Report of Registered Independent Public Accounting Firm

We have reviewed the accompanying interim balance sheets of Xinhua China Ltd. (“the Company”) as of September 30, 2010 and June 30, 2010, and the related statements of income, stockholders’ equity, and cash flows for the three-months ended September 30, 2010 and 2009. We conducted our review in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying interim consolidated financial statements for them to be in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Unaudited Financial Statements
For the three months ended September 30, 2010
(Stated in US Dollars)

1. ORGANIZATION AND BUSINESS BACKGROUND

Xinhua China Ltd. (the “Company”, formerly Camden Mines Limited) was incorporated in the State of Nevada, United States of America, on September 14, 1999. Until September 2004, the Company was a non-operating shell company and considered as a development stage enterprise since its inception. Effective from October 12, 2004, the Company changed to its current name. The Company established an office in Vancouver, Canada; however, this office was closed down in December 2006. The Company established its principal executive office at B26-F, Oriental Kenzo, No. 48 Dongzhimenwai Street, Dongcheng District, Beijing 100027 People’s Republic of China.

As of May 31, 2006, the Company reduced its equity interest in Xinhua C&D from 56.14% to 7.98%. Subsequent to the deconsolidation of Xinhua C&D, the Company commenced the internet book distribution business through Beijing Joannes Information Technology Co., Ltd. (“Joannes”).

As of September 30, 2010, the Company disposed both subsidiaries at a loss. See note 12 – Loss on Disposal of Subsidiaries.

2. GOING CONCERN UNCERTAINTIES

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming that Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the discharge of liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future.

As of September 30, 2010, the Company had no working capital but current liabilities exceeding current assets by $1,616,578 and an accumulated deficit of $24,991,028 because the Company continued to incur losses over the past several years. Management has taken certain action and continues to implement changes designed to improve the Company’s financial results and operating cash flows. The actions involve certain cost-saving initiatives and growing strategies, including (a) reductions in headcount and corporate overhead expenses; and (b) development of e-commerce business. Management believes that these actions will enable the Company to improve future profitability and cash flow in its continuing operations through September 30, 2010. As a result, the financial statements do not include any adjustments to reflect the possible future effects on the recoverability and classification of assets or the amounts and classification of liabilities that may result from the outcome of the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

- (A.) These accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“US GAAP”).

(B.) Use of Estimates

In preparing these consolidated financial statements, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the balance sheets and revenues and expenses during the year reported. Actual results may differ from these Estimates.

(C.) Basis of Consolidation

After disposal of the two subsidiaries on September 16, 2010, the Company has no subsidiaries; therefore, no consolidation is necessary.

(D.) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost and represent cash on hand, demand deposits placed with banks or other financial institutions and all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less as of the purchase date of such investments.

(E.) Accounts Receivable, Net

Accounts receivable are recorded at the invoiced amount and do not bear interest. The Company extends unsecured credit to its customers in the ordinary course of business, but mitigates the associated risks by performing credit checks and actively pursuing past due accounts. An allowance for doubtful accounts is established and determined based on managements' assessment of known requirements, aging of receivables, payment history, the customer's current credit worthiness, and the economic environment.

(F.) Property, Plant, and Equipment, Net

Property, plant, and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis over the following expected useful lives from the date on which they become fully operational.

Asset Classification	Depreciable Life
Land Use right	50 years
Buildings	50 years
Motor Vehicles	8 – 10 years
Equipment and Machinery	5 – 8 years
I n t a n g i b l e Assets	3 years

Expenditure for maintenance and repairs is expensed as incurred. The gain or loss on the disposal of property, plant, and equipment is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant assets and is recognized in the consolidated statement of income.

(G.) Impairment of Long-life Assets

In accordance with SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of", a long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangible assets held and used by the Company are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. For the purposes of evaluating the recoverability of long-lived assets, the recoverability test is performed using undiscounted net cash flows related to the long-lived assets. The Company reviews long-lived assets, if any, to determine whether the carrying values are not impaired.

