Zimmer Comments on Decision by Centerpulse Board

WARSAW, IND. July 9, 2003 Zimmer Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: ZMH) said today it was pleased that the Centerpulse board of directors acknowledged a combination with Zimmer would be in the long-term interest of their shareholders. The company believes that the decision to withhold a recommendation further serves to emphasize the importance of each individual Centerpulse shareholder's decision. At the July 8 close of the New York Stock Exchange, Zimmer's offer, in Swiss francs, represented an approximately 29% premium to that of the competing offer, with substantially similar conditions.

In both 2001 and 2002, Zimmer's sales growth, EBITDA growth and EBITDA margins* have outpaced Smith & Nephew by a considerable margin. 2002 EBITDA margins for Zimmer and Smith & Nephew were 35% and 23% respectively. Zimmer's industry-leading performance in working capital management and increased free cash flow generation will create a debt-free balance sheet in less than two years after spinning off from its former parent. Zimmer continues to receive positive feedback on its plan to create the world's #1 pure-play Orthopaedics business.

In particular, forward-looking statements as to Zimmer's financial and business performance following the proposed acquisitions should be qualified by the absence of the opportunity for Zimmer to perform comprehensive due diligence on Centerpulse or InCentive Capital, a significant shareholder of Centerpulse. These forward looking statements might have been significantly different had such due diligence review been undertaken.
