and President, Chief Financial Officer and Chief Information Officer for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2007.

DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLAN

Under the Consumers National Bank 401(k) Savings and Retirement Plan & Trust (401(k) Plan) as in effect during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2007, the Consumers National Bank's Board of Directors has the discretion and authority to determine the amount to be contributed to the 401(k) Plan. The 401(k) Plan is administered by Consumers National Bank. Each participant in the 401(k) Plan has credited to their account a maximum of 4.0% of their annual salary, provided they have voluntarily contributed a like amount. The 401(k) Plan states that each participant shall be fully vested in the 401(k) Plan immediately upon contribution. Benefits under the 401(k) Plan cannot be estimated for the participants because the benefits are based upon future earnings of Consumers National Bank and future compensation of the participants. Part of the funds in the 401(k) Plan is vested in the participants in accordance with the 401(k) Plan. An eligible participant is one who has completed one year of service, works 1,000 hours per year, and has attained the age of 21. At the time of retirement, death, disability or other termination of employment, a participant is eligible to receive a distribution of all vested amounts credited to their account in either a single lump sum payment or a series of substantially equal installment payments over a period not longer than the joint life expectancy of the participant and beneficiary. The trustees of the 401(k) Plan are Steven L. Muckley and Laurie L. McClellan.

SALARY CONTINUATION PROGRAM

In September 1995, the Board of Directors of Consumers National Bank adopted a salary continuation program (Plan) to encourage the long-term retention of Consumers National Bank executives and avoid the cost of executive turnover. Pursuant to the Plan, salary continuation agreements (Agreements) were entered into between Consumers National Bank and certain executives. The Agreements provide such executives (and, in the event of the executive's death, surviving spouse) with 180 months of lifetime salary continuation payments equal to a percentage of an executive's final pay (consisting of base salary reduced for other benefit programs of Consumers National Bank in which the executive participates) commencing upon the first day of the month following the executive's termination of employment (other than termination for cause or suicide within two years of the date of the Agreement or any material misstatement of fact by the executive on any application for life insurance purchased by Consumers National Bank). Pursuant to the Agreements, the amount of base pay was limited to the lesser of the preceding year's annual base salary prior to termination of employment or the annual base salary at the inception of the Agreement with the executive plus 3.5% annual inflation. Vesting under the Agreements commenced at age 50 and was prorated until age 65. In 2001, several of the Agreements were amended and restated to reflect changes in the Plan approved by the Board of Directors (Amended Agreements). In consideration of executives entering into noncompetition, nonsolicitation and confidentiality agreements with Consumers National Bank, Consumers National Bank entered into the Amended Agreements with such executives. The Amended Agreements provide enhancements to the salary continuation benefits under the Agreements such as fully vested salary continuation benefits upon termination of employment following a change in control of Consumers National Bank; the use of a three year average of total W-2 compensation to determine final pay upon which salary continuation benefits are based; the elimination of reductions in final pay for other Consumers National Bank benefit programs; and the crediting of interest at an annual rate in the range of 6.0% to 7.5%, compounded monthly, on the unpaid balance of the 180 equal monthly salary continuation payments for early termination benefits prior to age 65 for reasons other than death, disability, or change of control.

Mr. Muckley became eligible to participate in the Plan as of August 11, 2004 and entered the plan on March 1, 2005. As of June 30, 2007, if a change of control had occurred and Mr. Muckley was terminated or if Mr. Muckley had become disabled, then Mr. Muckley would have received a payment of $142,923 under the Salary Continuation Program. If Mr. Muckley was terminated for cause as of June 30, 2007, then Mr. Muckley would not have received a benefit payment under the Salary Continuation Program.

CHANGE OF CONTROL AGREEMENTS

Change of control agreements (Change of Control Agreements) were entered into with certain executive officers in order to provide severance benefits in the event of their termination of employment following a change of control of Consumers National Bank within five years of the effective date of each agreement.

If within 12 months following a change of control, a termination of employment occurs for any reason other than death, Disability (as defined below), or Cause (as defined below), a participant may receive a lump sum payment based on the agreement schedule in effect at the date of such termination. In addition, the participant shall be entitled to receive Company-paid COBRA premiums, relating to employee's group medical insurance continuation premiums under the Company's group health plan, for a period of 12 months after the date of termination. For purposes of these Change of Control Agreements, a Change of Control means the transfer of shares of the Company's voting common stock during the term such that one entity or one person acquires (or is deemed to acquire when applying Section 318 of the Internal Revenue Code) more than 50 percent of the Company's outstanding voting common stock. The date of the employee's termination shall be the date specified by the Company in a written notice to the employee. The employee shall be considered to have a Disability during the period in which the employee is unable, by reason of a medically determinable physical or mental impairment, to engage in the material and substantial duties of employee's regular employment with the Company, which condition is expected to be permanent. For purposes of these Change of Control Agreements, the term Cause means, in the reasonable judgment of the President of the Company, (i) the willful and continued failure by the employee to substantially perform the employee's duties with the Company after written notification by the Company, (ii) the willful engaging by the employee in conduct which is demonstrably injurious to the Company, monetarily or otherwise, or (iii) the engaging by the employee in egregious misconduct involving serious moral turpitude. For purposes of these Agreements, no act or failure to act on the employee's part shall be deemed willful unless done, or omitted to be done, by the employee not in good faith and without reasonable belief that such action was in the best interest of the Company.

If a change of control had occurred on June 30, 2007 and each named executive officer with such an agreement was terminated, then Mr. Hugenberg would have received a termination/severance payment of $84,871 and the cost of COBRA premiums, assuming no increase after that date, would have been $5,903. Ms. Wood would have received a termination/severance payment of $71,265 and the cost of COBRA premiums, assuming no increase after that date, would have been $4,138.

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company's directors and certain of its officers to file reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission indicating their holdings of, and transactions in, the Company's equity securities.