(H.) Revenue Recognition

Sales revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the price is fixed and final, delivery has occurred and there is reasonable assurance of collection of the sales proceeds. The Company generally obtains purchase authorizations from its customers for a specified amount of products at a specified price and considers delivery to have occurred when the customer takes possession of the products. Net sales incorporate offsets for discounts and sales returns. Revenue is recognized upon delivery, risk and ownership of the title is transferred and a reserve for sales returns is recorded even though invoicing may not be completed. The Company has demonstrated the ability to make reasonable and reliable estimates of products returns in accordance with SFAS No. 48, "Revenue Recognition When Right of Return Exists".

Shipping and handling fees billed to customers are included in sales. Costs related to shipping and handling are part of selling, general, and administrative expenses in the consolidated statements of operations. EITF No. 00-10, "Accounting for Shipping and Handling Fees and Costs" allows for the presentation of shipping and handling expenses in line items other than cost of sales. For the period ended September 30, 2010, there were no shipping and handling costs included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of income.

(I.) Cost of Sales

Cost of sales includes depreciation of property, plant, and equipment and purchase costs to publishers.

(J.) Value-Added Tax

The Company is subject to value added tax ("VAT") imposed by the PRC on sales. The output VAT is charged to customers who purchase books from the Company and the input VAT is paid when the Company purchases books from publishers. The VAT rate is 13%. The input VAT can be offset against the output VAT.

(K.) Advertising Expenses

The Company expenses advertising costs as incurred in accordance with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“AICPA”) Statement of Position 93-7, “Reporting for Advertising Costs”. For the period ended September 30, 2010, advertising expenses amount to zero.

(L.) Comprehensive Income

SFAS No. 130, “Reporting Comprehensive Income”, establishes standards for reporting and display of comprehensive income, its components, and accumulated balances. Comprehensive income as defined includes all changes in equity during a period from non-owner sources. Accumulated comprehensive income, as presented in the accompanying statement of changes in owners’ equity consists of changes in unrealized gains and losses on foreign currency translation. This comprehensive income is not included in the computation of income tax expense or benefit.

(M.) Income Taxes

The Company uses the accrual method of accounting to determine and report its taxable reduction of income taxes for the year in which they are available. The Company has implemented Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. Income tax liabilities computed according to the United States and People’s Republic of China (PRC) tax laws are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements and consists of taxes currently due plus deferred taxes related primarily to differences between the basis of fixed assets and intangible assets for financial and tax reporting. The deferred tax assets and liabilities represent the future tax return consequences of those differences, which will be either taxable or deductible when the assets and liabilities are recovered or settled. Deferred taxes also are recognized for operating losses that are available to offset future income taxes. A valuation allowance is created to evaluate deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that these items will either expire before the Company is able to realize that tax benefit, or that future realization is uncertain.

The Company is subject to United States Tax according to Internal Revenue Code Sections 951 and 957. Corporate income tax is imposed on progressive rates in the range of: -

Rate		Taxable Income
		Over	But Not Over	Of Amount Over
15	%	0	50,000	0
25	%	50,000	75,000	50,000
34	%	75,000	100,000	75,000
39	%	100,000	335,000	100,000
34	%	335,000	10,000,000	335,000
35	%	10,000,000	15,000,000	10,000,000
38	%	15,000,000	18,333,333	15,000,000
35	%	18,333,333	-	-

Based on the consolidated net income/(loss) for the period ended September 30, 2010, the Company shall not be subject to income tax.

(N.) Loss Per Share

The Company calculates loss per share in accordance with SFAS No. 128, "Earnings per Share". Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted loss per share is computed similar to basic loss per share, except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the potential common stock equivalents had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive. The effect of outstanding stock options, stock purchase warrants and convertible debenture, which could result in the issuance of 499,911,400 and 499,911,400 of common stock at September 30, 2010 and June 30, 2010, respectively, are anti-dilutive. As a result, diluted loss per share data does not include the assumed exercise of outstanding stock options, stock purchase warrants, or conversion of convertible debenture and has been presented jointly with basic loss per share.

