Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

In reporting financial results, McDonald's Corporation provides details pertaining to the calendar shift/trading day adjustment. The calendar shift/trading day adjustment reflects the impact of the number of weekdays and weekend days on reported comparable sales and guest counts when compared to the prior year period. The calendar shift/trading day adjustment does not take into account holidays, but the timing of holidays can also impact comparable sales and guest counts.

For the month of January 2013, the calendar shift/trading day adjustment consisted of one less Sunday and Monday, and one more Wednesday and Thursday compared with January 2012. The resulting adjustment varied by area of the world, ranging from approximately -1.2% to 0.8%. In its Form 8-K filed on February 8, 2013 reporting January sales, McDonald's Corporation incorrectly reported a range of approximately -0.9% to 0.8%.

For the month of March 2013, the calendar shift/trading day adjustment consisted of one less Thursday and one more Sunday compared with March 2012. The resulting adjustment varied by area of the world, ranging from approximately -0.9% to 1.0%. In its Form 8-K filed on April 19, 2013, McDonald's Corporation incorrectly reported a range of -0.9% to 0.6%.

McDonald's Corporation posts the calendar shift/trading day adjustments for all reporting segments on its website (www.investor.mcdonalds.com) and has updated this information to reflect the corrected Asia/Pacific, Middle East and Africa (AMPEA) and Global calendar shift/trading day adjustments for January through June of 2013.

The 2012 and 2011 calendar shift/trading day adjustments for APMEA and Global are under review. The magnitude of any potential revisions is expected to be similar to the changes made for 2013. Any revisions to the calendar shift/trading day adjustments for these years will be posted to the Company's website by May 17, 2013.