(O.) Foreign Currencies Translation

The functional and reporting currency of the Company is the United States dollars ("U.S. dollars"). The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been expressed in U.S. dollars.

The functional currency of the Company's foreign subsidiaries is the Renminbi Yuan ("RMB"). The balance sheet is translated into United States dollars based on the rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. The statement of operations is translated using a weighted average rate for the year. Translation adjustments are reflected as cumulative translation adjustments in stockholders' equity.

Exchange Rates	September 30, 2010	June 30, 2010	September 30, 2009
Period/year end RMB : US$ exchange rate	6.7011	6.8086	6.8376
Average period/year RMB : US$ exchange rate	6.7726	6.8347	6.8425

(P.) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of the Company's financial instruments, which include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivables, other payable and accrued liabilities, approximate their fair values due to the short-term maturity of these instruments.

(Q.) Related Parties

For the purposes of these financial statements, parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability, directly or indirectly, to control the party or exercise significant influence over the party in making financial and operating decisions, or vice versa, or where the Company and the party are subject to common control or common significant influence. Related parties may be individuals or other entities.

(R.) Convertible Debenture Issued with Stock Purchase Warrants

The Company accounts for the issuance of and modifications to the convertible debt issued with stock purchase warrants in accordance with APB No. 14, Accounting for Convertible Debt and Debt Issued with Stock Purchase Warrants, EITF No. 98-5, Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios, and EITF No. 00-27, Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments and SFAS No. 15, Accounting by Debtors and Creditors for Troubled Debt Restructurings.

Due to the indeterminate number of shares, which might be issued under the embedded convertible host debt conversion feature of these debentures, the Company is required to record a liability relating to both the detachable warrants and embedded convertible feature of the notes payable (included in the liabilities as a "derivative liability").

The accompanying consolidated financial statements comply with current requirements relating to warrants and embedded derivatives as described in SFAS 133 as follows:

§ The Company treats the full fair market value of the derivative and warrant liability on the convertible secured debentures as a discount on the debentures (limited to their face value). The excess, if any, is recorded as an increase in the derivative liability and warrant liability with a corresponding increase in loss on adjustment of the derivative and warrant liability to fair value.

§ Subsequent to the initial recording, the change in the fair value of the detachable warrants, determined under the Black-Scholes option pricing formula and the change in the fair value of the embedded derivative (utilizing the Black-Scholes option pricing formula) in the conversion feature of the convertible debentures are recorded as adjustments to the liabilities as of September 30, 2006.

§ The expense relating to the change in the fair value of the Company's stock reflected in the change in the fair value of the warrants and derivatives is included in interest expense in the accompanying consolidated statements of income.

(S.) Recently Issued Accounting Standard

In June 2009, FASB issued FASB Statement No. 166, Accounting for Transfers for Financial Assets and FASB Statement No. 167, a revision to FASB Interpretation No. 46 (Revised December 2003), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities. Statement 166 is a revision to FASB Statement No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities, and will require more information about transfers of financial assets, including securitization transactions, and where entities have continuing exposure to the risks related to transferred financial assets. It eliminates the concept of a “qualifying special-purpose entity,” changes the requirements for derecognizing financial assets, and requires additional disclosures.

Statement 167 is a revision to FASB Interpretation No. 46 (Revised December 2003), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, and changes how a reporting entity determines when an entity that is insufficiently capitalized or is not controlled through voting (or similar rights) should be consolidated. The determination of whether a reporting entity is required to consolidate another entity is based on, among other things, the other entity’s purpose and design and the reporting entity’s ability to direct the activities of the other entity that most significantly impact the other entity’s economic performance.

On July 1, 2009, FASB issued FASB Statement No. 168, The “FASB Accounting Standards Codification” and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. The ASC has become the source of authoritative US GAAP recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities and provides that all such guidance carries an equal level of authority. The ASC is not intended to change or alter existing GAAP. The ASC is effective for interim and annual periods ending after September 15, 2009.

The Company has adopted the above recent accounting pronouncements without any material impact on the financial statements presented herein.

PLAN OF OPERATION

The local and regional distribution business for books is competitive and fragmented in the People's Republic of China. Estimates range up to 500 as to the number of entrants in this field. It is our plan that economy of scale, relationships with Chinese publishers and also with sub-distributors and retailers and our nationwide scope which allows us the flexibility to distribute books in any region will assist us in maintaining and enhancing our competitive position.

Our goal is to expand our business to include electronic sales, delivery and distribution of media contents. We also plan to partner with foreign publishers to provide foreign media contents in China. We seek to achieve our goal on a national scale to maximize opportunities in one of the largest and fastest growing economies in the world.

To execute on our strategy to become a digital media company we formed our new subsidiary, Beijing Joannes. Beijing Joannes is intended to be our digital media company and it is expected to distribute all digital content. Beijing Joannes has anticipated in operating its business to consumer (B2C) e-commerce portal as www.geezip.com, and expects to allow customers to purchase electronic and hard copies of books on-line.

We expect to also establish a co-publishing company which anticipates on co-publishing agreements with both domestic and foreign publishers, publishing both hard copy and digital works.

Existing working capital, further advances and possible debt instruments, warrant exercises, further private placements, monetization of existing assets, and anticipated cash flow are expected to be adequate to fund our operations over the next two months. We have no lines of credit or other bank financing arrangements. Generally, we have financed operations to date through the proceeds of the private placement of equity and debt securities and loans from our shareholders. In connection with our business plan, management will delay additional increases in operating expenses and capital expenditures. We intend to utilize our best efforts to settle current finance accounts payables and liabilities with further issuances of securities, debt and or advances, monetization of existing assets, and revenues from operations. We will need to raise additional capital and increase revenues to meet both short term and long-term operating requirements.

We have undertaken certain actions and continue to implement changes designed to improve our financial results and operating cash flows. The actions involve certain cost-saving initiatives and growing strategies, including: (i) reductions in headcounts and corporate overhead expenses; and (ii) continue to develop e-commerce business through Beijing Joannes. We believe that these actions will enable us to improve future profitability and cash flow in our continuing operations through June 30, 2009. Furthermore, the restructure of debt pertaining to Cornell and Highgate has been advantageous to our over financial outlook. Ultimately, we have released the burden on cash flow for further contribution and intend to put our resources in co-publishing and e-commerce business opportunities.

The report of the independent registered public accounting firm that accompanies our June 30, 2010 and June 30, 2009 consolidated financial statements contains an explanatory paragraph expressing substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared "assuming that we will continue as a going concern," which contemplates that we will realize our assets and satisfy our liabilities and commitments in the ordinary course of business.

During fiscal year 2010/11, a material commitment for us relates to the loans from shareholders. The outstanding amount of $10,176,526 represents cash advanced to us from our shareholders. These shareholder loans are unsecured, interest-free and not repayable within the next twelve months. For fiscal years ended June 30, 2010 and June 30, 2009, we calculated imputed interest expense of $419,775 and $342,847, respectively, in relation to interest-free shareholders loans at its effective interest rate and accounted for it in the consolidated financial statements. During fiscal year ended June 30, 2009, the shareholders converted an aggregate of 125,000,000 shares against the shareholders' loan at a total conversion price of $12,500. As at September 30, 2010, there was $109,226 imputed interest at 6.00% per annum recorded.

PURCHASE OF SIGNIFICANT EQUIPMENT

We do not intend to purchase any significant equipment during the next twelve months.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURE ABOUT MARKET RISK

Market risk represents the risk of loss that may impact our financial position, results of operations or cash flows due to adverse change in foreign currency and interest rates.

Exchange Rate

Our reporting currency is United States Dollars ("USD"). The Chinese Renminbi ("RMB") has been informally pegged to the USD. However, China is under international pressure to adopt a more flexible exchange rate system. If the RMB were no longer pegged to the USD, rate fluctuations may have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial reporting and make realistic revenue projections difficult. Recently (July 2005) the Renminbi was allowed to rise 2%. This has not had an appreciable effect on our operations and seems unlikely to do so.

As Renminbi is the functional currency of Joannes and Boheng, the fluctuation of exchange rates of Renminbi may have positive or negative impacts on the results of operations of the Company. However, since all sales revenue and expenses of these two subsidiary companies are denominated in Renminbi, the net income effect of appreciation and devaluation of the currency against the US Dollar will be limited to the net operating results of the subsidiary companies attributable to us.

Interest Rate

Interest rates in China are low and stable and inflation is well controlled, due to the habit of the population to deposit and save money in the banks (among with other reasons, such as the People's Republic of China's perennial balance of trade surplus). Our loans relate mainly to trade payables and are mainly short-term. However our debt is likely to rise with physical plant in connection with expansion and, were interest rates to rise at the same time, this could become a significant impact on our operating and financing activities.

We have not entered into derivative contracts either to hedge existing risks or for speculative purposes.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

An evaluation was conducted under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2010. Based on that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of such date to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in SEC rules and forms. Such officers also confirmed that there was no change in our internal control over financial reporting during the year ended September 30, 2010 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

We maintain "disclosure controls and procedures," as such term is defined in Rule 13a-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act"), that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our Exchange Act reports is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. We conducted an evaluation (the "Evaluation"), under the supervision and with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer / Chief Financial Officer of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures ("Disclosure Controls") as of the end of the period covered by this report pursuant to Rule 13a-15 of the Exchange Act. The evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures included a review of the disclosure controls' and procedures' objectives, design, implementation and the effect of the controls and procedures on the information generated for use in this report. In the course of our evaluation, we sought to identify data errors, control problems or acts of fraud and to confirm the appropriate corrective actions, if any, including process improvements, were being undertaken. Our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective and were operating at the reasonable assurance level.

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) promulgated under the Exchange Act. The term internal control over financial reporting is defined as a process designed by, or under the supervision of, the issuer's principal executive and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, and effected by the issuer's board of directors, management and other personnel, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and includes those policies and procedures that:

1. Pertain to the maintenance of records that in reasonable detail accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the issuer;
2. Provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the issuer are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the issuer; and
3. Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of the issuer's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, does expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal controls will prevent all error and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Due to the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected.

Our management, with the participation of the chief executive officer and chief financial officer, assessed the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of September 30, 2010. In making this assessment, our management used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission ("COSO") in INTERNAL CONTROL-INTEGRATED FRAMEWORK. Our management has concluded that, as of September 30, 2010, our internal control over financial reporting is effective.

This Quarterly Report does not include an attestation report of our registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by the company's registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission that permit the company to provide only management's report in this Annual Report.

Audit Committee

Our Board of Directors has not established an audit committee. The respective role of an audit committee has been conducted by our Board of Directors. We are contemplating establishment of an audit committee during fiscal year 2010. When established, the audit committee's primary function will be to provide advice with respect our financial matters and to assist our Board of Directors in fulfilling its oversight responsibilities regarding finance, accounting, and legal compliance. The audit committee's primary duties and responsibilities will be to: (i) serve as an independent and objective party to monitor our financial reporting process and internal control system; (ii) review and appraise the audit efforts of our independent accountants; (iii) evaluate our quarterly financial performance as well as its compliance with laws and regulations; (iv) oversee management's establishment and enforcement of financial policies and business practices; and (v) provide an open avenue of communication among the independent accountants, management and our Board of Directors.
